LIKELY TO BEMAIN A MYSTERY. The following is taken from the editorial columns of the Cumberland News of

The finding of the dead body of Grant Zufall in the canal in the southern limits of the city adds another weird incident to the dark history of that mysterious local ity. At this writing it is impossible to speak with any degree of certainty as to the manner in which Mr. Zufall came to his death, but there are certain facts, not yet made public, which strongly justify the suspicion of foul play. The theory that in attempting to board a train he was thrown over the embankment is in Meyersdale, on December 22d, has ty for him to go to such a place in order been partially cleared up by the finding to get on a train, as he had both money and a pass in his pocket.
