Somerset is one of a very few towns in the country found on the visiting list of the President of the United States. Mrs. C. A. Kimmel, who has lived here some fifty years, and who since her residence in Pittsburgh returned last week at the home of her parents, is probably the oldest resident of Somerset. She is the daughter of a family, who will arrive in a few days. The people of Somerset will heartily welcome their return.

was received with great enthusiasm in all the villages through which he passed and was escorted on his route by prominent citizens. Upon leaving Bedford he was accompanied by the summit of Allegheny mountains, a delegation of prominent Bedford people, and was met at the White Horse Hotel, long since abandoned, by a number of Somerset's leading physicians and business men, who escorted him to this place, where he was lodged at the "Glade Hotel," presided over by William Pickering. Several members of the Somerset reception committee, among them John O. Kimmel, Esq., are still living.

An illustration of Zach's democratic and unconventional ideas may be had from an incident which occurred at the Glade House shortly after he permitted the six or seven hundred villagers to grasp his hand. After the major portion had been retired to their homes he took a seat in front of the hotel and during the conversation which ensued between him and several distinguished local citizens, the President quietly removed his shoes and sat in his stocking feet on the floor until the arrival of a carriage, which was driven by a man who had been traveling forty miles a day in a stage coach, drawn by four horses and sang entertainment at way-side inns.

"Colborn, of Scranton," says the Nicholson Examiner, "not make a bad Governor. He is a man of high character, integrity and a patriot without jingo attachments."

Not make a bad Governor! Colborn of Scranton, that is, the Honorable Ajax J., comes of a line of Ajaxes reaching back to the original in Homer. The more mention of his name revives memories of men who, like him, defy the lightning when necessary. It reminds us of the noble Achilles, who, in the Trojan war, his mind is quick, his eye is clear and his voice echoes resolutely from the Republican stump. He is a handsome fellow, too. Not make a bad Governor, indeed. If Colborn of Somerset were still alive, the Nicholson Examiner wouldn't talk that way of his Scranton boy.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FIFTY-FOURTH IN REUNION.

held a Big Gathering at Hopelock Grove. About 100 veterans of the late war, and some of their members of the gallant Fifty-Fourth, Pennsylvania's most notable regiment during the rebellion, attended the sixth annual reunion of the regiment on Saturday, Sept. 7, at Hopelock, Pa.

Immediately after the arrival of the train from Somerset a parade took place, headed by the Priests' band. The Sons of Veterans of Hopelock and Johnstown followed and then came in order the White Cross members of St. Mark's Episcopal church of Hopelock. The regiment of Thomas Parfitt, Jr., the Davidsville band, in which were seven members of the Johnstown Road band, and the survivors of the Fifty-fourth, one of the famous regiments of the war, headed the parade at Hopelock. The cannon owned by Emory Fisher Post of this city brought up the rear. Salutes that could be heard for miles were fired in honor of the Fifty-fourth.

Immediately after the procession had ended its march Hopelock, a well-known resident of Hopelock, welcomed the visitors in a most hospitable manner. He was assisted by Capt. William H. Sanner of Somerset and Capt. G. Campbell of Johnstown, the latter a son of the regiment's gallant colonel. Subsequently Mrs. Emma W. Suter of Hopelock, the wife of the colonel, and Mrs. Emma V. Suter of Pittsburgh, the latter the wife of the late Capt. John Suter, of Company A, were called to the platform and were introduced to the veterans.

The veterans had a glorious time at the beautiful grove, interrupted only by the holding of a meeting of the regimental association at 2 o'clock. William Bennett of Hopelock was elected president, and Stephen R. Varner of Johnstown, treasurer, and John L. Decker of this city and Joseph R. Hummel and William A. Sanner of Hopelock, were elected members of the executive committee. It was decided at the meeting to hold the next reunion of the Fifty-fourth at Westmont grove, June 5, 1898.

During the greater part of the afternoon the veterans enjoyed themselves with dancing and other amusements, while the older ones were content to reminisce of the days when they were on the tented field. Some of the veterans could not stand the strain toward the latter part of the day, yet some of them were on the floor dancing as they did years ago. Day Bryan was a first class prompter and the afternoon was spent in his company. The veterans did not hesitate to say that it was one of the most successful reunions they ever had.—Johnstown Democrat.

Existing Ten Tennis Game. The first ten tennis game of base ball ever played in Somerset took place Thursday afternoon at the residence of the late Mr. John H. "Indians" and the "Maroons," resulting in a victory for the locals by a score of 13 to 11. The "Indians" had the game well in hand at several junctures, but were unable to hold their lead. The "Maroons" were in a splendid condition, and the game to Berlin can be attributed to the errors of Woods, who had the oft-quoted kind of a "soft" day. Both teams were in bad form, but "Berlin" committed errors at critical points, whereas the "Maroons" took advantage of every opportunity. C. W. Walker inspired the game in a satisfactory manner to all present with the exception of a small number of "Indians," who claimed that they were being robbed. The score follows: Somerset 1 0 3 1 1 0 1 2 1 2—13. Berlin 3 0 9 1 2 3 0 2 0 4—11.

Wanderful Results in Eye Surgery. The unexcelled success of Dr. Sailer in eye surgery continues. Mr. Samuel M. Long, so widely known about Conestoga, Pa., who has long been a patient of Dr. Sailer, has been restored to sight by the Doctor without an hour's pain. Mrs. Wm. Steiner, of Reeburgh, Pa., also blind, was restored without pain and without the use of any medicine. Mr. Ernest Thomas, of Atlanta, Ind., also blind from catarrh, restored with little discomfort, and is at work in the rolling mill again. Mr. A. M. Cunningham, of Conasa, Kansas, blind in one eye, lost one of his eyes in an unskillful operation in the west. In four weeks from the time he gave the other eye to Dr. Sailer's charge, he was back to his normal condition, and is now at his business. Mr. Geo. Siler, Leeburgh, Pa., now at Atlanta, Ind., had one of his eyes gouged out of his head by a bar of iron, leaving it permanently turned far outward. He had been blind for some time, but Dr. Sailer replaced it in normal position. The funeral took place on Saturday, the services being conducted by Rev. J. J. Welch.

Mr. Jacob Gindlesberger died at her home in Conemaugh township Wednesday, September 1st, from pulmonary trouble. She was 28 years of age, and leaves one child.

Catherine, wife of Leonard Ferrel, of Glade, died on Thursday, 21st inst., aged 55 years. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery at New Centerville, Rev. A. B. Miller officiating.

The entire staff of sales managers of Sunlight Soap for the different sections of the United States have been invited by their employers, Messrs. Lever, Brothers, Limited, manufacturers of Sunlight Soap, to take a free trip to London and to Port Sunlight, England, where the head works and model village of the firm are located. This is the largest soap making establishment in the world—and it supplies the entire world. The party sailed on the Majestic, September 1st and expects to be away for about four weeks. The firm expects to follow up this generous offer by sending an invitation to give the entire staff of sales managers of the Eastern and Middle States to visit Port Sunlight and London in June, 1898. The fortunate recipients of this invitation will be given all their expenses paid by the firm and they can count upon having a good time. They will have their eyes opened at Port Sunlight to the magnitude of the demand for Sunlight Soap. Messrs. Lever, Brothers, never do anything by halves. The valuable staff of sales managers are still another evidence of this.
