

The Somerset Herald. December 15, 1937. GEORGE H. SCULL, Editor. President Krebs, of the Lanes Mining Company, is in Baltimore. Lawyer H. S. Eubley, of Johnston, was in attendance at Court yesterday. Dr. Bergstrom, pastor of the Rockwood Lutheran Church, is critically ill. James B. Taylor, the well known lumber and charcoal dealer in this place, has been confined to his home for the past ten days by sickness. Henry Herring, of Princeton county, West Va., has been spending a week with J. C. Foster and other relatives in Somerset township. Mollie Rosen, who returned to her home in Charleroi, after visiting with friends in this place, and whose absence her parents almost dreaded, is reported to have married in a Pittsburgh. Mr. George Kruger, general superintendent of the Markleton Lumber Company, in Upper Turkeyfoot township, is a patient at the Markleton Sanatorium, he having been the victim of an accident, while he was visiting in this place, as his toes were frozen by the cold weather. The venerable Dr. Joseph Covoda, of Jonestown, who has been suffering for several months with catarrh on both eyes, which promises to result in total blindness unless he is successfully treated, was left for Pittsburgh last Tuesday where he will undergo a surgical operation. A correspondent from Beason borough has this to say of Miss Linda Baker, daughter of Mr. Sheriff G. D. Bolding in a recent issue of the Johnstonian. Miss Linda Baker, teacher of our primary school, has made quite a "hit" on the directors of the borough. They were all very complimentary in their remarks, which every parent sees in the education of the children. The Disciple Church was crowded last morning and evening services on Sunday when Elder Ira Kimmel, of Roanoke, Va., was the guest of honor in the church, and delivered two scholarly addresses. This was the first time Elder Kimmel has appeared before an audience composed entirely of friends of his boyhood, and the impression he created was a lasting one. Mr. Howard Millon Pickling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Pickling, of this place, and Miss Mollie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Davis, were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. O. K. Kozicki, in this place, on Tuesday evening, December 14th, Rev. W. A. Shipman officiating. "Mollie" has been employed in one of the Cambria Iron Company's works for several months past. Mr. Charles Daniel Schell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schell, formerly of this place, and Miss Mollie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Davis, were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. O. K. Kozicki, in this place, on Tuesday evening, December 14th, Rev. W. A. Shipman officiating. "Mollie" has been employed in one of the Cambria Iron Company's works for several months past. NOT A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH. Mesquite Wrote Not at Law the Christian Year Case. The Meyersdale Commercial reproduced the article written for the Herald two weeks ago relating to the case in which appointed to inquire into the mental responsibility of Christian Yoder, of Elk Lick township. The facts set forth in regard to the elder Yoder's church relationship were given essentially as told by the gentleman. Now comes Mr. C. J. Yoder, Jr., of Elk Lick township, who writes as follows in the Commercial: "The good old gentleman, Christian Yoder, Sr., positively is not a member of the Mennonite church or a branch thereof. It was dissolved in 1883, for misconduct. I will not discuss in here, but I will still wear the uniform and is thereby intruding on the branch of the Mennonite church, (called Amaly) he formerly belonged to, by still wearing the uniform and thereby making the use of the name of the Mennonite church, and that he will uphold his former faith by his outwardly appearance. The cases are rare, if any, in the history of the church, that two brethren belonging to the Mennonite church, or a branch thereof, would go to court to settle any disputes in any way, shape or form. They would settle disputes and the only way they would do it is by the mediation of Christ. (members in good standing) or in the congregation, such as the case may be. But after a member is dismissed for some time, and makes an effort to rejoin, and is better able and able again with the church, he is no more a member of the Mennonite church or a branch thereof, than Charles Lewis or any other of similar character. Therefore, Eli Yoder had a right to go to court with his father under the circumstances, but still it would have been more brotherly-like could it have settled it outside of court. It was the weight of the case, Mr. Yoder's and know him for many years and know just what I am talking about, and an easy to substantiate every word to the trial I write on this topic."

TRAY GRAY! TRY GRAY! Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAY-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may love it with you as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAY-O has that rich sleek brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomachic coffee is without artificial coloring or preservatives. 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers. Christmas Mail. Snyder's Art Store will have a large supply of fresh food for Christmas decorations. Leave your orders now as there is always a great demand for it just before the holidays. A Progressive Business Firm. The ever increasing volume of business done by the well-known firm of Cook & Bertrics has necessitated the erection of a large warehouse, opened last week, one square block from Snyder's Art Store. The three-story brick building, 42,500 is one of the most substantially constructed and best equipped warehouses to be found in western Pennsylvania, and all ready for the reception of a large volume of business. The structure was erected with a view to rendering it fire proof, the doors and windows being shielded by iron shutters. In the cemented cellar, where potatoes and other vegetables are stored, an O'Donnell hydraulic elevator has been placed, capable of hoisting several thousand pounds of grain or other merchandise to the floors above. A hooper capable of holding 200 bushels of grain, and moving about on a truck, enables the warehouseman to load or unload a car of grain in less than ten minutes. It would have been done by six men. On the first floor ten or twelve cars of grain may be stored, and a number of flour and feed, are now stored, and floor space enough remains in the building to store from 125 to 150 additional car loads. The second and third floors will be devoted to storing grain and corn, which will be loaded on the cars by a system of chutes. On the first floor a well arranged office has been fitted up for the use of the warehouseman. William Snyder, president of the firm, is located immediately outside the door of the receiving door and the other on the first floor of the building, convenient for the reception of goods from cars and the delivery of goods to the consignees that can be desired in this respect. Inside of the next ten days a telephone connecting the business office of the firm with the warehouse will be in operation. The building is slate roofed and will be illuminated by electricity. In addition to the warehouse mentioned, Messrs. Cook & Bertrics have a large and commodious building, devoted exclusively to storing merchandise, adjoining their store, but the capacity has been overtaxed for a number of years past. The new building, in addition to supplying them with much needed facilities for transacting their large business, will save the rehanging of goods and expense of draying. The great success that has attended this enterprising firm is a matter of pride to the people of Somerset county, who are justly proud of every legitimate business that tends to develop local commerce, and to bring us in closer contact with commercial centers. During the past two or three years Mr. Robert Bertrics, son of the junior partner, has taken an active part in conducting the affairs of the firm. New Switches Placed. Connections have been made to the new warehouse of W. K. Gillespie, wholesale grocer, now at High street and Pine, in this place. By this means, when occupied, the new house, Duquesne Way and 9th St., will afford the greatest facility for the handling of an immense business. Well Closed Out of This County. "You said that wolves were extinct in Pennsylvania, and you wouldn't pay me $10 bounty for the scalp I sent you, so here's the whole lot of a gray rascal that came over into Pennsylvania from West Virginia and got caught by monkeying with my bear trap," said a weary party started out to solve the mystery surrounding his disappearance. The solution came in the finding of Gordon unconscious and almost dead, his foot clamped in a heavy log. He had apparently inserted his foot with my bear trap, which had been driven into the log, and was unable to extricate it. Held thus in the immovable log, he remained in the woods two days and two nights. He regained consciousness after being removed to his home, but cannot live. Chesnut Hanging on Record. For his services in hanging wire murderer Herman Paul Schultz, Sheriff Conrad P. Pile was awarded $100 by the county commissioners, who in turn referred that sum for the body for the dissecting table. The attorney who defended Schultz got nothing for his services, while a salary of $100 was paid in fees of the case. The Commissioners requested the Sheriff to have the dog weight used at the hanging made of lead. The object was to sell hanks of lead to the county, which was a very small expense attached to the hanging. Sheriff put his foot down on such a scheme and had the weight made of iron. $1,000,000 Life Insurance. George W. Vanderlief, the youngest son of the late W. H. Vanderlief, has recently taken out a policy for $1,000,000 life insurance, the largest policy ever written. Under the conditions of his father's will the $2,000,000 will be given to the other members of the family in case he dies without issue. George W. is a bachelor, 40 years of age, and it is said that he wishes to bequest $1,000,000 for a special purpose, which the insurance policy will permit him to do. The policy is a 20 year life, the annual premium being $55.00. Snyder's Art Store.
