

rare in Somerset and adjoining counties, with pare in Somerset and fidelity. Office on Main Cross promptoes and fidelity. Office on Main Cross promptoes and fidelity. Store,		terials such as	me. I soon took the conceit out of him and sent him away about his business."	like to read you this article." "Oh, I'm never too busy to be read	in the past few years. At the World's	his pursuers at full speed. As soon as he was near enough to be plainly heard,	titude of the so-called Democracy of the present hour, and I have concluded to	bottle Electric Bitters and one bo: Backlen's Arnica Salve cured him
Entrang Provide Contraction of Contr	Chas. J. Harrison, Pres't.	PERCALES,	The voice was now a little sharp.	to," Miss Kent would say. "Sit down	fair Canada captured 30 prizes from our American cheese and butter mak-	he cried out in as angry a tone as he		entirely. Sold by J. N. Sayder, Drug
JAMES L. PUGH, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,	Wm. H. Koontz, Vice Pres't.	MADRAS,	What wonder, with so galling a mem-	by the window in this comfortable	ers. The traveling dairy ought to be	could command :	pation in any struggle for political su-	gist, Somerset, Pa., or G. W. Brallier
Somerset, Pa.			"No man shall ever tyranize over me	chair and let's hear it,"	taken in hand jointly by the American	"Why jackal, how is this? I told you I needed five lions, and here you bring	premacy in this campnign. I could be	Druggist, Berlin, Pa.
office in Manumoth Block, up stairs. En-	Milton J. Pritts, Cashier.	ZEPHYR AND	-never! What the mischief do you	But, ah ! what an arch plotter ! Mrs. Carlisle let them skirmish about, but	state experiment stations and the dai-	me only this little one ?"	of no service to you, for I have no heart in the work.	She Was Very Cautious.
inde, estates settied, titles examined, and all ight business attended to with promptness	:0:	OXFORD CLOTH.	suppose is the matter with this sewing	not once did she give them a chance to		At this Leo was again overcome by	"I have sacrified considerable of my and ndelity.	DIRECTORS:	All sizes, 32 up to 42.	machine?"	be alone together, until the very even-	They could run it together. Part of the government appropriation to the	fright and he once more took to his	means and labor in the past for Demo-	"Did Miss Chilton give you any en couragement when you proposed to
A.J. COLBORN. L. C. COLBORN.	SAMUEL SNYDER, WM. ENDSLEY,		"Annoyed at your logic, most likely," said my friend, a bright young matron,	ing preceding Cousin Mark's departure	stations might be used for its expenses	paws towards the deepest part of the	eracy. I shall devote my efforts here-	her?"
COLBORN & COLBORN, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,	JOSIAH SPECHT, JONAS M. COOK, JOHN H. SNYDER, JOHN STUFFT,		as she threaded her needle. "My hus-	101 Campornia, 1101 auss from was	and probably the state legislature would	jungle. The jackal called after him in vain,	after for the welfare of my family-an honest party-who need my service in	"Not a great deal. I used every
Somerset, Pa,	JOSEPH B. DAVIS, NOAH S. MILLER,		band is not a tyrant, Miss Kent."	keep an eye on the baby, whom the	appropriate additional sums if properly	and, being really a coward, did not	placing provision in the wigwam and	argument. I even went so far ns to
All business entriated to do the child business entriation of a content of the prompting and faithfully attended to. Collections made in Somerset, Bedford and adjoin-	HARRISON SNYDER, JEROME STUFFT, SAM, E. HARRISON,	Prompt attention will be given to	"I am glad you are satisfied," was	mother did not like to leave quite alone	approached. At any rate, that travel- ing dairy we ought to have,	dare to face old William Goat alone.	coal in the cellar, and who will appre-	assure her of my ability to support he in the style to which she had been tails made in Somerset, neurona and enveyancing			the laconic reply. It was quite evident by the expres-	with his nurse.	······································	So William arrived safe at home, to the great joy of Nanny and the little	ciate my efforts."	accustomed."
Com on Kushniok ternes.	Customers of this bank will receive the most liberal treatment consistent with safe banking.	MAIL ORDERS.	sion of the dressmaker's face that she	WE are commented to me good a cours-	Cut Bones For Poultry.	kids,-St. Nicholas,	The Old Men of To-day.	"And what did she say ?"
H. L. BAER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,	Parties wishing to send money east or west can be accommodated by draft for any	MINIE ORDERO.	had formed her own opinion about my	read to you ; won't you cousin ?"	The bone cutter is not a bone mill.		This is supposed to be the era of	"She said I might call around late
Somerset, Pa.	Money and valuables secured by one of Die-		friend's husband and was quite compe-	"Certainly, if Miss Kent would like	A bone mill is valuable because it will	Short and Sweet.	young men, but the truth is, there were	and show her my income tax receipt," - Washington Star,
Will practice in Somerset and adjoining countles. All business entrusted to him will	bold's celebrated safes, with most improved time lock. Collections made in all parts of the United		tent to form and express an opinion on any subject.	n, replied that gentleman.	grind hard, dry bones and thus render them useful, but it can do nothing with	Something to be studded-a shirt	never more famous old men on deck	The contract of the contract o preview prompt attention.	States. Charges moderate. Accounts and deposits solicited.		Miss Kent was a little woman, fair as	The infant Carlisle, thanks to good management, was never awake in the	a fresh, green bone from the batcher.	front.	than we have to-day.	A Household Treasure.
A. H. COFFROTH. W. H. RUPPEL.	Accounts and dependents solutions	HODNE & WARD	a girl and plump as a robin. She wasn't	evening so the victims of this matri-	A bone cutter will save its cost in a	It is the quack nostrums that gather	Mr. Gladstone is eighty-five and M. Jules Simon is eighty. Both are phys-
COFFROTH & RUPPEL, ATTOENEYSAT-LAW,	PIBPIITY PIPIP AND POTCH PA	HORNE & WARD,	ashamed to own that she was 40 years		short time, as bones can be bought for	in the ducats. A gun is not doing much execution	ically strong and active, and they are
Somerset, Pa.	RULLII IIILL AND IRUDI 60.		old. She had earned her own living most of her life, and was proud of it.	of time.	less than meat. Bones are better than meat because while meat contains ni-	when it hangs fire.	now doing some of their best work.	New Discovery in the house and hi
All business entrusted to their care will be specific and punctually attended to. Office	26	41 FIFTH AVENUE.	She was a good nurse, a faithful friend	The back parlor was the room most	trogen (flesh forming and egg forming)	In the race of life it isn't the fast men	But these are not the only instances	many may arways round the tery bes on Main Cross street, opposite Mammoth lieck.	121 & 123 Fourth Ave.,		and a jolly companion, but stroke her	in use during the evening, and out of that room was a large closet with a	green bones contain not only nitrogen,	who come out ahead.	in history of the extraordinary activity of very old men. Dandolo, when past	results follow its use; that he would
I W. CAROTHERS, M. D.	DITTODUDCH DA		the wrong way, and you'd wish you	In a second of the second	but phosphates. A bone is largely	Poverty is in want of much, but avar-	ninty and utterly blind, stormed Con-	not be without it, if procurable. G. A Dykeman Druggist, Catskill, N. Y.
9. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,	PITTSBURGH, PA.	I I D C inthe	hadn't. Her views on all subjects were strikingly original and not to be com-	down has then to the stoop and something	composed of lime in a soluble form. The lime in oyster shells is insoluble	ice demands the earth.	stantinople. Titian was painting his	says that Dr. King's New Discovery 1
Somerset, Pa. Office on Patriot Street, near R. R. Station.	Capital $1,000,000.	Jacob D. Swank,	batted.	Imagine my surprise when I was told	and is not utilized by fowls if they can	To be found in bad company is often	finest pictures when he died in his hun-	undoubtedly the best Cough remedy
Night calls at office.	Capital $1,000,000.		"What are you going to do when you	that Mrs. Carlisle was going to the lodge, and that we, after profuse warn-	convert soluble lime into egg shells and	equivalent to being lost. One good deed is worth a bushel im-	dredth year. Sir Isaac Newton was president of the Royal Society at the	From the time of a to the time totally total
DR. P. F. SHAFFER,		Watchmaker and Jeweler,	are old ?" persisted the mistress of the	ings about the baby and promises not	store up in the egg the lime for the	properly made and recorded.	age of eighty-three, and Landor finish-	eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why no
D PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, Somerset, Pa.	Undivided Profits $250,000.		establishment. "What other folks do, I suppose."	to be gone too long, were to proceed to	bones of the chicks, but a green bone, rich in its natural juices, is not only di-	A bad bookkeeper may be a good bond	ed his "Imaginary Conversations" at	try a remedy so long tried and tested
Tenders his professional services to the citi-		Next Door West of Lutheran Church,	"But you can't work forever."	this closet overlooking, the back parlor,	gestible, but nutritious.	keeper when he has a chance.	the age of eighty-nine. Brougham was	Tarner modeles and an an an angener
res of Somerset and vicinity. Office next door to Commercial Hotel.	Acts as Executor, Guardian, Assignee		"Can't say that I want to."	by way of the back gate and garden.		There are a great many painters in	a strong debater at eighty, and Lynd- hurst, when over ninety, spoke in the	Drug Store Somerset Pa., or G. W
DR. J. M. LOUTHER,	and Receiver.	Somerset, - Pa.	"Now, Miss Flint, a husband with	In vain I protested. "Oh, you goosie," said Jennie, laugh-	Insects Injurious to Vegetables.	this world, but they are not unnum-	house of lords. Franklin was governor	Brallier's Drug Store, Berlin, Pa Regular size 50c, and $1,00.
DIFFERENCE AN ASSOCIATED/2EON	and the second second second		means, a kind, intelligent man"- "I don't want any man. I tell you,		At the conference held between the	bered.	of Pennsylvania at the age of eighty-
Office on Main street, rear of Drug store.	Wills received for and held free of charge.		Mes Carlisle I wouldn't marry the best	lifetime. John wanted to come awful-	board of control of the New York ex- periment station and representative	The monkey goes to the sunny side of the tree when he wants a warmer	two, and we now have Morrill in the	One Exception at Least-
DR. H. S. KIMMELL,	Charges		man living if he was rich as Crossus	by but I know he'd make a noise and			senate at eighty-four and Oliver Wen-
the state of the state of the state of the	n to do do non posidente		man nying it he was rich as crossus	iy, but I know he a make a more and	Long Island farmers it was agreed by	elimb.	dell Holmes at eighty-five was brilliant	Teacher-Give an example of the
1)	Business of residents and non-residents	I Am Now	and would die if I didn't have him.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let	Long Island farmers it was agreed by the latter that insects injurious to vege-	and the second	dell Holmes at eighty-five was brilliant as ever.	truth of the motto, "United we stand
Tenders his professional services to the citi- tens of Somerset and vicinity. Unless pro-	carefully attended to.		and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar-	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him."	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de-	elimb. What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow.	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full."
Tenders his professional services to the citi- tens of Somerset and vicinity. Unless pro-		prepared to supply the public	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any
Tenders his professional services to the citi- ins of Somerset and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- her on Main St., East of Diamond.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew-	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this,	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec-	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we fall," Johnny—I—I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any
Tenders his professional services to the citi- ins of Somerset and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- fer on Main St., East of Diamond. DR. J. S.MCMILLEN, (Ginduate in Dentistry.)	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President.	prepared to supply the public	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall.	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we fall." Johnny—I—I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher—What? Do you know o
Tenders his professional services to the citi- ins of Somerset and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- fer on Main St., East of Diamond. DR. J. S.MCMILLEN, (Ginduate in Dentistry.)	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice,	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we fall," Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true?
Tenders his professional services to the citi- issionarised and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- live on Main St., East of Diamond. DR. J. S.MCMILLEN, (Graduate in Deutistry.) Give special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we fall," Johnny—I—I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher—What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny—Yes'm. A stepladde r
Traders his professional services to the citi- ties of Sonarrat and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- fire or Main St., East of Diansond. DR. J. S. MCMILLEN, (Graduate in Deutistry.) Gives spechal attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted, all specifions guaranteed satisfactory. Office in the means over L. H. Davis & Co's store,	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know-	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ;	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full," Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicogo Tribune.
Traders his professional services to the efficiency of Sonarset and vicinity. Unless pro- second services and vicinity. Unless pro- ter on Main St., East of Diamond. DR. J. S.MCMILLEN, Ginduate in Deutistry.) Gines special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted, All specialous guaranteed satisfactory. Office is the natural ceth. Artificial sets inserted, all specialous guaranteed satisfactory. Office is the natural ceth and Patriot streets.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you."	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?"	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo-	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full," Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicogo Tribune.
Traders his professional services to the citi- ties of Sonarrat and vicinity. Unless pro- fessionally engaged he can be found at his of- fire or Main St., East of Diansond. DR. J. S. MCMILLEN, (Graduate in Deutistry.) Gives spechal attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted, all specifions guaranteed satisfactory. Office in the means over L. H. Davis & Co's store,	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said :	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings .	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny—I—I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher—What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny—Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune.
Traders his professional services to the efficiency of Sonarset and vicinity. Unless pro- second services and vicinity. Unless pro- ter on Main St., East of Diamond. DR. J. S.MCMILLEN, Ginduate in Deutistry.) Gines special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted, All specialous guaranteed satisfactory. Office is the natural ceth. Artificial sets inserted, all specialous guaranteed satisfactory. Office is the natural ceth and Patriot streets.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight-	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect-	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtles because the this time.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings .	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo-	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all it
D Traders his professional services to the efficiency is a sonarrat and viewity. Unless pro- to on Main St., East of Humond. D. J. S. McMILLEN, (inducte in Reutistry.) The special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted attention over 1. H. Davis & Co's store, international constant Patriot streets. Oilds! Oils Oils.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNEI shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texos Siftings . Splitting Seconds.	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all in purifies the blood, thus strengthening
The Atlantic Refaining Co., Plusburg Depart-	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Conflectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?"	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtles become be this time.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds. The measurement of minute intervals	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know o any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all it
D Traders his professional services to the efficiency is a sonarrat and viewity. Unless pro- to on Main St., East of Humond. D. J. S. McMILLEN, (inducte in Reutistry.) The special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted attention over 1. H. Davis & Co's store, international constant Patriot streets. Oilds! Oils Oils.	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisentts and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds. The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub-	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer-	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia
D Traders his professional services to the efficiency is a some rate and viewing. Unless pro- structure is a service of interneous. D. J. S. MCMILLEN, Onducte in Reutistry. The special attention to the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted appendixes guaranteed satisfactory. Office is a service of the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted appendixes guaranteed satisfactory. Office is a service of the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted appendixes guaranteed satisfactory. Office is a service of the preservation of the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted is a service of the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted is a service of the preservation of the natural teeth. Artificial sets inserted is a service of the preservation of the natural preservation of the preservation instructuring for the pomestic	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship,	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear :	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt-	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full," Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's
Image: Static stati	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer-	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wrecked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.]	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civie oflicer thinks that after twenty-one	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex-	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean?	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed b Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening, the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism. G & Hood's
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer,	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es-	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves ; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's and only Hood's.
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tume. That's all right. We're	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves ; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G-t Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness incudice, indicestion, sick head
Image: Static stati	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic oflicer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tume. That's all right. We're	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves ; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G-t Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness incudice, indicestion, sick head
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind,"	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tume. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicogo Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed b Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G-t Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billous ness, jamidice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c.
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Paney Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments ever carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street,	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even-	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal-	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tume. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband—	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves: it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNIE—I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit—you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennic exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent."	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev-	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tume. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all if purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is New in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscults and Cakes, Pancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine.	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNIE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. Your old cousin,	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit,"	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de-	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all if purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, joundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN. Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of File Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments ever carried. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.)	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNIE—I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit—you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. Your old cousin, MARK LANSING.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennic exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent."	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num-	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves: it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Pancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments ever carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Leveluative to all using usin to mathe their Uning by art	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIEI shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visityou must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, softo voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Bish icn't he?" said Jennie, and	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time _"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt."	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num-	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, joundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25:. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?"
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Pancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments ever carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Leveluative to all using usin to mathe their Uning by art	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIEI shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visityou must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, softo voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Bish icn't he?" said Jennie, and	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I don't think I should feel so bad	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc ; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second.	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-lord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves: it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why man
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270–272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Invaluable to all two with to make their living by art of a watke their homes beautiful FOR 10C, we will send to any one	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said: My DEARJENNE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back, happened to be turn- ed.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I didn't think I should feel so bad about leaving," Cousin Mark went on.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before ; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or eise go outside Canada to find a wife. Conundrums.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower. Don't you think Binkles has a very	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25:. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why man me has come along. She wishes b speak to you about it. She opened the
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscutts and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining and to supply resident families to amp ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT ACTION ON CONCENTRATION	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Investore to oil using work to make their living by art of to easily with superb color places (The conformer of the make their living by art of the only art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.)	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEARJENNE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back, happened to be turn- ed. I shook my head and laughed.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I don't think I should feel so bad	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civie officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or eise go outside Canada to find a wife.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy in the determination of the intermedi-	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladde r Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves: it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G & Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25c. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife"That's just why man my has come along. She wishes to
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270–272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Investore to oil using work to make their living by art of to easily with superb color places (The conformer of the make their living by art of the only art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.)	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said: My DEARJENNE-I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit-you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back, happened to be turn- ed. I shook my head and laughed. "You'll see," said the incorrigiable.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennie's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I didn't think I should feel so bad about leaving," Cousin Mark went on. "He is the wreek, you remember," whispered Jennie. A long pause.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before ; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civic officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or cise go outside Canada to find a wife. Conundrums. If a person is suffering with disense,	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed isoften little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy in the determination of the intermedi- ate point is hot of great importance, as	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower. Don't you think Binkles has a very breezy manner? If you refer to the de- light he takes in airing his opinion, I	<ul> <li>truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicogo Tribune.</li> <li>Beyond Comparison</li> <li>Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is parifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves: it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, G-t Hood's and only Hood's.</li> <li>Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25:.</li> <li>Pleasant Interview is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why mam ma has come along. She wishes to speak to you about it. She opened the telegram."-Trath.</li> </ul>
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, - Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Bisenits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and see one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT GORGE	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Invaluable to all use used to make their living by art world's Fair.) Invaluable to all use used to make their living by art (of mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed for congress of designs (regular price Bor Or	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said: My DEARJENNE—I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit—you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he ?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back, happened to be turn- ed. I shook my head and laughed. "You'll see," said the incorrigiable. "See what?" inquired Miss Kent, quite unaware of the pantomime.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my car : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I didn't think I should feel so bad about leaving," Cousin Mark went on. "He is the wreek, you remember," whispered Jennie. A long pause. "I think I hear the baby," exclaim-	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civie officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or eise go outside Canada to find a wife. Conundrums. If a person is suffering with disease, what covering should be used? A counterpane (counter pain). Why is the whole of anything worth	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed isoften little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie disc, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the disc; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy in the determination of the intermedi- ate point is hot of great importance, as it can be shown that the difference only affects the fifth place of decimals of a	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower. Don't you think Binkles has a very breezy manner? If you refer to the de- light he takes in airing his opinion, I do.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicago Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25:. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why man me has come along. She wishes b speak to you about it. She opened the
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN, Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Conflectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscults and Cakes, Pancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertating to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- eff at lowest figures. Call and sec one of the finest assortments over carried. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT OUR ES RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO.	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Investore to oil using work to make their living by art of to easily with superb color places (The conformer of the make their living by art of the only art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.)	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said : My DEAR JENNIE – I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit—you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wrecked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he ?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back happened to be turn- ed. I shook my head and laughed. "You'll see," said the incorrigiable. "See what?" inquired Miss Kent, quite unaware of the pantomime. "That parties which are chemically	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I didn't think I should feel so bad about leaving," Cousin Mark went on. "He is the wreek, you remember," whispered Jennie. A long pause. "I think I hear the baby," exclaim- ed Miss Kent.	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civie officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or eise go outside Canada to find a wife. Conundrums. If a person is suffering with disease, what covering should be used? A counterpane (counter pain). Why is the whole of anything worth a dollar? Because four quarters are	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladics. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed isoften little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie dise, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the dise; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring sothat it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 403 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy in the determination of the intermedi- ate point is hot of great importance, as it can be shown that the difference only affects the fifth place of decimals of a single second. Of course, any variation	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— Something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower. Don't you think Binkles has a very breezy manner? If you refer to the de- light he takes in airing his opinion, I do.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicogo Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, joundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25:. Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why man ma has come along. She wishes b speak to you about it. She opened that telegram."-Truth. Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	carefully attended to. JOHN B. JACKSON, - President. JAMES J. DONNELL, V. President. FRANKLIN BROWN, - Secretary. JAS. C. CHAPLIN Treasurer. JORDAN & HINCHMAN. We are now ready with our new and large in- voice of Fine Confectionery Goods, popular brands of Biscuits and Cakes, Fancy Goods of all styles, and everything else pertaining to a first-class house to fill orders promptly, and to supply resident families to any ex- tent. Goods always fresh, and always offer- ed at lowest figures. Call and sec one of the finest assortments ever carried. 270-272 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT OUR ES RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO,	prepared to supply the public with Clocks, Watches, and Jew- elry of all descriptions, as Cheap as the Cheapest. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. All work guaranteed. Look at my stock before making your purchases. J. D. SWANK. J. D. SWANK. THE ART AMATEUR. Best and Largest Practical Art Magazine. (The only Art Periodical awarded a Medal at the World's Fair.) Invaluable to all use used to make their living by art world's Fair.) Invaluable to all use used to make their living by art (of mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed mentioning this publication a speed for congress of designs (regular price Bor Or	and would die if I didn't have him. Now, if you have exhausted the mar- riage question, I should like to try on your dress." There was something behind all this, I knew well. My friend's eyes danced with fun; and as Miss Kent fitted the waist she threw me a letter from the bureau. "Read that," she said, with a know- ing look. "It may amuse you." This is what the letter said: My DEARJENNE—I shall be delight- ed to spend a month with you and your husband. There must, however, be one stipulation about my visit—you must say no more about marriage. I shall never be foolish again. Twenty years ago to-day I wreeked my whole life. ["Better embark in a new ship, had't he ?" put in Jennie, sotto voice.] So unsuitable was this marriage, so utterly and entirely wretched have been its consequences, that I am forced to believe the marriage institution a mistake. So, for the last time, let me assure you that I wouldn't marry the best woman that ever lived, if by so doing I could save her life. "Your old cousin, MARK LANSING. "Rich, isn't he ?" said Jennie, and then pointed to the chubby little fig- ure, whose back, happened to be turn- ed. I shook my head and laughed. "You'll see," said the incorrigiable. "See what?" inquired Miss Kent, quite unaware of the pantomime.	spoil everything, so I wouldn't let him." The wily schemer took the precau- tion to lock the closet door from the outside, so there was no fear of detec- tion. On a high bench, as still as two mice, we waited results. Presently Cousin Mark, as if arousing from a protracted reverie, asked ; "Would you like to have me read?" "Oh, I am not particular." replied Miss Kent. "Here is an excellent article on elect- ive affinities ; how would you like that ?" Jennic's elbow in my side almost took away my breath. "Who is it by ?" she inquired. Jennie exclaimed clear in my ear : "That's to gain time. See if it isn't. Now for something interesting." "It's by a prominent French writer, I believe," he answered. "I don't think I care for a translation to-night," said Miss Kent. "Nor I. Nor reading of any kind," he continued. "This is my last even- ing in New York, Miss Kent." "I hope you've enjoyed your visit," she returned. Jennie—into my very head this time —"She's as shy as a 3-year old colt." "I didn't think I should feel so bad about leaving," Cousin Mark went on. "He is the wreck, you remember," whispered Jennie. A long pause. "I think I hear the baby," exclaim- ed Miss Kent. "Oh, no," said he. "You are fond "Oh, no," said he. "You are fond	the latter that insects injurious to vege- tables were more abundant and de- structive this year than they had ever been known before ; that the farmers did not know how to destroy them or prevent their ravages, and that the greatest service the station could render would be immediately to send one or more competent entomologists to in- struct the truck farmers as to the best method of destroying the pests. The first work of the station on Long Island will probably be in this line and has doubtless begun by this time. A Tax On Bachelors. Rather a nice question has arisen in Ottowa, where the Mayor has had the hardihood to propose the imposition of a tax upon bachelors. The chief civite officer thinks that after twenty-one years of age no male person should es- cape the special tax. If he objects to it, all he has to do is to marry, but the difficulty is that if a tax is to be impos- ed on single blessedness, something will have to be done to adjust the bal- ance of the sexes in Canada. Howev- er much some of the males may de- sire to secure a partner, 150,000 of them must be content to remain aingle, or else go outside Canada to find a wife. Conundrums. If a person is suffering with disease, what covering should be used? A counterpane (counter pain). Why is the whole of anything worth a dollar? Because four quarters are always worth $1.	What is popular opinion to-day may become unpopular opinion to-morrow. Paper-hangers are about the only men who succeed in business by going to the wall. In Venice, a gondolier is discharged when he is caught gondoleering at the ladies. The age of a tree can be estimated by counting its rings, but it isn't so with a woman.— Texas Siftings . Splitting Seconds . The measurement of minute intervals of time is one of the most difficult sub- jects met with in the laboratory, and this is more especially the case as the apparatus employed is often little adapt- ed for the use of those who lack ex- perience in the precision gained by years of experimental work in physics. A Frenchman has recently divised a photochronograph which comprises a metallie dise, turning freely on an axis passing through its centre. The free end of a spring carries a needle-point, which bears against the dise ; this spring is timed to give 500 vibrations per second. The rate is determined by timing the spring so that it vibrates be- tween known vibrations of 493 and 522 periods per second. Any want of the extreme accuracy in the determination of the intermedi- ate point is hot of great importance, as it can be shown that the difference only affects the fifth place of decimals of a single second. Of course, any variation in speed of the dise does not influence	as ever. It would be easy to add to the list. Our old men are by no means back numbers. They are among our wisest counsellors and our best workers.— Atlanta Constitution. Snap Shots. A man, on being asked what kind of wine he preferred, said, other peo- ple's. People are usually willing to do eith- er duty, but they do not like to do much of it. Lieutenant (admiring his image in the mirror)—And yet they call women the fair sex. He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? That organ-grinder left out a portion of the tune. That's all right. We're even. The dime I gave you had a hole in it. Wife—And did Mr. Gay really say I was positively dove-like? Husband— something of that sort. He said you were pigeon-tord, I believe. Tubbs says he's been making a num- ber of improvements about his home recently. Yes, I noticed he's sold the piano and lawn mower. Don't you think Binkles has a very breezy manner? If you refer to the de- light he takes in airing his opinion, I do.	truth of the motto, "United we stand divided we full." Johnny-I-I can't think of any ma'am. I don't believe it's true any how. Teacher-What? Do you know of any case in which it is not true? Johnny-Yes'm. A stepladder Chicogo Tribune. Beyond Comparison Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all is purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves : it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones and builds up the entir system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia Catarrh and Rheumatism, Get Hood's and only Hood's. Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billious ness, jaundice, indigestion, sick head ache. 25: Pleasant Interiew is Now in Order Young husband (in a low tone to his wife, who meets him at the railroad depot with her mother)-"Didn't telegraph you not to bring your mothe to the station?" Young wife-"That's just why many ma has come along. She wishes b speak to you about it. She opened that telegram."-Truth. Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

ANTIOTIC JUB PRINTING	CATARRH.	New Total	sleeve a little too long, Miss Kent?"	No answer.	small stream, why do you hint that	By means of a magnesium light traces	of the resources of the locality in	corns and all skin eruptions, and posi-
A SPECIALTY.	AND ALL KINDS OF		"Not after the seam is off. But what		the stream itself is sorrowful? Be-	of the path of the spring are left upon	which you have bodght land in the	tively curespiles or no pay required.
HARRY M. BENSHOFF,	PAINS AND ACHES.	Pennsylvania College,	other day, at Professor Boynton's I saw	The second se	eause you say "The brook side (sigh- ed),"	disc. The apparatus is certainly not	in the hotel rotunda.	It is guaranteed to give perfect satis- faction or money refunded. Price 25
MANUFACTURING STATIONER	Larrabee's Rhoumatic Liniment is an old and ralued remedy, which has enjoyed a constant relued remedy.	GETTYSBURG, PA. Founded in 1832.	some wonderful experiments." "And did they succeed?" inquired	"Oh, how lonely !" echoed Jennie.	If a dissipated man should begat your door, and you should ask his	is one which has not been described in	said the tall, angular man.	cents per box. For sale by J. N. Sny- der, Somerset, Pa., or at G. W. Bral- lier's, Berlin, Pa.
	patronage for over to years, plantents where ful worth and efficiency in all atiments where	Large Faculty. Two full courses of study- Classical and Scientific, Special courses in	Jennie, demurely. "Beautifully !" "So will mine. I never yet botched	and my boarding house-boarding	how could he answer both questions		"I guess it is." "Productive country, I always BLANK BOOK MAKER.	pain is streadant. Larrabee's Rheussatic Limiment is not a liquid preparation to soil and tarnush by breaking : it is put up in wide-mouth bottles and applied with is put up in wide-mouth bottles and applied with	all departments. Observatory, Laboratories and new Gymnasium. Six large buildings, Steam heat. Libraries 22,000 volumes. Ex-	a job in my life."	as I am, Miss Kent."	with one word? "Mend I can t" (men-	"What time of night was it you saw	thought." "So did L."	Mamma-Well, Willie, what did you learn at Sunday school to-day?
HANNAM BLOCK,	is put up in wide-mouth bottles and apparen with is put up in wide-mouth bottles and apparen with the funger, rubbing it in with more or less inc- tion. It is	penses low. Department of Hygiene and Physical Culture in charge of an experienced physician. Accessible by frequent railroad trains. Location on the Battleneld of Gettys-	you," replied Miss Kent, perplexed.	little kind of purr, which sounded like a	An Old-Time Stage Journey.	the prisoner in your room "" asked the defendant's attorney in a recent suit.	"Timber said to be unexcelled."	Willie-That I must sell five tickets for our pic nic next week, give 25 cents
Johnstown, Pa.	CLEAN, PURE,	burg, most pleasant and healthy.	"No? I always grow scientific when talking about marriage, my dear.	Kent.	"When I used to go home 60 years	"About 3 o'clock."	I bought it."	to buy the teacher a present and that Noah built the ark Vogue.
A. H. HUSTON.	AGREEABLY SMELLING, QUICK ACTING.	PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT	"Bother !" was all the little woman	course," said Cousin Mark, "but no fire	ago from Maryland to Ohio," said an octogenarian, "the journey consumed	the time ?"	down on the stories you were tell-	"Mamma," said a little boy, rushing Larrabee's Rhenmatic Liniment is a splendid	Preparing for business or college, under spec- pal care of the Principal and three assistants, presiding with students in the building. Fail	to a distance of the second seco	side like this-no one to care for me if I	a week. Sometimes I went by way of Cumberland. The rival state coaches	"Could you see your husband at your	ing."" "No."	into the room with an air of one carry-
Undertaker and Embalmer.	bousehold reasted, cuts, wounds, frostbites, headache, burns, scalds, cuts, wounds, frostbites, headache, patus in muscles, joints and limbs, huckache, etc., patus in muscles, joints and limbs, huckache, etc., burden and the second s	ierm opens Sept. 6th, 1694. For caladogues, address H. W. McKnight, D. D. LL, D. Presi- dent, or Rev. O. G. Klinger, A. M., Principal, Gettysburg, Pa.		die."	raced all the way from that town to Wheeling. We nearly starved during	"No, sir."	line?"	ing valuable information. "What is it, dear?" "Did you know that Brown's
A GOOD HEARSE	sending full name and address and 25 cents to below address.	Gettysbarg, Pa.	with that configurat	"I wish that I lived in San Francis-	those long rides, for although there was a stop every 10 miles to exchange hor-	"Then, madam," said the attorney triumphantly, "please explain how you	"What's the matter then?"	little baby was dead?" "Yes, dear, I heard of it. Are you sorry?" "Yes, but
All and the second s	AND ADDRESS OF	Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest.	man Jennie told me, and for 15 years	co," said Miss Kent in a little quiver- ing voice. "You could call upon me		could see the prisoner and could not	was up in Wisconsin, and as I haven't	Mamma, it was only three days old." "I know love." "But don't think God
st everything pertaining to funerals furn-	Winkelmann & Brown Drug Co.	CATARRH	carried a load of misery that few could have endured. Death relieved him at		that one had to choose between hunger	"My husband was at the lodge, sir."	been there for a week I don't feel safe	would be surprised to see it coming back so soon?"
Somerset, Pa.	BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.	Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. Sic. E. T. Hazeitine, Warren, Pa.	last, and now the poor fellow actually	"If you will go to California with me,	and certain in ligestionsN. Y. Sun.			