R. M. LINTON DEAD.

Succumbed to Disease Contracted in a Military Camp at Lexington, Ky. OTHER RECENT DEATHS.

Reuben McDowall Linton died at 4 clock yesterday morning at his apartents in the Lutheran parsonage, on Inion street. He was First Sergeant of ompany I, Fifth Panusylvania Volunteers and, although he did not have an opportunity to participate in battle, he nevertheless gave his life to his country. Sergeant Linton contracted a heavy cold while in the military camp at Lexington Ky., and was on the invalid list when his nmand was furloughed and returned years of age and always enjoyed splendid home prior to being mustered out of the army on November 9th. He was one of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cochrane, of fifty members of Company I who took Uniontown, spent Sanday with the lat- part in the Peace Jubilee parade in the city of Philadelphia, in October, where he was thoroughly drenched by a cold rain. The drenching and exposure he endured at that time aggravated the bronchial trouble from which he was suffering and had much to do with deloping the disease resulting in his death. On Thanksgiving-day night be was seized with a violent hemorrhage from the lungs; the hemorrhages recurring at frequent intervals rapidly sapped away his vitality and for weeks he had barely the strength to raise his head rom his pillow. In December he was emoved to the home of his mother in ohnstown, and later to the Memorial Hospital in that city. At his urgent reuest he was brought back to Somewet ne day last week, where he hoped his health might improve, and if not that he might die in his adopted town. Sergeant Linton was a general favorite with the members of Company I and with the entire Fifth Regiment, his cheerful dissition and zealcusness to provide for the comfort of his comrades endearing him to all. Reuben McDowell Linton was a son of town, and was born on April 6, 1862. He apparently a great deal more, by the office, but abandoned the study of the Teachers' Salaries. From the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Representative Hoskins, of Erie county as introduced a bill providing for the levy and collection of a two-mill tax on real estate, the proceeds to be returned to the school districts of the State in direct proportion to the number of teachers imployed for an annual term, not less than seven and one-half months. The purpose of this bill is to improve the schools by increasing teachers' salares. Pennsylvania, although one of the ichest states in the Union, ranks low educationally, the average of teachers salarles being lower than in a large number wages of teachers of Pennsylvania is only $315.71 per year and slowly falling. Many listricts pay wages which are absurdly low. West Shenango district, Crawford county, paid, according to the last pubished State report, $502.90, to six men achers, an average of $83.831 to a teacher

Middleton district, Susquehanna conn ty, did slightly better. It paid $891 for ten teachers, two men and eight women, paying each $89.10. Preston district, Wayne county, paid a man teacher $01 for a year's services. Here are seventeen teachers in the State getting less than $100 a year.

There are 1,270 teachers in the State who get from $100 to $150 per year, the average being about $125, while 6,653 get less than $300, averaging perhaps $100. Surely the great "Imperial Common wealth," as the Baltimore American calls her school teachers. The children have a right to be taught by better paid teachers, and the Hoskins school tax bill will provide better teachers by securing a higher average rate of wages, and it will especially increase the rate of wages paid in the poorer districts.

Claims for 21,000,000.

The Department of State has received daims to the amount of $21,000,000 on ac ount of property distroyed in Cuba be longing to American citizens, and also on ecount of injuries sustained by citizens, for which pecuniary indemnity is sought. The peace treaty expressly provided that the United States and Spain each should sume liability for all such claims preferred by their respective citizens. There fore, the United States Government Is probably chargeable for all the damages ustained by Americans through property destroyed in Cuba, by either the insurgents or the Spanish, and in the case of some plantations owned by American tizens these losser were very heavy.

Congress made no provision for the ettlement of these claims, so the State Department is at present unable to do gore than to file them. It is the purpose of the department, when Congress meets again, to call attention to the treaty obigations assumed by the United States toward these claimants, and to suggest that some means of settlement be provided, either through a commission or by reference to the Court of Claims.

A SMOKELESS COAL.

Discovery in Somerest County That is Expected to Help Selve a Pittsburg

Smokeless coal is the latest suggestle for the solution of the smoke nuisance It is an entirely new proposition, and a est, which will be made next Monday or Tuesday, is anxiously awaited. Edward Fisher, of 425 Fourth ave, brings forward the new scheme, and Director E. M. Bigelaw, of the Department of Public Works, and Chief Smoke Inspector James J. Brennan have been invited to be present at the test. A new coal has been disovered in Somerset county, Pa., which is believed will clear up the whole smoke mince. It is said to be on a par with the New River, West Virginia, coal. A comparison of analyses with the Pittsburgh coal, it is said, shows the saying of fuel and the reduction of smoke to a surprising degree when New River shows even a better analysis than the New River, it is said. A test will be made to-morrow in the new coal fields, showing a complete analysis of composi tion of the fuel. The new coal can be delivered to con-somers in the city of Pittsburgh at $2 a ion, as against $1.50 for the Pittaburgh coal. Four or five business concerns in the downtown district, against whom rosecutions have been commenced by the Department of Public Works to abate the smoke nuisance, are said to have decided to give the new coal a test, and if recessful adopt it.

In addition to Director E. M. Bigelow, nspector James J. Brennan and other city officials who have been invited to be present at the test on Monday, will be James S. Doe, a Hocking Valley, O., coal expert, who thinks the Somerset county people have a bonanza in their new discovery .- Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph,

The coal referred to above is the Listie yein, which was first called to the attention of Pittsburg consumers by the Miners' Supply Company, of that city. During the great strike two years ago the Listie Company furnished a lot of coal to the Miners Supply Company, and the result is best explained by the company's general agent, Mr. Phillips.

The Listie Company had ordered a lot of supplies from the Miners' Supply Company, who were unable to fill the order, owing to a lack of fuel. When this fact was communicated to the Listie people, President Krebs shipped a carload of coal to the Supply Company. "As soon as the al was received," says Mr. Phillips, "I directed the superintendent of our mill to get out the material ordered by the Listie people, and in order to see that it was promptly attended to I visited the mills at an early hour the following morning. It so happened that I had a full view of the smokestacks of our works five or six ng the Court handed down the following squares distant, and I was hot under the esions in the matter of the liquor collar when I could see no smoke vomiticense applications held over from the ing from the tall tobes; when I approachpreceding week: Retail licenses granted e. closer, however, I heard the clatter of Thomas Lochrie, W. Returning a few minutes afterwards he said: 'We have solved the great problem for Pittsburg;

this fuel is smokeless." While the Listie people do not claim that their coal is a "smokeless fuel," they are satisfied that it does not make more than 25 per cent, as much smoke as the coal mined in what is popularly known as the "Pittsburg District." Easter Cards and Novelties

Plan of Organization-Number of Employer Required-Some of the Salaries Paid. Ex-Governor Merriam, of Minnesota who has been appointed to direct the taking of the census next year and the after ently interviewed by a newspaper man whom he said : "I hope to get the organization started by the first of April. It will proceed slowly. The three bundred supervisors will not be appointed before the 1st of next December, but, in the meantime, I will be selecting the various experts who will have charge of the details. I am not prove capable of giving the census a good organization, so that when the work of umerating the population and collecting the statistics begins we can go right ahead without losing any time, The enumeration, as you know, does not be gin until the first or June, 1900. Under the law the census is to relate specifically to four items-population, mortality statistics, the products of agriculture, and of nechanical and manufacturing establishments. The reports covering these four branches must be completed in two years. Then we are authorized to take up special questions, including statistics relating. nong other things, to insane, blind and deaf persons, criminal and reformatory nstitutions, public indebtedness, electric telephone and telegraph business, transportation, mines and mining. We are given three years in which to publish this great mass of information. "As you know," continued the governor, "the number of enumerators will reach at least 50,000. We will occupy this summer and next winter in plotting the United States in geographical divisions and subdivisions and assigning the supervisors and the enumerators to their spective districts. This will really be the first work we shall do. As to the ap ments, none will be made immediuntil the work has been all mapped out. In the selection of supervisors I shall follow the spirit of the law and treat all political parties fairly. As for the clerks none will be needed for months to come. When they are appointed they will be subjected to a fair examination to prove their accuracy, rapidity and general competency. It shall not be a competitive examination, but one to demonstrate the mate profits.
