SOMERSET, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1896.

How was it that her little hand Drew so near mine, and as I scanned The wondrous beauties of her face. With all its leveliness and grace,

How was it that with eager haste. And as I gazed into her eyes, And saw the look of mild surprise, I squeezed it?

How was it, did the moon cellpse? I could not see her perfect lips, I looked to east and west and south And then-I just looked at her mouth And kissed it.

I still can feel the magic power Have missed it.

A Marvelous Change.

"What a change," says the novelist, "one little woman can make in a man's life." "Yes," replies a victim, "and what a lot of change she requires while doing it," But what women are most interested in is the change they can make in their own lives by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It changes them from poor weak and suffering creatures to beings whose lives are filled with pleasure and cujoyment. It does this by removing the many painful maladies peculiar to women, such as "dragging-down" pains, sensations of nausea, backache and the long train of ills from which the sex suffers. To those about to become mothers it is a boon, for it lessens the pains and perils of childbirth, shortens labor, promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the There were five of us who got to the child and shortens the period of con-

Suapping Turtles.

Two months ago a crowd of ceal miners near Newport took two snapping turtles to a cockpit and forcing their jaws open poured whisky down their throats. Then they were turned loose on each other and about $500 was wagered on the fight, with the understanding that no decision would be made until one of the snappers gave upor was killed. The turtles fought flercely, each tearing his antagonist's head and neck with his horny beak until one obtained a grip on the other's flipper. After a brief but ineffectual struggle to break his antagonist's hold, the turtle whose flipper was thus caught seized the other by the neck. Aside from a sawing motion there was no further demonstration for several hours. The crowd of miners watched them from early evening until long after midnight, when the turtles, each retaining his grip on the other, were placed in the cellar of a deserted house. This was two months ago, and since then neither of the snappers has shown any signs of weakening his hold uponthe other, and the bets have not yet been declared off.-Rochester Times.
