All the schools of the county are now thoroughly and completely graded. This has aided greatly in bringing them to their present high standard of efficiency and worth. Increased interest in school work, united effort in school management, and substantial progress in every department of our educational system have been the legitimate fruits of the County Course of Study, With the continued hearty co-operation of directors and teachers, the schools of Somerset County, under the graded system, properly regulated and goarded, will continue to improve until we shall realize from them the greatest possible good under existing conditions. To this end all true friends of educational progress are cordially invited to contribute.
