

EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY, January 12, 1898.

No. 1789. There's nothing the matter with Hanna!

SENATOR HANNA is entitled to the admiration of the whole country for the bolters he has made.

THE readiness of a renegade Republican State Chairman for a deal with Democrats is instructively illustrated in Ohio.

SENATOR HANNA is one of the few senatorial candidates of last year who went squarely before the people and was approved.

CONGRESS is now fairly settled down to work in the first regular session. Its action will be followed closely and hopefully by the people.

THE battle for supremacy of the powers in China has changed its weapons from guns to cash. This is the real and most effective ammunition in all modern warfare.

IF United States Senators were elected by the people Senator Hanna would be all right. His candidacy was in the Republican platform, and the voters of Ohio approved it.

EX-CONGRESSMAN FREDERICK C. LEONARD has been appointed United States Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania. Somerset County is embraced in this district.

THE kickers and bolters in the Ohio Legislature, as is customary with such gentry, made a sorry mess of it. It was apparently for just such a game that your Uncle Hanna was loosed.

THE Government has received over fifty million dollars for a railroad, in the face of the prediction that it would never get a cent. The estimate of some people have a shaky foundation.

THE new year starts off with more institutions running to their full capacity than was the case twelve months ago, which proves that the McKinley administration is not only on time, but up to date.

REPRESENTATIVE PEARSON, of North Carolina, has declined to accept the extra mileage voted the other day on account of the extra session. He will get himself disliked by the other Congressmen.

SECRETARY SHERMAN says he can not recall any previous instance of a deal between the Republicans and Democrats in Ohio. It is earnestly hoped that the example presented may be the last as well as the first.

CONGRESSMAN ARNOLD, of Clearfield, says that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, but will aim lower. He will be a candidate for the nomination of Congressman-at-Large to succeed Gahisha A. Grow.

THE late returns from Boston show that John L. Sullivan received ten votes for Mayor. As John was not a candidate, this unattractive desire to vote for him leads to the belief that, had he formally entered the field, he might have won out.

HON. HENRY K. BOYER, Speaker of the House of Representatives in this State, has been appointed Superintendent of the United States Mint at Philadelphia, and it is generally conceded that the President has made a wise and popular selection.

THREE currency bills have already been introduced in Congress, but there is little disposition to deal with the question. It is a subject that almost any statesman hesitates to grapple with unless he has decided a great deal of time and attention to its study.

ONE reason why 1898 is going to be a better business year than 1897 was that that everybody thinks it will be. The immediate outlook is much brighter now than it was twelve months ago, and the general opinion is that it will be still brighter six months hence. There is no room for pessimists in this country these days.

SOMERSET County's Board of Directors of the Poor received a valuable accession when Mr. Maudslayi Shoenaker was sworn into office. He is one of the county's best and most progressive citizens, and a very popular one. We venture the prediction that, as long as Mr. Shoenaker is a member of the Poor Board, the affairs pertaining to that office will be honestly, intelligently and economically managed.

THE Indianapolis Journal says that it appears that a woman who was once the wife of a regular army officer who died years ago without a pension has married twice since the death of her first husband, but as the wife of the third is drawing a pension which has already yielded her $5,000. Cases like this afford the opponents of a liberal system of pensions ready weapons for attack.

This session of Congress may or may not be a long one, but it seems safe to predict that Hawaii will be American territory before it ends. Undoubtedly the annexation project is stronger now than it was a month ago, when Congress convened. The land grabbing in China, and the disposition of Germany and some of the other European countries to pick up all the territory not appropriated by some other powerful nation, has raised up many new friends for Hawaiian annexation.

THE compulsory education law went into effect on the first of the year. A circular issued by the School Department says: "After January 1, 1898, no child under the age of sixteen years employed in any manufacturing establishment or mercantile industry must be able to read and write the English language or possess a certificate of having attended during the preceding year an evening or day school for a period of sixteen weeks duly signed by the teacher or teachers of the school which said minor attended." The compulsory attendance law compels all unemancipated children under sixteen to attend school, but exempts from attendance those who are engaged in some useful employment or service.

ON JANUARY 12 the Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette mailed a letter to editors of Republican papers in every county in the State asking their views as to the choice of the Republican voters of their respective counties for Governor.

DURRANT HANDED!

California Murderer Goes Upon the Gallows.

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., January 7.—When William Henry Durrant died on the gallows this morning for the murder of Blanche Lamont, he got the exhibition of coolness and nerve such as has seldom been seen under similar circumstances. Hopeful almost to the very last minute that something would intervene to save him, he walked to the scaffold and made a speech protesting his innocence, as calmly and with as distinct enunciation as if he had been addressing an assemblage of friends upon some ordinary topic. His face was pale, his eyes were red, but his voice was firm, and he stood as solidly as a rock while he proclaimed his innocence and professed forgiveness to those who, he said, had hounded him to death.

There was not a hitch or accident to mar the plans of Warden Hale in carrying out the sentence. The noose was adjusted the trap was sprung, the stout rope held, and Durrant's dead body dangled at the end. The neck was broken by the fall of four feet, and five minutes later the murderer's body was cut down and placed in the coffin.

Consistent to the end, Durrant died professing religion. But he died accepting of the last moment the comforts of the Catholic church, instead of those of the Baptist faith, in which he was reared. Rev. Hader, a Protestant minister, had arranged to ascend the scaffold with Durrant, but the minister would not say that he thought Durrant innocent, and the condemned man declined his services unless he professed belief in his innocency.

As the hour of the execution approached the prisoner became somewhat restless. His father and mother were admitted to bid him a last farewell. The older Durrant grasped his son by the hand and the younger man then turned to comfort his mother, who cried hysterically. Durrant embraced her tenderly, and saying, "The hour has come for me to go," put her gently away.

The mother was led to a private room, where she remained until after the execution. The father, however, went to the execution room, and, supported by two friends, saw his son meet death.

While Durrant was convicted of but one murder under the law, he was held responsible by public opinion for the murder of both Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams, and it is felt that death expiates one crime as much as the other.

Durrant had been a prominent member of the Emanuel Baptist Church for several years, and for a year previously he had been assistant superintendent of the Sunday School. In this capacity he made the acquaintance of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams. Blanche Lamont disappeared April 23, 1896, and was never seen alive afterward. She was found in the house of her aunt, Mrs. C. G. Noble, on that day to go to school.

Many members of Emanuel Church assisted in the search for the missing girl, and among others was Theodor G. G. Ten days had passed since Miss Lamont disappeared and her friends had almost given up hope of ever knowing her fate, when a discovery was made which led to the finding of Miss Lamont's body. The bodies of Emanuel Church were decorating the edifice preparatory to the celebration of the Easter Sunday services, when the mangled body of Minnie Williams was found, almost hidden in a bush. A number of ugly knife wounds and some rags that had been forced down the young woman's throat told of the unequal struggle she had made to protect her honor.

From some of the young woman's friends it was learned that she had been seen the evening before with Durrant. Durrant was arrested the following afternoon. From the first the police associated the finding of Miss Williams' body with the disappearance of Miss Lamont, and a search was at once begun in the church for her body. At 10 o'clock Sunday morning the body of Miss Lamont was found. A broken door knob and a turned bolt excited the suspicions of the searchers, and the door leading to the belfry of the church was broken down.

At the third landing, lying in the corner of the belfry, the body of the murdered girl was found. The imprint of five fingers buried in her throat revealed the manner in which the young woman met her death. The post-mortem examination showed that she was not the only crime that had been committed. The evidence against Durrant accumulated rapidly, and on April 21st an information was filed against him by District Attorney Barnes, charging with the murder of Blanche Lamont.

The trial, which began on July 22nd and lasted until November 1st, was one of the most celebrated in criminal jurisprudence.

FLICKY WOMAN BEATS A TRAMP.

COLUMBIANA, Pa., January 8.—Single-limbed, Mrs. Abraham Foreman beat a tramp who became offensive in her kitchen because she would not give him a drink of liquor. With a piece of brass that lay conveniently near, she struck him down and before he could rise she procured a pistol and would have shot the tramp had he not begged piteously for mercy. He left the house at the muzzle of the revolver, bleeding from a half-dozen wounds.

THE HONELIQUER IN SOMERSET.

As well as the hundred, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get FREE a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 50c and 50c.

A Partisan Testator.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 6.—A remarkable will is being contested in the Courts of Bradford County. George W. Wilcox left each of his grandchildren $10,000, with the provision that the money was to be given to the Democratic party during his life. Failing, the money was to go to the Democratic National Committee. One thousand dollars was left to the granddaughters, and the other three hundred dollars was divided among his grandsons.

REHEMANT CURED IN A DAY.

"Mya's Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 2 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 7c each. Sold at Benford's Drug Store, Somerset, Pa.

Taxes and Timber.

The last Legislature passed the following act which is of importance to many of our readers: "That in consideration of the public benefit to be derived from the retention of forests or timber trees, the owner or owners of land in this Commonwealth, having on it forests or timber trees, shall, on making due proof thereof, be entitled to receive annually from the commissioners of the revenue a sum of money, the amount of which is as follows: For land containing more than ten acres, a sum of fifty cents per acre; provided, however, that no one property owner shall be entitled to receive said sum on more than fifty acres."

HANNA WINS BY ONE VOTE.

Buckeye Republicans Deal a Death Blow to Party Disorganizers.

RESULT RECEIVED WITH SATISFACTION THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

A feeling of satisfaction was felt by Republicans throughout the United States yesterday afternoon, when the telegraph ticked the welcome news that the Ohio legislature had declared for Mark A. Hanna for United States Senator, for the short and the long term.

In the House the 53 representatives who had stood by Boxwell for Speaker were loyal in their support of Hanna. To this number were added the votes of Mansell, Griffith and Joyce, who joined in with the combine in effecting the organization of the House last Wednesday, but afterwards declared for Hanna, making his vote the deciding vote. In the Senate, making a total vote of 71, a majority of one on joint ballot for Senator Hanna.

The Senate and House will meet in joint session Monday when Mr. Hanna will be regularly elected, he having failed to receive a majority of the votes cast in the Senate yesterday.

Columbus has been in a state of wild excitement ever since Mr. Hanna was elected. Hanna managers realized that they had a hard road to travel, but with the sublime courage that attended him throughout the late presidential campaign and inspired Republicans throughout the land, Senator Hanna remained upon the ground and personally directed his own campaign. Ex-Senate Chairman Kurtz, growing out of the late presidential election, when he was accused of directing the points of the campaign funds to his personal use, and thought that Chairman Hanna did not refute the allegation as promptly as he should have done, although it afterwards appeared that Hanna was innocent of the charges and hastened to remove the stain as soon as he learned of it, led the battle against Hanna. Kurtz entered into an unwholesome alliance with the Democrats and the Republicans of the State, and both branches of the legislature, but he was unable to keep his followers in line, after their conduct became known throughout the state and the people called upon them as their representatives to respect their wishes or resign their official positions.

Charges and counter charges of bribery and corruption were indulged in, but to the credit of Senator Hanna, it must be said that he did not stoop to the level of those beneath his notice, and personally refused to reply to any of them.

All of the Buckeye leaders at Washington were summoned to Columbus where they labored over the small divisions of the legislature to keep their pledge to the people who had elected them and keep Ohio in the Republican column. High state officials resigned their positions rather than serve under Governor Hishelwood, who had appointed them as both organizers and aided and abetted them in their alliance with the Democrats.

The Chairman of the State Committee held a mass meeting in the fields, orchard, gardens and barns of the farmers' kids Mr. Hamilton, and called attention to his improved and more economical method; point out defects in practice, and the necessity of their united action in meeting and surmounting their difficulties. This system should continue for eight or nine months of the year, from spring until winter, and when winter comes an advertiser for an institute for each county to last for one or two months, taking turns of lecturers should be present, whole corps of instructors and ex-organizers as soon as an instructor has finished with an asher who will take up a different county, so that the same day in operation at the same time in different counties, thus keeping the entire force engaged, the entire program to be previously arranged so as to comprise a thorough and a perfect course of instruction for the entire state.

TRY GRAIN-O! TRY GRAIN-O!

Ask your Grocer to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children you drink it without injury as well as the stock raiser, so why not try it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach reprover without distress. 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

HERIC FURST OF THIEVES.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 8.—Charles and David Sentman and John and David Houser, long suspected of robbing chickens, were arrested today at the instance of H. M. Hehn, a young farmer, who last night detained the quartet plundering a hen roost. Hehn suspected them and, seeing them driven out last night, followed their wagon. That they might not hear his footsteps he removed his shoes and in his stocking feet kept them in view for four miles.

QUAY'S ESTIMATE OF MCKINLEY.

Senator Quay has been quoted as saying that President McKinley was the first President since Lincoln who had not ceased to be a politician when he became President.

What I did say," said the Senator to a Dispatch correspondent to-night, "was that President McKinley is one of the few Presidents since Lincoln who, in becoming President, has not forgotten his political obligations. From my standpoint this put the President on a much broader platform.

Senator Quay has been quoted as saying that President McKinley was the first President since Lincoln who had not ceased to be a politician when he became President.

What I did say," said the Senator to a Dispatch correspondent to-night, "was that President McKinley is one of the few Presidents since Lincoln who, in becoming President, has not forgotten his political obligations. From my standpoint this put the President on a much broader platform.

Senator Quay has been quoted as saying that President McKinley was the first President since Lincoln who had not ceased to be a politician when he became President.

What I did say," said the Senator to a Dispatch correspondent to-night, "was that President McKinley is one of the few Presidents since Lincoln who, in becoming President, has not forgotten his political obligations. From my standpoint this put the President on a much broader platform.

Senator Quay has been quoted as saying that President McKinley was the first President since Lincoln who had not ceased to be a politician when he became President.

What I did say," said the Senator to a Dispatch correspondent to-night, "was that President McKinley is one of the few Presidents since Lincoln who, in becoming President, has not forgotten his political obligations. From my standpoint this put the President on a much broader platform.

Senator Quay has been quoted as saying that President McKinley was the first President since Lincoln who had not ceased to be a politician when he became President.

What I did say," said the Senator to a Dispatch correspondent to-night, "was that President McKinley is one of the few Presidents since Lincoln who, in becoming President, has not forgotten his political obligations. From my standpoint this put the President on a much broader platform.

A MECHANIC'S VIEWS.

On the Most Important Local Question We Have at Present to Discuss.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

Opinions expressed publicly throughout this newspaper by people in the common walks of life who live in some distant State are almost always attached to opinions held by residents of the Western part of Pennsylvania. The editor has been almost a constant witness to them which he is about in the latter. To put it plainly, the reader would be surprised to find that the editor of a living in Greensburg, Pa., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Greensburg editor, conversely, the experience which follows can hardly be depended upon. Mr. Amos Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true. Mr. Eisenbach, better known as the editor of the Greensburg News, has written me that he is in doubt about his statement, and ask him if it is not true.

QUEEN OF CINDERELLA RANGE.

THE MOST CAREFUL

Attention, and the best of many years experience are given to the manufacturer of the QUEEN OF CINDERELLA RANGE. There are made to meet the exact wants of the housekeeper at a moderate cost. An excellent range, perfect, complete, and contains everything that experience has demonstrated to be an improvement. Made in one grade, the best. Best quality of material and workmanship. If you want a perfect stove without paying too much, get the QUEEN OF CINDER