

REMOR has it that C. L. Magee has gone on a pilgrimage to Florida to visit Senator Quay.

ASSISTANT GOVERNOR ROBERT E. PATTERSON is expected to be the Democratic candidate for Governor next year.

A PRESIDENT MCKINLEY will receive as a gift a turkey weighing twenty-five pounds—a very good evidence of the prosperity of the country.

THE official returns of the last election in Massachusetts show that in the city of Boston alone the Republicans made a net gain of 5,533 votes.

HAVING elected a Republican Legislature which will elect a United States Senator, Maryland has developed a large crop of Senatorial candidates.

OKLAHOMA is clamoring for statehood. Oklahoma is a very healthy infant, but scarcely old enough or large enough to properly wear the dignity which goes with statehood.

A GOOD many editors and correspondents are engaged in writing President McKinley's message to Congress these days, but when the time comes it will be found that the President has a message of his own to submit.

THE teachers of Somerset county, who will assemble in Somerset next week, will receive much practical benefit by coming in touch with each other, and hearing the able instructors who have been provided for the Institute by County Superintendent Pitts.

GOVERNOR LYDOWSKI, of Maryland, is an aspirant for the seat in the United States Senate which will be vacated by Senator Gorman on the 4th of next March. Senator Wellington is managing the Gorman campaign and believes they will land him a winner.

THE steady march of Republicanism is shown not only by the increased number of members which that party controls from year to year in the congressional delegations, but by the pre-eminence of Republican control in Maryland and West Virginia. Maryland has now given a Republican majority in three successive elections—1895, 1896 and 1897.

REPORTS from various sections of the country are to the effect that the general rains of the past few weeks have been of great benefit to the wheat crop, particularly in the West, and that if the fields are covered with a mantle of snow before damaging freezing weather sets in, there need be no fear of a short crop or a dried crop next year.

A KANSAS teacher is in trouble because she forbade her scholars to bring onions to school with their lunch, declaring a war of extermination against that vegetable. As onions, though not in the leading social circles of the vegetable kingdom, are considered very wholesome by some authorities, the question of diet for school lunches bids fair to add another problem to the already overburdened Kansas mind.

THE splendid work of the Pennsylvania soldiers on the fields of Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge, Orchard Knob and Lookout Mountain during the late war, has received a merited recognition in the dedication, last week, of their monuments. As monuments of the memorable struggle. The ceremony was made the occasion of the gathering together of hundreds of veterans, and their reunion on the old battle grounds must have recalled the old war days vividly, and have been an occasion of intense enjoyment.

SENATOR HANNA has served notice on the Republican Committee of Ohio that he will make no contribution for campaign expenses until proof of the fallacy of the talk regarding a legislative belt is forthcoming in the form of his reelection. President McKinley is also helping along the Hanna boom by refusing to make any further Ohio appointments until the first of January. Senator Hanna and his friends are confident that he will be re-elected, but they will take no chances with the guerrillas in Ohio who are doing their level best to knock out the National Chairman.

THE Auditor General of Pennsylvania is elected for three years, at a salary of $5,000 a year. He takes his seat on the first Tuesday of May next succeeding his election, and gives bond to the Commonwealth in the sum of $5,000. The State Treasurer is elected for two years, at a salary of $5,000 a year. He goes into office on the first Monday of May next succeeding his election, and gives bond in the sum of $50,000. The Auditor General and State Treasurer are elected at the same time once in every six years. All the other State officers are elected simultaneously, and serve for four years.

Thomas V. Cooper, of Media, Ex-Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and a careful and observant analyst of the Swallow vote, says: "The remarkable vote received by the sensational-loving Dr. Swallow will not bear any sort of analysis of special discomfit to the Republicans. His 118,000 votes are readily traced. His prohibitory colleague received half as many votes as Swallow, or 41,000 above the usual prohibitory vote. Heoom received 40,000 less than his Republican colleague, McCauley, showing that 40,000 Republicans voted for Swallow; 15,000 more voted for Thompson, Independent Republican, making 55,000 disaffected Republicans. Swallow's actual Prohibitory vote was 15,000, his actual Republican vote was 20,000, his Democratic vote was 58,000. So we can readily see how this vote was manufactured. There was Democratic disgust at the Reading convention and its Chicago platform, and there was direction from some quarter to swell the Swallow vote so as to help the Democratic party next year. Returns like these are just a little thin, but not thick enough for a Republican revolution next year or any other year."

THE Chicago Record, in an article on the foreign market for American pork says: "The fact that while the American farmers and hog raisers ship to the British market an immense proportion of the bacon consumed there they get the lowest market prices for it, has given Secretary Wilson occasion for coming out with a few suggestions to which the agriculturists of this country would do well to pay attention. Mr. Wilson is convinced that the low price paid

Believe The End of the World is Near.

Believe The End of the World is Near. A peculiar story comes from the southern part of the county which seems almost incredible, but it is vouched for as correct in detail. It is a belief prevalent there that the world is to end on the 21st of December, 12, and so strong is the belief among a certain class that farmers who inherit the same have left their corn standing in shock, and much of their other work uncompleted. As the time passes and the world does not end, the belief that it will not be needed by them or any one else. Just who is the prophet after whose predictions these deluded people are following cannot be learned.

Twenty years ago in the same community there were scores of converts to Mother Shipton's prophecies that the world would come to an end in 1870, and at that time a man by the name of Miller was so confident that the prophecy would be fulfilled that he made all preparations for the momentous event. The subject was over his talk, and he won many converts to the doctrine. For a long time he worked at work that should have been left undone, and when the expected day drew near the people gathered together in groups and prayed and preached to each other. At the time passed and the world did not end, Miller, however, did not lose his faith that the time would eventually come, and many times preached his doctrine. Others have taken up the delusion since, and now the date has been set for December 12.

Almost without exception the believers in this strange prophecy are non-church members, and some of the ideas of predictions are so absurd that many of them are intelligent and well read, being able to discuss any topic and can quote scripture with the best of theologians. And still more strange is the fact that they have the claims of their belief on facts found in the Bible, and produce texts to prove the theory. At this time there are evening gatherings at the homes of the different believers, where the one topic of conversation is the belief in the destruction of the world and in making spiritual preparation for that event by praying and praise service. All worldly subjects are treated with indifference, even to the stranger who may happen to come among them at such a time.

Men Who Run on Water. A Strange Tribe of Indians Found in Lower California. One of the strangest tribes of the world, a tribe of mystical peoples, was reported by United States Consul Hugh Long, at Nogales, Mexico, to the state department. It is the tribe which inhabits Tiburon Island, in the Gulf of California, and which recently sent Captain Porter, who fought from his boat while dying.

The Consul says the Island of Tiburon is one of the largest and most picturesque in the Gulf of California, and is peopled by the Sere Indians, who are noted for their large size and extraordinary athletic on land and water.

Those who have witnessed their aquatic sports at a respectful distance declare that many of them actually walk and run upon the water with no other assistance than broad rawhide shoes.

They are, writes the Consul, expert swimmers and hunters, having rigid ideas as to the maintenance of game preserves on their island and limiting the killing of game under severe penalties.

They destroy all children in infancy that are malformed or appear to be lacking in intelligence. In this way the standard of physical and mental conditions in both sexes is kept very high.

It is currently reported that at one time the native women were exterminated to make room for a whiter and superior race of women. The nucleus of this race of higher women was formed from captives made at various times, extending over a series of years, on land and water.

They have no schools, but each house has a system of physical training. The natives guard their day and night and no man is allowed to penetrate the island, even if he should make a landing.

It is said that no epidemics have ever prevailed on the island and disease is scarcely known among this extraordinary people, so that the men and women are magnificent in their physical endowment.

No man or woman is allowed to live beyond the age of 70 years, no matter how well preserved in body and mind. By careful selection a large percentage of the women have a transparent, peachy complexion and deep auburn hair.

Reverse the Usual Order. The usual order of things is reversed in a suit recently brought in Carrollton for breach of promise to marry. The plaintiff is John Selts, a well-to-do farmer, and the defendant is Mrs. McHugh. A little more than a year ago John McHugh, a stock buyer, was killed on the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad at Bowersdown, leaving a widow, a fertile farm and a good claim against the railroad company.

The latter was vigorously prosecuted until a settlement on a $300 basis was made. Personal charms and desirable property brought many middle-aged swains of the neighborhood to console comfort and woo the widow.

John Selts seemed to be the favored one, and his petition filed to-day finished the story. It is his belief that he and Mrs. McHugh were betrothed, and that November 14th was set for the nuptials.

He further alleges that Mrs. McHugh was very active in the annual planting herself, engaging the carpenter and accompanying the prospective groom when he brought his wedding gift.

Just two days before the date of the proposed wedding Mrs. McHugh married William McHugh, a brother of her first husband, and sent Selts a note saying that "under the circumstances she could not marry him." By reason of the heart pang and humiliation, Selts claims he has been damaged to the extent of $3000, and asks judgment.

No Trans of Andree. TROSDORF, Norway, Nov. 21.—The steamer Victoria which was fitted out by the government of Tromsøe to search for Prof. Andree, the missing arctic explorer, and which left here on November 8, has returned from Spitzbergen, bringing no news as to the whereabouts or movements of Andree, although exploring parties landed 10 times on various points on Danmarks Is.

Death Tax Victor. WAO, Mo., Nov. 19.—J. W. Harris, editor of the Wao Times-Herald, morning paper, and W. Harris, his brother-in-law, were both killed by a train on a prominent citizen, fought a duel to the death on the street to-night at 5 o'clock. W. A. Harris was shot dead; J. W. Harris was wounded fatally, his body being paralyzed and he died in the side and may die.

She Didn't Believe in Banks. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Margaret Keegan believes that banks were instituted for the purpose of swindling people out of their money, and desiring to offer you genuine new goods of a hard, quality and finish that can not be surpassed this side of the Klondike Gold Fields. You will not be required to go to the gold fields and make a fortune before buying, either. The Oaten Triumph.

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 21.—Miss Elmira McCoy, a teacher in the Clay Street school, sent three vials home to have their contents doctored, and announced that she would not use them. The vials would be permitted to remain in the room. Many and indignant protests were filed, but Miss McCoy was upheld by her principal, Prof. McClintock, and the school.

The pupils, under the leadership of a young genius, who saw an opening for an extra vacation, took the matter in hand. When school was called Friday morning McCoy's room smelled like an onion patch. One suspect was called up, convicted on the strength of his breath and sent home. The obnoxious odor still hung heavily in the room, and another suspect was called up and dismissed. Another and another followed until the pupils had been sent home.

Miss McCoy saw to what her edict was leading and repeated it, equally showed that she would not use them. Two vials were sent home, and all promised to keep up the practice until the teacher returned.

Indian Girls as Firebugs. CARLEISLE, Pa., Nov. 17.—After jeopardizing the lives of their classmates, Fannie Englehorn and Eliza Englehorn, pupils of the Carlisle Indian School, were to-day placed in the Carlisle jail. They have confessed that they lighted two fires which on Monday night had threatened the destruction of the large dormitory in which 300 girls have their rooms.

The girls say they wanted to return to their homes, but they had no money. The school in the west where the pupils burned down the buildings and escaped to their camps.

Capt. Pratt proposed to let the law take its course and the girls will be taken to the Carlisle jail.

Baked in an Oven. TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 21.—Patrick Convery, aged twenty-eight years, was taken to St. Francis' hospital yesterday, suffering from severe burns about the body, which he received in a peculiar manner.

Convery entered one of the buildings of the New Jersey steel and iron company and sought a place to sleep. He climbed into an oven leading to the recovery of the family bible of Nicholas Shultz, who formerly resided on the farm known as the "Gumbert Farm," near Willow Church, in Somerset township.

The underlined word in the above article is "bible," and it is a fact that the bible is a book which is used for religious purposes.

From Foot to Knee.

Ohio Women Suffered Great Agony From a Terrible Sore—Her Story of the Cause, and Her Cure. "For many years I was afflicted with a milk leg, and a few years ago it broke out in a sore and, from that time to this, I have suffered great agony. It would break out at all times and discharge a great deal. My health was good with the exception of this sore. I tried a great many kinds of salve, but some would stand the pain. I could not go near the fire without suffering intensely. Someone sent me papers containing testimonials of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I found my husband I would like to try this medicine. He got me a bottle and I found it helped me. I kept on taking it until my limb was completely healed. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough for the great benefit it has been to me. It has cleared the blood of all impurities and leaves it rich and pure." MRS. ANNA E. EAKIN, Whitesboro, Ohio.

You can buy Hood's Sarsaparilla of all druggists. Be sure to get only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family medicine.
