The Lenhart Murder.

The case against Meyers for the murder of John Lenhart, was taken up Monday morning. The testimony was practically the same as in the Karney case. The notable difference being the evidence of Nelson Leuhart, brother of the murdered man, who made an unsuccessful effort to place Meyers under arrest for the murder of Karney, and wholwas an eyewitness of the shooting of his brother. He testified that he was the Constable of Summit township, and that he was apprised of the murder of Karney about thirty minutes after the shooting. He started immediately for the Meyers property, but on the way was told that Meyers had gone to his boarding house-George Judy's. (At this point Captain W. M. Schrock was called and explained a map, showing the location of the Meyers property, the reddence of George Judy and an unoccupied dwellinghouse immediately adjoining the Judy residence.) Continuing, Constable Leahart said that he deputized his brother John, Porter Weimer, E. A. Bittner and Frank Frazier to go with him and assist in the capture of Meyers. They first searched the Judy residence and not finding Meyers there, entered the unoccupied wilding adjoining. "I went into one
