

A sharp decline in the price of silver is noted on the day that wheat advanced several cents a bushel. The relation of the exchange to the price of any commodity may be ascertained at zero.

Those of our Republican friends who were expecting Santa Claus in their Christmas stockings are now writing him letters saying they prefer something else.

EDWARD BLANKENBURG and his Business Men League have come to the aid of David Martin in the impending contest in Philadelphia. This is what every well-informed man expected.

MR. WILHELM BARBER, of Pennsylvania, will be a presidential candidate before the middle-of-the-road Populists, who expect to hold their National convention next April. It is not understood that Mr. Barber agrees to carry his own State.

REPRESENTATIVE ALEXANDER, of Washington county, this State, has introduced a bill in Congress providing for the employment of letter-carriers at a gross revenue for the preceding fiscal year of not less than $1,000.

ADmiral GENERAL MYLAN has entered the gubernatorial race, and his home-county of Lancaster is expected to endorse him. Up to this time nearly one-half of the counties in the State have trotted out Republican candidates who are ambitious to succeed Governor Hastings.

READING, Pa., will be one hundred and fifty years old in June next, and arrangements are already being made to properly celebrate the event, and the city officials of Reading, England, from which the Berks county capital took its name, have been invited to be present as the guests of honor.

SOME of the guerrilla journals, which claim to be Republican, are already threatening that unless a candidate for Governor is named who will suit them, there will be an independent candidate to defeat the regular ticket. Well, there is no law to prevent it, and it might as well come next year as any other time.

EACH country has its distinctive Christmas dishes. In America it is turkey and mince pie; in England roast beef and plum pudding; in France roast chicken and liver pudding; in Spain roast fish and almonds; in Russia roast pig with boiled wheat, and in Germany stuffed geese with chestnuts.

THE Republican campaign for municipal reform was opened in Philadelphia on Saturday night, when Senator Penrose addressed an audience of five thousand people. The Senator plainly demonstrated that the managers of the political affairs of that town, under the lead of Secretary of the Commonwealth Martin, have not been doing so solely for their health.

THE latest addition to the "sky-scraper" buildings in New York, now in course of erection, will stand twenty-seven stories high, the street, and its two towers will contain two additional stories and an observation tower over those. From the sidewalk to the bottom of the flag-pole the distance will be two hundred and ninety feet. A restaurant will occupy the twenty-sixth story.

"BLIND TOM," the phenomenal negro pianist, now over fifty years of age, is living in poverty at Rochester, N. Y., though he preserves his cheerfulness and does what he can to support himself. Tom enriched his old master, a Georgia planter, and also the planter's son, for his attachment to the family was very strong. A tenth of his earnings would have been a competency. But, unfortunately for himself, no permanent provision was made for his future.

THE Baltimore American says there has been during the last two years a very marked movement of the West to the South. Hundreds of industrious and thrifty men, after a hard and unsuccessful struggle in the West, have given it up and come to the South, to find good homes and splendid opportunities to make a living for themselves and their families. They are pleased with the change they have made, and the success of the new Maryland colonies has far exceeded even the fondest hopes of their projectors.

SECRETARY LENO, of the Navy Department, has come out flatly in favor of civil service reform, claiming that besides the relief it affords the heads of departments and members of Congress, it has resulted in vast improvement to the public service. A civil service reform law, honestly administered, is all right, but there is something radically wrong with a law that permits men to remain indefinitely in office who are confessedly unable to stand the examinations prescribed for those who seek to enter the public service.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON takes a rosy view of the situation. He was asked the other day whether he saw any improvement in the business conditions throughout the country, and promptly answered as follows: "Yes, there is a marked change in the feeling from what it was before the return of the Republican party to power. There is a much better tone, and the business interests are more confident than they have been for some time. Of course, the Christmas shopping will create a large amount of business for the time being, but there is a general improvement all along the line, and the farmer and the agriculturist now feel it the most."

THE Dingley tariff has not yet supplied the deficit which the Wilson act created. Receipts under it, however, are increasing steadily. The Dingley law went into operation here larger than in the month preceding, and, as expenditures do not increase, it is only a question of a few months, it is only a question of a few months, it is only an encouraging condition. In this of general governments should pay their way. A continuous treasury shortage is an embarrassment and a discredit for the party responsible for it. The prospect is that the present shortage which began under the late administration, will soon be abolished.

PRESIDENT'S MOTHER DEAD.

Miss at Her Death Home at 2:30 Sunday Morning.

Canton, O., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Nancy Allison McKinley, mother of President McKinley, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning. She had been ill for several weeks. The cause of her death was pneumonia. All night long the members of the family were watching and waiting for the time of dissolution. Shortly before midnight the situation discovered what was thought to be certain signs of death. The fact was communicated to the inmates of the household who had gone to their rooms but had not bed when the final summons was enacted. Mrs. McKinley and her husband, Abner McKinley, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley, children of the aged woman. The aged sister to them, Mrs. Abigail Adams, the only one of the Allison family now living; Mrs. Bowman of Loraine; the Misses Grace and Mabel McKinley; James McKinley, Miss Duncan and Jack Duncan, grand children, were in the room that witnessed the death of the gentle life. The President and his wife remained at the bedside for an hour after the end but by 4 o'clock every member of the family had retired. Mrs. McKinley was resting in a roomy cottage on West Tuscarawas street in this city, where she died, and where she had lived for many years, and was dearer to her than any other spot on earth. There she spent her declining days with her daughter Helen and her grand-children Grace and James McKinley, receiving occasional visits from her other children, seldom going out except to church where she would be met by a Sunday morning until prevented by illness.

While showing a deep affection for her other children, she had followed the career of William with pride and solicitude. This fond motherly admiration she watched him rise from the position of prosecuting attorney of his own county, by successive stages to congress, governor and finally to the presidency. During the memorable campaign last year she was the publishing department of The Hostetter Company at Pittsburgh, and will be printed in their press in English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish. All country dealers furnish it without cost.

A Singular Case.

Among the rhinoceros, good, had or indifferent, passed by the last legislature, was the following, meant to reduce the snow drift nuisance to a minimum. It provides for the removal of board fences, whereas in many sections of the country the drifting snows are held by just such fences. Here is the law:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That in all cases where any of the public highways within this commonwealth are so located as to be liable to be covered by drifts of high wind during the winter season, to be so filled with snow as to cause them to be impassable, and where in the judgment of the supervisors of roads of the several counties in which public highways are situated, such drifts of snow can be avoided by the removal of any board, rail or other fence that may be erected along either side of such public highways and replacing the same by a fence constructed of posts, wire and boards, or rail combined, it may be lawful for such supervisors to agree with the owners of such fences upon a plan for the erection of posts, wire and boards, or rail combined, and the cost of such fences shall be paid by the owners of such fences. Provided, That the wire used in the construction of such fences shall be without tangle; Provided, That this act shall not apply to any stone wall, hedge or ornamental fence that is now or may be hereafter constructed.

A Wonderful Offer.

There will be found in this issue of our paper the advertisement of The Independent, of New York, which is known throughout the length and breadth of the country as the oldest and greatest religious literary and family newspaper not only in the United States but in the world. The Independent in this advertisement makes an offer which will attract every eye and be eagerly accepted by a great many people. It offers The Independent for a year, the Century Magazine for a year, and the Century Gallery of One Hundred Portraits—the regular price of the three being $14.50—for only $7.50, a saving of $7.00. The Century Gallery of One Hundred Portraits includes the best likeness of one hundred of the most prominent people of the world whose pictures have appeared in the Century Magazine. The size of these pictures is 9x12 inches; they are put up in a handsome box and are delivered free by express. Every one is valuable for framing and would decorate the walls of any room and be very desirable for holiday gifts. Orders and remittances should be made to:

THE INDEPENDENT, 130 Fulton Street, New York.

Seven Deaths to Explain.

New York, Dec. 10.—The extraordinary career of Charles Zanolli, the barber who has had five wives, has collected insurance upon the lives of four of them, and upon the life of the mother-in-law of his first wife, upon the life of the daughter of his second wife, and finally upon his own life, burying a dead journeyman barber under the name of Zanolli, has created the most profound astonishment in New York. Zanolli's step-daughter is missing, and it was discovered today that although his fifth wife is still alive, he had made arrangements to marry a sixth woman, when his schemes were cut short by his arrest. None of his four dead wives survived their marriage to him an entire year.

This amazing swindler has been arrested upon a technical charge of forgery and larceny, but the police are working upon evidence which is expected to convict him of four or five murders, perhaps more.

CALIFORNIA.

Personally-Conducted Tour via Pennsylvania Railroad.

America is a great country. In variety and grandeur of natural scenery it is unrivaled. Its wooded heights, its fertile valleys, its rolling plains, its rugged and rocky mountains, its great lakes, its balmy shores are the admiration of all mankind. To traverse this great country, to behold its diversities and its wonders, to receive a liberal education, a revelation to the immature, a tonic to the aged, is the desire of every citizen. The Personally-Conducted Tour to California under the direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which leaves New York on January 8, 1918, affords a most excellent opportunity to view the vast variety and boundless beauty of the marvelous land. The party will travel westward in special Pullman cars in charge of a tourist agent and Chamberlain, stopping en route at Omaha, Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Garden of the Gods, Glenwood Springs, and Salt Lake City. In California visits will be made to Monterey and San Francisco, San Jose, San Diego, San Juan, Los Angeles, Santa Cruz, Riverside, Bernardino, Redlands, and Pasadena. The party will return on the "Golden Gate Special," leaving Los Angeles February 2, and stopping at Tucson, El Paso, St. Louis. Eighteen days will be spent in California. Round-trip rate, including Pennsylvania expenses during entire trip, $35 from New York. The Pennsylvania Railroad System east of Pittsburg, Pa. For itinerary and full information apply to ticket agents, or address Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

These Active Baker Heirs.

The ninth annual meeting of the North Central Ohio Association of the Jacob Baker heirs has just been concluded at the residence of Homer Lee, near Fremont.

The delegates, who were met from an Eastern investigating trip, under their report they visited Pittsburg, Harrisburg and Washington D. C., and picked up much valuable information. The report was made to the members of the State of Pennsylvania to Jacob Baker lands to the amount of 2,150 acres and 14 lots or parcels of land in the city of Philadelphia. These lands are located in the counties of Northampton, Bucks, Bradford, Berks, Luzerne and Mifflin, and are supposed to be mostly coal and timber lands. No evidence has been found as yet that this property was ever sold, decided or in any way transferred, and the supposition is, supported by an old tradition, that it was "used" for 90 years, that the leases have expired and the estate reverted to the lawful heirs. They also found where the land was located, and the location of the State of Pennsylvania for the Jacob Baker heirs when they shall have proved up.

THE HOMELEST MAN IN SOMERSET.

As well as the handsomeness, and others are invited to call on any drugist and get FREE a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy which is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 25c and 50c.

Made and in Iowa.

A case of shocking mistreatment of an insane person has been unearthed at Clinton's Hollow, Westmoreland county, by Humane Agent O'Brien. The victim of inhuman restraint is Franklin Pierce Clinton, who died at the age of 17 years, but who had been confined to an iron bar with a chain that he would not permit him to move in any direction more than six or eight feet. He is a raving maniac and during his long confinement he has been kept in a constant state of nudity in a small outhouse constructed especially for him. The room was in a filthy condition and there was not a vestige of a bed or cot.

Clinton was confined in the outhouse for his maintenance, and he will probably be taken in charge by the county authorities.

Pennsylvania Railroad Company will Issue Clerical Orders for 1918.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that the issue of clerical orders will be continued for 1918 on the same basis as in 1917.

Application blanks may be obtained of ticket agents, and same should reach the General Office by December 20, so that orders may be mailed December 31 to the various stations.

Liquor Prescription.

In his charge to the grand jury at the opening of criminal court in Fayette county, Monday, Judge Mestrest said that it had come to the notice of the court that a number of persons in this county were violating the law by selling liquor to persons who were not licensed to sell liquor.

Personnel.

William McKinley, Sr., died Nov. 18, 1892, aged 58 years.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Nancy Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Allison McKinley will be held in the First M. E. church of this city at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

SOME BERKS COUNTY DISHES.

Most of Them are Equally Well-Known in This County.

THE WRITER MAKES MANY ERRORS. And is Punished by Some Expressions Which are Merely Literal Translations From the German.

A Reading, Pa., correspondent of the Philadelphia Times writes as follows: A diamond-back terrapin is to the American gourmet, or connoisseur of the table, what the "schmitz and knupp" is to the native-born Pennsylvania German. In which—possibly in other parts—it is unlike the roach which Shakespeare tells us had intrinsic merit and which he called by any other name without losing its savouriness.

To achieve schmitz and knupp sweet apples are cut into sections and dried. They are then stewed, and to the composite are added such articles as sausage or pork of any sort, as is sometimes done in the provincial preparation of schmitz and knupp. It is doubtless less appealing to the foreign palate.

As for sauer kraut, it is simply indigestible, the well-being of the Pennsylvania German. The virtues of this item for the debilitation of the inner man have been so generally recognized that it has been freely adopted almost everywhere, and is now being sold in every form. A scientific German touch to this very savory preparation, however, is the dumplings, which are made of milk, eggs and flour, and added at the last moments of cooking, when are also added some Frankfurt sausage. Of the proportion of beer to sauer kraut essential to a well-regulated Pennsylvania-German banquet of this description, perhaps the least said is the soonest.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

For the well-being of the Pennsylvania German, it is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else. It is better to eat sauer kraut than to eat anything else.

A GOOD RIDDANCE.

Superintendent H. Hutchinson, of Irwin, Pa., Ejects an Undesirable Tenant.

There is a great deal of truth in the tale told about evictions in Ireland and the middle part of the present century. It is a hardship for any family to be evicted from their home, and with annual friends or wealth, half-faunted and half-alarmed, but such evictions are not infrequently resorted to by the British Isles. Scarcely a day passes in free America without some case of evictions to lavish it at home. Superintendent H. Hutchinson, of Irwin, Pa., has evicted a family from a house in Irwin, Pa., which was a nuisance to the neighborhood. The house was a nuisance to the neighborhood, and the family was evicted from the house. The house was a nuisance to the neighborhood, and the family was evicted from the house.

A strange wedding party assembled in Philadelphia on Wednesday night, when more than one-half of the 100 guests were unable to speak a word or hear a sound, to witness the nuptials of C. W. Westhouse and Miss Hannah Laird, both of whom are deaf mutes. The ceremony was performed in the sign language, and the responses were made by the principals in the same way.

All of the Kentucky Colonels and all of the blue grass society boys are in a turmoil as to whether Miss Harriet Richardson or Miss Bradley, daughter of the Earl of Pembroke, shall have the honor of breaking the bottle of champagne at the christening of the new battleship "Kentucky." Miss Richardson declares that she was invited to perform the duty by Secretary Harbo, meanwhile the Governor has designated his daughter. Both sides have presented their views to the public through the papers.

Because her 15-year-old son refused to break stones on the stone pile conducted by the Poor Board of Williamsport, Pa., for which they pay laborers $1 per day, 90-year-old Agnes Boatman took her son's place on the pile with a score of women and children. The woman was so weak she could work no longer. The foreman of the laborers attempted to disburse the woman from going to work, but she said she wanted to shame her son.

Nathan Ware of Smyrna, Del., is alleged to have gone to the graveyard and tore up the tombstone of his wife and her grave, throwing it out in the road. The explanation given for his conduct is that he had long been displeased with the inscription upon the tombstone, which read that his wife was resting in heaven. The trustees claim his conduct was disorderly. It was his first wife's tombstone and was erected by her sisters.

The next Pennsylvania legislature should pass a law giving county commissioners the power to establish training schools for election boards. Clearfield county is not an exception. We know, but some of the returns made to our civiled elections held are a disgrace to a civilized community. Men who can barely write their names, sit on election boards and others who have as little as possible about our laws are chosen as judges, and these men pass upon the qualifications of voters. As long as election officers are chosen without regard to fitness, the only remedy is to establish training schools.—Clearfield Republican.

THE WORKERS' in a new field—Walling A. Wyckoff, the college man who became a laborer, will tell about his experiences with great-soul laborers and anarchists in Chicago. (Illustrated from life by W. R. Leigh.)

THE THEATRE, THE MINE, etc., will be treated in "The Conduct of Great Britain" series (as were "The Wheat Farm," "The Newspaper," etc., in 97), with numerous illustrations.

LIFE AT GIRLS' COLLEGES—like the articles on "Undergraduate Life at Harvard, Princeton and Yale" and as richly illustrated.

POLITICAL REMINISCENCES by Seton—Hear, who has been in public life for forty-five years.

C. D. GIBSON will contribute two serials of drawings during '98, "A New York Day," and "The Seven Ages of American Woman."

The full program for '98 is small book form (24 pages), printed in two colors, with numerous illustrations (cover and decorations by H. M. P. Smith), will be sent upon application, postage paid.

Price, $3.00 a year, 25 cents a number. CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, NEW YORK.

Those Dreadful Sores.

They Continued to Spread in Spite of Treatment but Now They are Healed—A Wonderful Work.

"For many years I have been a great sufferer with various sores on one of my limbs. My foot and limb became dreadfully swollen. I tried every remedy, but the sores continued to spread and I was unable to walk. I was told that Hood's Sarsaparilla would cure me, and I began taking it. In a short time the sores healed and I was able to walk again. I am now completely healed and the sores have never more. I cannot be too thankful for the wonderful work Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me." Max A. E. Chase, Hartland, Vermont.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

They tell you in Berks that a thing was "cooked" when it was taken away, for which there would appear to be no explanation beyond a lack of discrimination in the selection of words.

Autumn Bicycling.

with the wine colored leaves overhead, the crisp brown ones beneath, and yourself spinning merrily along on a Columbia over the frost bitten roads is the kind of bicycling that puts new blood in your veins.

with the wine colored leaves overhead, the crisp brown ones beneath, and yourself spinning merrily along on a Columbia over the frost bitten roads is the kind of bicycling that