ON THE fourth of March Boies Penrose, of Philadelphia, will succeed Hon. J. Donald Cameron in the United States Senate as a representative from Pennsylvania. This was decided in joint caucus by the State legislators Tuesday ker 75. A majority of the entire Legislature is 128. Penrose therefore carried a majority of the whole vote of both Houses, making the action of the caucus final and decisive and his election, which will follow on the reconvening of the Legislature on Monday of next week, will be but a matter of form. The real battle was fought in the caucus, and Penrose won, and won hand- to Justice James Post, who, after ponder-
