EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY.....May 8, 1895.

WHAT people want is less talk about "the standard dollar," and more dollars.

THE doubtful States in 1896 will all be such as have heretofore been reliably Democratic.

ENGLAND has gained her point in Nicaragua, but the fact remains that her way of doing so was undignified and discreditable.

THE widest straddle on record is the Democratic straddle on silver. The strain on its trousers is such that if made of wrought iron the seams would give way.

CLEVELAND says in his letter to the Governor of Missippi that he has "tried to be Democratic"; but he has certainly made a total failure of it so far as pleasing his party is concerned.

GRESHAM will be known in history as the Secretary of State who kept the country constantly reminded that the office had never before been held by a man disqualified for it in so many ways.

THE prices of shoes are to be advanced on account of the increased cost of leather under the new tariff law—a conclusive reason why Democrats who do not go barefooted should vote the Republican ticket.

The "good western man" whom Crisp wants for the Presidential candidacy is keeping himself invisible. No western Democrat, or Eastern Democrat either, can be found who can carry his own State in 1896.

TAKE notice that English bankers and brokers are again in the market buying American stocks and securities. They only waited to be sure that the Democratic tariff-reform smashers were turned down and out.

A party which within a year and a half has stood up for and recommended "red dog" and "wild cat" money should not grow red in the face when asked to explain what he means by "sound currency."

WASHINGTON dispatches state that the receipts of the government for the last ten months, with two days estimated, were $280,000,000, and the expenditures $308,000,000—an excess of expenditures over receipts of $46,000,000.

THE profits of the Standard Oil Company on the oil spurt are estimated at $50,000,000. If the figures are anywhere near correct it made enough in a few days to buy all the competing pipe lines which it was authorized to purchase by the recent act of the Legislature.

THE Tennessee Legislature elected Turney, Democrat, by a majority of thirteen. If ever the number thirteen was the synonym of bad luck it is in this case, as the Tennessee Democrats will see next fall when the people repudiate their theft of a Governorship and drive the rascals out of power.

ONE of the organs says "the Democratic party can stand an awful lot of punishment." It is well that it can. It is going to get it—here and hereafter. Even the Universalist brethren will hardly claim that Democrats will have a nice time of it in the hereafter. With no office in sight no man of the future will likely ever boast that "I was a Democrat."—Inter Ocean.

THE Democrats of Tennessee have disgraced themselves in the eyes of all honest men. They have deliberately, shamelessly and in defiance of the rights of people stolen the State from the majority, and seated as governor a man who was defeated at the polls. An ordinary professional thief is a gentleman, in comparison with the thieves of the Tennessee legislation.

WE hear a vast deal of blather nowadays from Democratic sources, in favor of a "safe currency." Well, didn't we have a safe currency when the Republicans controlled the National administration? It was only after Cleveland climbed into the Presidential chair that we found Democrats advocating wild cat banking and the free coinage of silver. Let them keep hands off and there will be no fears of a safe currency.

THE time for argument, and for demonstration by wherefores and becauses, of tariff problems has gone by in the United States. History, teaching by experience, has proven that when the tariff of the country is thoroughly protective the prosperity of the Nation is wonderful, and that when the tariff of the country is of "the markets of the world" order the markets of the United States are depressed. The need of the people is a revival of home manufactures, a consequent increase of the demand for home labor, a consequent increase of home wages, a consequent increase of the home purchasing power, and a consequent increase of the home trade. This is the tariff situation in a nutshell.

LESS than four years ago, the Democratic organs throughout the country were shrieking in horror over the "hundred million dollar surplus," in the National Treasury and were demanding "tariff reform" as the remedy for having too much money on hand. Well, they have had "tariff reform" of the kind they hunted for, and there is no longer an hundred million dollar surplus, nor any kind of surplus. The truth is there never was an hundred million surplus, nor one-third of that amount, although it suited Democratic purposes to say so, but now it is admitted that there is not only no surplus, but an undeniable deficiency of over fifty-one millions which has been incurred by this Democratic administration within the last eight months. This is mainly the result of "tariff reform" or tariff tinkering. So long as we had a sound protection tariff policy we thrived and were prosperous, but as soon as we embarked on the English free trade policy, we began to fall in debt, our manufactoring industries became crippled, our surplus vanished and a deficit, which is daily growing larger, took its place.

Democrats Steal a State

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 4.—There was a wild scene of confusion late last night in the joint convention of Senate and House of Representatives just before the adoption, by a vote of 71 to 57, of the majority report in favor of Peter Turney (Democrat) and against Henry Clay Evans (Republican) for the Governorship. In arguing against Turney, "a man of integrity who had surrounded himself with some untrue men," Senator Bates said that a large motive to the present contest came from men who were connected with the Penitentiary business and was going into details, when Senator Whitthorne got the floor, and said:

"As chairman of the Penitentiary Investigating Committee, I made a thorconnected with the new and the old penitentiary. There was not one scinough and a full investigation of all matters tills of proof to cast the slightest shadow upon the integrity of Peter Turney, and the man who makes such a charge is a liar, and the truth is not in him."

A shouting and a throwing of hats that lasted two minutes followed. When order was restored Mr. Bates asked if Mr. Whitthorne had intended to apply that epithet to him. Mr. Whitthorne asked if Mr. Bates made such a charge. Mr. Bates said he had not made such a charge, but had distinctly said that Governor Turney was a man of integrity. Mr. Whitthorne then said:

"Then the epithet does not apply to the Senator from Hickman, but does apply to whoever charges fraud or knowledge of fraud upon Governor Turney."

This temporarily disposed of a dispute that had begun to assume proportions almost revolutionary in their seriousness. Concerning the threatening nature of the crisis the Nashville Banner to-day says editorially:

"It is a fact beyond question that the mass of the Democracy and the best and prevailing sentiment of the party in this State is emphatically opposed to the partisan action taken by a misguided majority of the Democratic members of the General Assembly in this contest, and the indignation expressed in this city this morning over the indefensible action which overturns the people's election for Governor is but an earnest of the general condemnation throughout the State.

"The fight for vindication of the party will be kept up and the people of other States must understand that the Democracy of Tennessee have been misrepresented in this matter, and their wishes utterly disregarded."

White Declared Elected.

INDIANA, Pa., May 5.—Judges Doty Barker and Reyburn, constituting the court appointed to try the contest of ex-Judge Blair against Judge Harry White, for the judiciary seat in this district, yesterday decided in favor of Judge White. Judge Doty gave the decision, which was that 571 illegal votes had been cast, of which 336 were for Blair and 235 for White, making the latter's majority 128. The court then directed the ballots to be burned, but on the objection of Mr. Ruffner, one of Blair's counsel, modified the order to read that they must be destroyed within 30 days, unless an appeal shall be taken in the meantime. This action of Mr. Ruffner is construed to mean that there may be an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The costs of the case are placed upon the county, and may amount to any figure between $8,000 and $15,000. In reaching their decision the court dealt mainly with the charges of non-registration, non-payment of taxes, non-residence and bribery. Blair's interests suffered most through the failure of his supporters to pay their taxes and register, while Judge White's illegal voters became such through the over-zealousness of his friends and through non-residence.

A Fight With Hostile Indians.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., May 4.—The expected hostilities have begun between the settlers of the Kalispell Valley and the renegade Indians. Three settlers, William Jared, "Bid" Jared and Oscar McLaughlin, were attacked by a band of the redskins. Big Sam, the leader, knocked William Jared down with a crowbar, but after a short fight with the Indians the whites reached their boat, from there they fired on their assailants and killed one.

The Indian agent has applied for troops, and the settlers are preparing to drive the renegades from their land.

Saved by His Whiskers.

CHESTER, Pa., May 4.—John Kinney, who was living a hermit's life in the woods at Birmingham, was arrested on suspicion as George Windish, who is wanted in Scranton for the murder of his wife. Justice P. Miles Frame discovered that Kinney, who wore a long brown beard, could not have grown it since April 4, when the murder was committed. Windish at that time wore a small goatee and mustache. Kinney was discharged without further delay.

Sold for Fifteen Ponies.

WICHITA, Kan., May 5.—Rosa Whiteface, a pretty young Indian maiden, a pupil of the Caddo Indian School, has been sold by her father to her sister's husband for 15 ponies. The Indian whose wife she is to become is 70 years old, and already has other wives. She is but 17 years of age.

The girl has appealed to Professor Montgomery, of the Caddo School, to save her from such a fate, and he is exerting every energy to assist her. He has made an appeal to the citizens of El Reno and a popular subscription is being taken up in order to raise a sufficient sum to pay her traveling expenses to Washington, where she desires to go that she may make a personal appeal to the President.

The girl's father is inexorable and her aged lover insists upon the contract being carried out.

A Fatal Thunderbolt.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 3.—Last evening about 6 o'clock a severe storm, accompanied by lightning, passed over this section. In Ohio, almost opposite here, Chilton Woods, Hamilton Bassell and T. J. Boldman had been fishing and were returning home. Woods was carrying a gun which was struck by lightning, killing him instantly. The other two men were so seriously injured that they may die.

A Terrible Visitant.

Pain is always a terrible visitant, and often domiciles itself with one for life. This infliction is preventible, in case of rheumatism, by a timely resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which checks the encroachments of this obstinate and dangerous malady at the outset. The term "dangerous" is used advisedly, for rheumatism is always liable to attack the vital organs and terminate life. No testimony is more conclusive and concurrent than that of physicians who testify to the excellent effect of the Bitters in this disease. Persons incur a wetting in rainy or snowy weather, and who are exposed to draughts, should use the Bitters as a preventive of ill effects. Malaria, dyspepsia, liver and kidney trouble, nervousness and debility are also among the ailments to which this popular medicine

The sentence of Blixt, who turned state's evidence at Minneapolis in the Ging murder case, is life imprisonment, while that of Harry Hayward, who inspired and was to profit by the crime, is death.

Archie D. Brown, son of the governor of Kentucky, was shot and killed Tuesday in a disreputable house in Louisville, by Fulton Gordon. Mrs. Gordon, who was found with Brown, was also killed by Gordon.

Superintendent W. R. Smith, of the botanical gardens in Washington, has held his appointment for 43 years.

Harrisburg Letter.

HARRISBURG, PA., May 4, 1895.

The House met on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock. After a short session Mr. Mackall, of Allieghany, announced the death of his colleague, Hon. M. B. Lemon, who died in New York at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, April 29. A committee was appointed to take appropriate action, and on motion the House adjourned to meet Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Previous to the opening of Monday evening's session Chief Clerk Fetterolf had the chair and desk occupied by the deceased member draped in mourning. On the desk he placed a pillow of beautiful La France roses. Mr. Lemon's death was caused by consumption superinduced by wounds received at the battle of the Wilderness. He had served as a member of the House since 1887, and was highly esteemed by his associates. He hail gone, sometime ago, to the Bermudas, for the benefit of his health, but finding no improvement, turned his face homeward, and had got as far as New York, when he became too weak to travel further, and death came to his relief.

Hon. John Wanamaker gave a reception in honor of Governor Hastings last Friday evening, at his home in Philadelphia, and invited the members of the Senate and House. On Thursday the House held three sessions, in order to lose no time, Friday's session usually being a short one, the members taking the 11:40 and 11:45 trains east and west for home. A delegation of law-makers visited the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science on Friday.

Here's a chance to turn an honest dollar: Dr. John H. Fager, President of the Harrisburg Natural Science Association offers a reward of one dollar to the first person locating a specimen of coltsfoot in the Keystone State. Many persons mistake wild ginger for coltsfoot. The botanical name is Tussilago Farfara.

Auditor General-elect Mylin will succeed Gen. Gregg next Tuesday. He has over 350 applications for positions.

Col. James Young, of near Middletown, this county, the millionaire farmer, died this morning in his 75th year. His death was the result of an accident which befell him on Saturday evening having been thrown from his buggy while on his way home from one of his farms. He leaves an estate valued at from one to two million dollars. He owned thirteen farms in the neighborhood of Middletown.

The following bills passed the Senate finally: To prevent perpetual building restrictions upon real estate; to discontinue the use of public school houses for election purposes; to design the candik of materials to be used in the construction of public buildings paid for by State money; to prohibit the capture or killing for sale of partridge, grouse and woodcock, to increase the salary of the secretary of the state board of health from $2,000 to $3,000 a year and to remove the restriction that the state appropriation to the board shall be used for specific purposes; to prohibit chief burgesses from holding any other office during the term for which they have been elected; providing for the employment of persons sentenced to simple imprisonment in the county jails.

Among the bills reported out of Senate committees are: House bill to amend the anti-oleo act taking one-half the fine from informers; the Cochrane bill to prevent the adulteration of food; House bill dividing the cities of the State into three classes.

The Senate committee to investigate the Wernersville Insane Asylum reported that they found very little to condemn, but censure the management of the institution for the causes that led to the death of one man. The book-keeping, etc., were found to be perfect.

The bill relating to the printing of Small's Hand Book has been approved by the Governor.

The following appointments were made by the Governor, and confirmed by the Senate:

Commissioners of the Board of Public Charities—J. W. C. O'Neal, Gettysburg; Geo. I. McLeod, Philadelphia; Francis J. Torrence, Pittsburg; William H. Lamberton, Harrisburg; Charles Miller, Franklin, Venango county.

Clerk of the Courts, Philadelphia—William B. Ahern.

To constitute the State Fish Commission: H. C. Ford, Philadelphia; H. C. Demuth, Lancaster; D. P. Corwin, Pittsburg; James A. Dale, York; Lewis Struseber, Erie; S. B. Shilwell, Scranton.

The Senate concurred in the House amendments to the Greater Pittsburg bills.

The Senate Judiciary General Committee gave a hearing to some Philadelphia people who are in favor of the proposed investigation of the municipal affairs of that city. Further action was postponed until next Tuesday, when some prominent Philadelphians will present the other side. The prospect for a favorable recommendation are none of the brightest.

In the Senate the bill to provide for the erection and organization of new counties, under which it is proposed to form Monongahela county was re-referred to the committee on account of changes without a hearing—giving it a totally different import.

A comparison of the work accomplished by the House up to May 2, 1893, and the same date this year, shows that two years ago 555 House and 231 Senate bills, or 787 in all, had been reported from the committees. This year the House bills number 624 and Senate bills 248, or a total of 872. Two years ago at this date 129 House bills had been acted upon and sent to the Senate together with 14 Senate bills. This year the numbers are 187 and 21 respectively. There have been 24 House bills passed by both branches and gone to the Governor, or one more than two years ago.

The Senate bill to provide for the erection and organization of new counties out of two or more adjoining counties and prescribing the manner in which the same may be done, known as the Quay county bill, came up on final passage, and, after considerable discussion, was defeated—92 yeas to 82 nays—not a constitutional majority;

The weather since Tuesday has been delightful—bright clear skies and life giving sunshine. Vegetation is on the jump, and the trees are nearly out in full leaf manking a lounge in the Capitol grounds very enjoyable. Fish stories abound, and life seems to be worth living.

Both Houses adjourned on Thursday to meet next Monday evening.

The Marshall bill prohibiting the sale of oleomargarine and other imitations of pure butter passed finally. The bill is similar to the act of 1885 except that it directs that one-half of the fine collected from violators shall go to the county and the other half to the department of agriculture for the use of the state Dairy and Food commissioner.

The Farr compulsory education bill, which has passed both houses of the state legislature and which, with the exception of having the title amended, is ready to go to Governor Hastings for his signature, is exciting a great deal of interest in educational circles.

The bill, if it becomes a law, will compel the attendance at school, for at least four months in the year, of all children between the ages of 8 and 13 years, and provides for the fining of parents or guardians who refuse or fail to comply with the law. Truant officers will be appointed, whose duty it will be to see that all children found loitering in the streets shall be compelled to go to school, and thus bootblacks, newsboys and newsgirls, flower girls and juvenile peddlers of all sorts between the ages referred to, instead of roaming the streets, will be placed where they will have an opportunity to acquire an education. The vote by which it passed the Senate finally, has been reconsidered so that the title can be amended. It then goes to the House for concurrence before going to the governor for his signature.

The female school teachers of the state won a decided victory for woman and woman's cause yesterday by the final passage by the House of the bill giving them the same pay as teachers of the male sex. The bill provides that female employes in the public schools shall in all cases receive the same compensation as is allowed to male teachers for like services when holding the same grade of certificates and are employed to teach an equal grade as male teachers. The bill carries a penalty clause, which says that controllers and directors violating the law shall be liable to removal from office on complaint of a teacher who shall prove the fact before a court.

The House also passed finally a bill of great importance to school directors, permitting them to swear one another when being inducted into office. Mr. Farr thought this was trifling with a great and dangerous power; but Mr. Talbot, of Chester, reminded him that the same power is vested in election officers. The principle of the bill is purely that of accommodation.

Child Down a Deep Well.

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 3.—The 3-year old daughter of Patrick Morris, while playing over an old well in her father's yard, broke through the decayed planks and fell 40 feet to the bottom. As she disappeared the little girl screamed loudly and her mother heard her. Men hurried to the mouth of the well with ropes, and one was lowered to the bottom. There he found the child clinging to old pieces of plank, keeping her head above the water, which is not deep. She was quickly hoisted to the surface, but when a doctor examined her he found that, excepting a few bruises, she was not hurt.

Baby Carriages.

The place to buy baby carriages is at Fisher's Book Store.

Killed by a Cyclone.

HUTCHISON, KAS., May 2.—Ten people were killed by a cyclone in the neighborhood of Patterson, 20 miles east of this city, yesterday. They were:

Mrs. Joseph Wear, Grace Wear, 12 years old; Herman Wear, 10 years old; a babe, William Armstrong, Mrs. Chapin, John Schmidt, Miss. Schmidt, Dora Schmidt, Frank Schmidt.

Of the 20 injured Mrs. Frye, Joseph Wear and Mrs. J. R. Frizzel will die. Among the others injured are: Jacob S. Stinchey, Cyrus Henson, Mrs. William Armstrong. Twenty or more houses were demolished.

Two Outlaws Bite the Dust.

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 2.—The dead bodies of Slaughter Kid and Charlie Pierson, brother of Tusla Jack, both notorious members of the old Dalton gang, were brought to this city to-day. They were waylaid by Sam Shaffer, deputy United States marshal, near Ingalls, and both were brought down with unerring aim. The bodies still have the revolvers and cartridge belts just as found on them when killed.

They were caught in their old rendezvous on the edge of the Creek country, east of Ingalls.

Fell to Fighting in Court.

KANSAS CITY, MO., May 4.—Lawyers came to blows in Court to-day over the suit against ex-Governor Crittenden, now Consul-General at Mexico, and City Attorney J. H. McDougall, who are guarantors of the bonds of the Midland Accident Company.

W. F. Guthrie, son of ex-Attorney General Guthrie, of Kansas, accused Frank P. Sebree, another attorney, of deliberately lying. Sebree blacked both of Guthrie's eyes before Judge Scarritt, who jumped over the bench, could separate them. Ex-Congressman William Warner paid the fines of both attorneys to prevent immediate removal to jail.

A Lion For a Punching Bag.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 5.—The long heralded fight between a bull and lion in Monterey to-day was a complete fizzle. After two hours had been wasted in vain efforts to bring the beasts together, the public left the plaza in disgust.

The lion was evidently cowed by his experience in the last fight and simply ran around the cage. The bull was full of fight. The lion was hauled up by the neck and the bull used him as a punching bag. After the public had gone the lion died.

Ravaged by a Cyclone.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., May 3.—A tremendous cyclone struck Sioux county this afternoon. Three school houses and 20 residences near Sioux Center were swept away. At one school house two teachers and three pupils were killed and many injured. Two woman were found dead not far from where one of the school buildings stood. One man who arrived in Sioux Center late in the evening reported that his house was blown away and his family killed. He himself escaped and says that at least 100 people must have been killed. Parties have been sent out from Hull, Sioux Center and Orange City, but their work is being carried on in total darkness and in the midst of a tremendous wind and rain storm. It is consequently progressing slowly. A number of bodies have already been recovered, although the exact number cannot be learned. It is said that Perkins, a small town between Sioux Center and Doon, was directly in the path of the storm and was almost entirely wiped out.

The storm struck Sibley at 5 o'clock, destroying the house of John W. Watterson, killing Mrs. Watterson, and injuring Watterson and his children.

Thirteen dead had been brought into Sioux Center at 6 p. m. It is estimated that at least 50 people have been killed.

Later reports say that 10 were killed at Doon and three at Perkins. The tornado jumped 40 miles northeast to Sibley, Osceola county. Five are reported killed there.

PAINT cracks.—It often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead
