

The Somerset Herald.

EDWARD WELLS, Editor and Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY, May 21, 1899.

It is officially stated that President McKinley has not yet given the subject of an extra session of Congress any consideration whatever.

Dewey is honored beyond all that a year has seen application to be seated in Manila Bay. His course throughout was that of a high-spirited, patriotic American, as well as a naval genius.

An Illinois court has decided that cider was intoxicating drink, and hereafter the wayward youth of the Sucker State may be expected to worship at the shrine of Pomona instead of Bacchus.

Wool is 50 per cent higher than in the last year of the Cleveland administration, and clothing is sold just as cheaply now as then. The foreign wool grower, however, is not reaping the same harvest.

Cuba is divided at present between a million and a half of people who want to settle down to peaceful industry and a few score of political agitators who are selfishly bent on stirring up discord and disorder.

Wilkesbarre's former Postmaster Bogert, is again in trouble. Not content with opening other people's letters, he has now been charged with opening Uncle Sam's mails and taking what did not belong to him.

There will be no encouragement of the National Guard this year. The new law provides for an exemption next year, and Adjutant General Stewart says it will be a division affair, and one of the greatest ever held in the State.

The wicked men who conspired to cheat Uncle Sam with counterfeit stamps have been indicted in Philadelphia, and there will soon be some interesting developments. They come what is called "the slickest gang" that ever conspired to cheat the Government.

The Mugwump newspapers that are still arguing that Colonel Quay will not be seated by the Senate will change their tune when the Senate meets. The latest indications are that the Beaver statesman will be given his seat almost unanimously, which would be an eminently proper thing for the Senate to do.

Each month the treasury publishes a report of the money in circulation and an estimate of the national population. On May 1, according to this authority, there were 75,875,000 people in the United States, an increase of 128,000 for April, and of 545,000 for the four months of the calendar year. Counting new possessions, the census of next year will be in the neighborhood of 85,000,000.

Col. M. S. Quay has again been honored by his Republican neighbors in Beaver county. They held their primary election Thursday and elected him a delegate to the Republican State Convention, and the Beaver statesman will go to Harrisburg to represent his fellow-Republicans, help name the ticket, and frame the platform for the coming State campaign. His fellow-delegate from Beaver is former Congressman Charles Townsend.

There should and must be a free field for any man who wants a place on the Republican ticket in Somerset county. A few self-constituted bosses will not be allowed to meet in secret, "compare notes," and dictate a ticket "compare notes," and dictate a ticket "compare notes."

The census of 1900 will exhibit many surprises. The population will show a large increase over the census of 1890, and the ratio of congressional representation will also show a change. The present ratio for a member of Congress is 175,000; under the next census it is likely to be over 200,000. The present House contains 535 members; the one under the new census will be composed of 381 to 420 members, not including the territorial delegates. Under any system of apportionment at the States of the West, under the new census, will be given greatly increased political power in Congress.

Five more counties held their Republican primary elections during the past week, namely, Beaver, McKean, Cumberland, Northumberland and Adams, and in every instance the friends of Stewart Republicanism, regularity, and majority rule have carried the day. The five counties elected ten delegates to the Republican State Convention, and the string of the Regulars was increased by just that number. The one lonely insurgent who has thus far been elected a delegate to the State Convention will have trouble in finding standing room if this thing keeps up. This is evidently a Republican year.

The insurgent newspapers in this State are persistently repeating the story that Senator Quay and others of the real leaders of the Republican party in this State are going to have a conference in Philadelphia for the purpose of selecting a ticket to be nominated by the State Convention. This story is absurd on the face of it. The ticket to be voted for by the Republicans in this State this year will be nominated by the State Convention on the merits of the candidates, and there will be no selection by any set of men who will go off in a corner to do the work. The insurgent, however, are concerning themselves a great deal over what does not belong to them.

The Mugwump newspapers that are howling because he would not plunge the State into debt are not disturbing the equanimity of Pennsylvania's Stewart Governor, who is enjoying a well-earned rest down in West Virginia. It is likely that these same papers will eventually see the error of their way and will earnestly commend the Governor whom they are now unjustly criticizing and maligning. Be that as it may, Governor Stone will continue to do his duty as he sees it, without fear or favor. Recalling that corporation bills which had been surreptitiously changed after passage so as to permit the chartering of distilling corporations, was a serious disappointment to his enemies and critics.

LET HIM RUN.

It is unnecessary to say that the following paragraph is taken from one of the parts of the speech of Mr. McKinley. It is suggested that Senator William Flinn be a candidate for State Treasurer, if the Republican State Convention wants a sturdy and honest man for that office. It can do no better than nominate Senator Flinn.

The Republican State convention will nominate a sturdy and honest man, but the Republican party has no use whatever for a party of the Flinn type—ones who are governed in his actions by spite and malice and who devote his time to the overthrow of the principle of majority rule.

This fact need not deter Mr. Flinn from making a canvass. He is a Republican only so far as his personal desires are concerned. After that he is a booby. It would be perfectly consistent with the desire of the party to nominate a man of the State convention and run on his own hook. He might even get the endorsement of the Hon. Gov. Horn and his other Democratic friends, who know that the people are with him. If they are they will vote for him and elect him. Why not make the most good? What chance has Flinn?

How heavily will that one of these insurgents who consider themselves of some importance politically would for the cause of a man who would be an object of scorn to party workers, party trainers and men who had in political falsehood, guile and revenge would not forget in a generation.

BEAVER PRIMARIES. General Quay's Friends Carry Everything Before Them.

BEAVER, Pa., May 18.—The returns from last night's Republican primaries were computed today. Colonel M. S. Quay was elected a delegate to the Republican State Convention without opposition.

The other delegate elected is Hon. Charles Townsend, of New Brighton, former member of Congress and a close friend of Senator Quay.

DEWEY COMING HOME.

The Gallant Admiral Left Manila Saturday Afternoon.

INSURRECTION IS BREAKING UP. The New York Herald on Sunday published the following cablegram: Manila, May 20.—Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, sailed from Manila today at 10 o'clock. She is bound for America, via the Suez Canal, with the Admiral aboard.

Just before the Olympia sailed I went aboard her and interviewed Admiral Dewey on his departure. In response to my inquiries he said: "I go with the Olympia because I believe that this insurrection is breaking up."

"The repeated arrivals in our lines of emissaries sent from insurgent headquarters can only mean one thing. They point to the inevitable end."

"Now, had I consulted my pride, I would have remained here until peace was finally established. But there are other things in a man's life besides his pride to be considered."

"My health, for instance, has been gradually undermined by the long strain placed upon it, and by the constant care that has been necessarily imposed upon me for so long a time."

"And, of course, we are all glad to get home. One of the things that touched me the most, among all the many expressions of warm feeling from the people at home, was the raising of an inscription in my native State—it was started at Boston, I believe—and a bronze statue of me, to place in the State Capitol at Montpelier, opposite the statue of Ethan Allen. Many a time as a boy have I looked at that statue of Ethan Allen in wonder and admiration."

"The inscription said, 'I remember rightly, Surrender in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress. The way led to a greater completion of my duty in this place in my own village, you know.'"

"Guns boomed, bands played, and signal flags flattered a good-bye when the gallant Admiral, commander of the United States Asiatic Squadron, with Admiral Dewey aboard, banded anchored at 10 o'clock this afternoon, bound for Hong Kong, and steamed slowly out of the Manila harbor, past the fort and the regular island."

"Through the channel which was supposed to be a place infested with torpedoes when the Commodore led his fleet through just a few years ago."
