It is a curious and significant fac that in the last four weeks more corn than wheat has been exported from the United States. This apparent change in the relative demand for these two great cereals is encouraging for the farmers, as they have much less competition from other countries in corn than in wheat. We simply asserted that a large number of Democrats had been permitted to vote, and produced the figures to show that they had done so. A number of committeemen have informed us that they held the primary under a misapprehension of the rule fixing the qualification of voters, and permitted all offering to vote to do so upon promising to support, at the November election, the ticket nominated; whereas, the rule requires that those offering to script, stating that he would consider as ticket at the last preceding general elec- He, later in the week, returned it to me, is not a man in Somerset borough, or among the "fool friends" of Mr. Kooser, who does not know that a number of Democrats, three of them being under age, voted in this district. PHILADELPHIA, April 11 .- H. Homes, vho committed eleven murders, and is spected of as many more, has given out the full confession of his crimes, writton himself, which has long been expected. In prefacing his confession, Homes states that his object is to raise money for the education of his boy. At the outset he confesses to 27 murders, and then proeeds to relate the most horrible details

"I was born with the devil in me," says he. Continuing, Homes reveals all the details of a score or more murders as calm-He had murder reduced to a science carefully planned and executed each atrocious crime with more precision than the last. He played no favorites. Men, women, children, were all the same to him; he was a professional murderer, who loved his business as much for its own sake as for a means of livelihood.
