She consulted Dr. Sadler, 804 Penn Avenue, whose skill in diseases of the ear enables him to secure satisfactory results in every case. After removing the growth his treatment removed all inflammation : stopped all discharge and offensive odor. Brugh Peter F., Jefferson, citizen of near Lambertsville, this county, died October 7, 1897, aged 70 years and 11 He lived all his life on a part of the Samuel Lambert (his father's) farm, where he died. He was a consistent member of the Reformed church for about fifty years, and during all this time he led a devoted christian life. For the past few yours he was deprived from taking an active part in church and other public affairs through bodily ills. In politics Mr. Lambert was a life-long Republican, and in this his example is followed by all his sons. In social sympathy his character deepened with advancing years. He always had a kind word for all whom he met, and his home was at all times a home of hospitality. He was a great sufferer from kidney disease, but he bore it all without a murmur; and when death came, he passed away without any apparent suffering. "Behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace," Deceased was the father of twelve children, eleven sons and one daughter. He is survived by his wife and daughter, Sidna, who is at home, and seven sons, Elsworth and Irvin, of near Lambertsville, Azariah, at home, Edward M., of Downey, Pa., Jairus B., of Mostoller, Pa., John M., of Pittsburg, Pa., and Lorenzo, of Freeport, Illinois. His grand children, twelve in number, all survive him.

The funeral was very largely attended The services were conducted by Rev. Wetzel of the Reformed church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Lambertsville cemetery. While we sympathize with his family and friends, may our prayers ever be "Let us die the death of the righteous and let our last end be like his." Com.

Special correspondence to the Call from Alaska, conveys the news that it is proposed to establish a new territory, to be known as Lincoln, out of the northwestern portion of Alaska. It will include the Yukon river country and extend north to the Arctic ocean. The new town of Weare, situated on the Yukon, about half way between Dawson City and St. Michael's, has been chosen for the capital of the proposed territory. It is understood that Eli Gage, son of the secretary of the treasury, is a prominent candidate for governor in case a territorial organization is effected.
