> An unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the covered bridge spanning Quemahoning creek, a short distance south of Jenners, at an early hour last Tuesday night. A space about 8x10 feet was burned out of the side of the bridge when the flames were discovered by George Roush, who lives close by, and who saved the bridge from destruction. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the deed and the only motive assigned for their conduct is pure devilishness.

Month of January.

Christmas is over; the hubbub and hurry of that busy season is past; the season upon which we are now entering is by most stores considered a dull one. We have fully determined to make it in reality the "Red Letter" month of the whole year.

A General Marking Down of Staple Merchandise is felt at our Store this week. NO HEED TO FORMER PRICES.

WE have gone through the house from top to bottom marking down goods with a resolution that few dare attempt. The next thirty days will bring a great turning over of stock-a general upheaval of values-" a room making " sale to thoroughly clear our stock preparatory to our inventory.

SALE THAT WILL BE MEMORABLE
