The other day there were found in one of these tanks, clinging to the ulva, two decorators, which were supplied, as usual, by placing their food in the water where they would be sure to get it. Being somewhat pressed for time that day, however, the man who fed them did not wait to see the crabs actually eat. He placed their food within reach and trusted them to do the rest.

But glancing in at this tank on his return from feeding the small fishes and things in the other balanced tanks he saw the two decorators that he had found on the ulva still there and in precisely the same attitudes as before, and then he realized that they were not live crabs, but sheddings. He had been feeding empty shells. ## Croquettes

The secret of having croquettes firm, lies in their being mixed for a long time. The ment should be chopped very fine after being freed from all fat and gristle, and about a half pint of milk allowed to each pint of meat. The milk should be put over the fire while a tadespoonful of butter and 2 tablespoon fals of flour are rabbed together. The bot milk is then added, and the whole cooked to a thick, smooth paste. Meantime, to a pint of chopped meat is added a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste, the grated rind of a lemon, and a teaspoonful of onion juice, if that is liked, or some cooks simply rub a halved onion over the mixing bowl. The sensoned meat is then stirred into the pasts and the whole turned out to cool. The ment should be allowed to stand for at least 2 hours be fore it is molded into croquettes. Dip first in eggs, then in bread crambs, and fry in smoking hot fat. Powdered shredded biscuits will be found a pleasant variety to the brend crumbs. It is a caution, by the way, in the use of these hiscorits, where bread crumbs are required, that they are very unsuccessful in escalloped tomatoes. They are too starchy, evidently, to be of use there, and they form a gummy mass that is not appetizing.-New York Post.

Simple Ruby Lamp

Secure an ordinary quart size red Rhine wine bottle and by gently tapping on the bottom thereof Lreak out enough glass to allow the insertion of a caudle. A hammer can be used for this purpose, if a little care be taken. Then wrap a piece of ruby paper all around the bottle, securing same by paste or mucilage. The lamp is now ready for use, and by standing the bottle on a triangle of burned matches and lighting the candle, will burn without any trimming of wick and other oil lamp inconveniences.
