THE QUEEN OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

She rules with subtle art and skill. Exceeding stationer for, And 'neath her changeful humors still Her subjects kneel and pray. No heart rebels against her sway, Her actions meet no blame; By all her deeds from grace to gay Her words attention claim.

MY UNCLE'S LEGACY.

Charley Wiburn and I are cousins; but, somehow, I scarcely seemed to belong to the family at all. We had no end of relations, and he was a general favorite with all, even some he had not seen, for they would die and leave him legacies. He was constantly getting some little "windfall" of this kind till at length "Charley Wiburn's" became a general catchword among us—a synonym for all that was lucky and fortunate.

One morning at breakfast—we were artists, and shared the same rooms and studio—he received a black edged letter, which, upon opening and reading, he cast down with a discontented look. "Another funeral to go," he grumbled, "and here are my pictures unfinished, and next week is sending home."

"Who is it now?" I asked. "Another legacy, I suppose, eh?" "Very likely," he returned, indifferently—he was so used to these things he scarcely took any notice of them. "It's Uncle Alexander's legacy. Did you know him?" "I shook my head. "Have heard of him; never saw him myself." Charley explained—"at least, not since I was a boy. It's a rare bother, this, coming just now. Such a long journey for your part, the prettiest and best wearing carpet made, comes to this store and get one at $1.00. CATARRH is the result of colds and catarrhs of the bladder. It is the most common of all diseases. It is caused by a germ which enters the bladder through the urethra. It is characterized by a burning pain in the bladder, and a frequent desire to urinate. It is cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

is a special boon to business men who, having drifted unconsciously into the drink habit and are unable to get on their feet. It is a scientific preparation which restores the system to its normal condition and gives relief at once. Price 50 cents, in bottles of 100 or 500.

not too well off as regards this world's goods. "Since I was not too well off, either, this would not have troubled me, but for that legacy of £5,000 I was supposed to have come in for. "Was that the secret cause of this sudden friendliness?" I asked myself. But when I looked at Milly, and saw the frank gleam of her beautiful, honest-looking eyes, I felt ashamed of myself, and when I regarded the Major and noted the open, manly look the fine old soldier gave me, I could not bring myself to think of him as a scheming old fortune hunter.

"I don't know," replied the graybeard. "When I came back from the West I was 60 years old and did not have a gray hair. I got off the railroad train and started to walk across the street. Half way over I heard the ding-dong chime and yelling ring on my heels I ever heard, and somebody gave me a push that sent me clear to the curb. Then when I looked I saw I'd come within an ace of being run over by a trolley. Never had so narrow escape from Indiana."

"I started to walk up town and the first crossing I came to a policeman grabbed me by the shoulder and jerked me across so quick it made my head swim. I looked to see what was the matter, for there were no cars tracks that street, and I saw that I had just escaped being run over by a trolley."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

FOR A DREAM'S SAKE.

Time has come to sit and think, Oh, my heart, and face the truth; Fate gives us a cup to drink, Somewhat bitter 'tis, in sooth, Yet, methinks that it will drain, Even the dregs, nor show our pain!

REMINISCENCES.

Nothing that can happen to a people is as demoralizing in its effects as war; especially a civil war. Outside of the cost to the governments engaged, and the devastation and waste of property and substance, the demoralizing effects on character can never be effaced.

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

THE MAN FROM THE WEST.

"So you were a pioneer in the early days of the West?" "I was," answered the graybeard. "And you lived out among the hostile Indians?" "Yes."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

TESTA'S RADIOGRAPH.

"I am getting more and more convinced," says Mr. Tesla, in speaking of his experiments in radiography, "that we have to deal with streams of material particles, which strike the sensitive plate with great velocity. So far, most of the phenomena indicate that they are projected through the wall of the Crookes' tube, of whatever material it may be, and are striking for still more conclusive evidence in this direction. It is now demonstrated, beyond any doubt, that small metallic objects or lumps of chalky deposits can be infallibly detected in any part of the body."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

A Gilded Untruth.

A gilded steer above the cupola on the exhibition building at the stock yards tells the customer which way the wind blows. The steer is a work of art and much admired, and yet it remains a contradiction to the belief that cattlemen are observers of the habits of cattle.

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."

"I don't know," I answered dolefully. "He goes about more, and makes himself more liked, I think, while I'm a hater."
