MOST SUCCESSFUL SESSION YET HELD Every session of the Farmers' Institute held last week was attended by hundreds of wide-awake farmers and farmers' wives and daughters, all of whom were intensely interested in the proceedings. The program was complete in every respect and diversified enough to entertain all who attended, no matter whether they were interested in chemistry of the soll, contagious diseases of animals, computation of rations, rural architecture, the reproduction of plants, or kindred sub-perience in different lines of agriculture.
