

The Somerset Herald.

EDWARD SCHELL, Editor and Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY, August 8, 1890

COUNTY TICKET.

RECEIVED.
JAMES E. SAYLOR, Somerset.
H. D. REEL, Shadyside.
ROBERT AND ROGER
JOHN S. SHAFER, Somers.
PETER DUMBAULD, Millersburg.
JACOB KNOOP, Uniontown.
W. R. MORSE, Elk Lick.
AUTOR.
CHARLES H. SCHMIDT, Somers.
SAMUEL M. SAYLOR, Somers.
BOOK DIRECTOR.
W. J. GILCHRIST, Somers.
CONCERN.
Dr. G. F. LIVENGROVE, Jenner.
COURT SCRIBE.
W. M. SCHROEDER, Somers.

The Dauphin Democrats will not nominate a candidate in opposition to John H. Wise, the Republican nominee for the judicial office.

In all probability it will be some time yet before we hear the last of the Phillipsburg war. The man who fired the first gun on the American side has just landed at San Francisco.

After reading the spirituous platform of the Maryland Democrats the best plan is to look over the resolutions of the Iowa Republicans. It is like a mountain horse-clearing away a malarious fog.

EVERY voter in the United States, regardless of party, is interested in the defeat of Goebel in Kentucky. A political whose program is to break up conventions and at the polls is the enemy of American citizenship.

It is not improbable that the next Democratic National Convention will declare against the automobile, on the ground that it is hard to operate it on a road that the Democratic party has condemned with broken promises.

ALASKA's boundary as defined by the treaty between Russia and England in 1825 was never disputed until Canada saw the need of a new outlet on the Pacific, a few years ago. The world, however, is not regulated by hindsight.

It is an odd fact that 200 tons of copper coins have been imported from India to be remelted, the rise in the metal having made it more valuable than the face-value of the money. Old ratios are not sacred, even in ancient India.

The Democratic Boston "Globe" remarks that "we are making many strides in home manufacture and gradually taking first place in the world's open market." Nobody talked that way when the Wilson law was in operation.

The Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment will bring back to Pennsylvania with them four captured Spanish cannon captured in and around Manila, and it is the intention of the officers to present them to various towns in the western part of the State.

There are supposed to be 4,000 Red-painted voters in Centre county, and less than 2,500 visited the polls at their recent primary. Hastings piled up 500 majority, but this is claimed to have cost those godly gentlemen who hope to purify political conditions $5,000.

JUDGE MORTON, of Fayette county, the Democratic nominee for Justice of the Supreme Court, has sent his resignation to Governor Stone to order that his successor to the Common Pleas Bench can be chosen at the November election. Ex Judge Ewing is likely to be the Republican candidate to succeed Judge Morton.

NOT much is being said nowadays about the "down-trodden and oppressed tiller of the soil." The average farmer has wheat in the stack, more corn on hand than he doesn't know where to put the new crop, and the banker owes him money that he doesn't know what to do with.

IF ANY difference of opinion ever existed among the Republican leaders of the state as to the propriety of nominating Lieutenant-Colonel Barnett for State Treasurer, it has vanished, and unless he should positively decline to allow his name to go before the Convention, the gallant young Lieutenant-Colonel will be nominated by acclamation.

WHENEVER Senator Quay goes to the seashore, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, we hear stories of a conference about to be held by the Republican leaders and a slate to be fixed up. Of course there is not a word of truth in these stories, but the fake correspondents at the seashore must have something to write about. Attorney-General Elkin recently said that when he made a newspaper correspondent at Atlantic City and says "Good morning" to him, the correspondent forthwith goes off and writes a column interview with him. That is how the news of a political character is made by the sad sea waves.

IN AN elaborate opinion, in which the law and the merits of the case are fully gone into, Judge Wise decides that the Governor has the right to take action on resolutions relating to amendments of the Constitution, and that the Secretary of the Commonwealth can not be compelled to offer advertising to be done for the payment of which the Legislature has made no appropriation. It now remains to be seen what the Supreme Court will do, for it is understood that the case will be taken to that body, and already the papers for such appeal are being prepared. It will be a good thing to have the question settled for all time in order that there may be no dispute concerning it in the future.

THE sad intelligence of the death of Colonel Hawkins, the brave commandant of the Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment, who died on July 28, en route from Manila to San Francisco with his regiment, has been a shock to all Western Pennsylvania. The Washington Observer, published at his late home, bears this touching tribute to the dead soldier: "Colonel Hawkins truly died for his country as his soul had winged its flight from the battlefield surrounding Manila. A brave heart has ceased to beat beneath the folds of the honored flag; a gallant soldier has responded to the last roll-call; a true-hearted, gentle minister, leaving behind him earthly honors, has passed into the great unknown. The tender sympathy of a great state is the portion of his loved ones; a grateful nation mingles its tears with theirs."

Franck Still & Wrenster.
From the Evening Post.

Senator William Flinn has returned from Ireland and announces that he will continue his fight against Senator Quay and the men who were loyal to the Republican party in the last Legislature, on the question of his proposed alliance with the Democrats to help elect the Democratic ticket. He is a member of the Flinns, and he expects the Congressmen to help him in his fight this fall. Flinn and his followers secured the help of the Democracy in their party-breaking attempts last winter. The Philadelphians should be brave enough to tell who he intends to do. It will make little difference on the Republican majority in the State if he does lead his little band of assistant Democrats into the Garfield camp, but he ought to come out into the open.

All Honor to Barnett.

From the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Lieutenant-Colonel Barnett says that he does not wish to become colonel of the gallant Tenth Pennsylvania, but would prefer that the regiment remains without a colonel until another is appointed, known as "colonel by right." There is no one who could fill the position better than the colonel himself for you. The young Lieutenant-colonel might come back home wearing the colonel's eagle, but he prefers to honor the memory of his old commander, and let the regiment be known always by his name. The Tenth Regiment had known Colonel Hawkins as its commander for twenty years, and he was beloved of the boys. Lieutenant-Colonel Barnett is a son of this family in the command, and he is entitled to no greater honor.

After the death of Colonel Hawkins the command of the regiment devolved upon Lieutenant Colonel Barnett.

The recent news of the battle of San Juan Hill, it is safe to assume, and the literary associations to it.

Colonel Sigfried and Almon, of Lancaster, a well-known group of West Pointers, have announced that they will be at the Military Academy because he is a Hebrew.

"I would rather be Colonel of the Tenth Pennsylvania and march through the streets of Pittsburgh as the head of my regiment than President of the United States," were almost the last words uttered by Col. Alexander H. Hawkins.

At that time he was suffering intensely, but Lieut. Col. James E. Barnes says his face lit up with pride as he made the remark, and he looked every inch a soldier, as he was.

The boys are glad to get back to God's country once again," said Lieutenant-Colonel Barnes. "Every man in the regiment is sad and disheartened over the death of Colonel Hawkins. He was a soldier, every man, in the regiment. When the war began the Colonels were very sick and he had his doctor advised him to remain home, but he didn't listen.

He is fully satisfied.

Where I go men, I go, and I know where I go every day in the regiment will follow," he said, and the last valley at Malibon found him in the front rank cheering on his men. After Malibon he was rapidly, and, since who knew his exact condition had little hope of his recovery. He was the last sanguine of all, and seemed to think he would live to reach San Francisco.

With more or less.

The gloom that pervades Washington, Pa., by reason of Colonel Hawkins' death reaches all classes, and every citizen feels a personal loss. Colonel Barnett wired M. L. MacCracken, Esq., asking him to wire Mrs. Hawkins and wire instructions in regard to the body. With Boyd Grimes he called at the Hawkins residence Wednesday morning, and later, accompanied by General and Mrs. Taylor, approached Colonel Barnes, and it was the desire of Mrs. Hawkins that the body be laid to rest with all the honors of war, and also that the Tenth Regiment should act as an escort. The messengers urged Colonel Barnes to use his best efforts with General Shaffer and the Department to have these desires carried out.

A NATIONALLY KNOWN.

At nine o'clock last Thursday morning the Pennsylvania troops disbanded at the station, and marched to the Franklin sleeping car to Atlantic City, Cape May, Ocean City, Wildwood, Beachwood, N.J., Rehoboth, Del., or Ocean City, Md.

The five children of Mrs. Arthur Hill, aged 26, at Poughkeepsie, have brought suit to prevent her from giving $6,000 left her by her former husband to her second husband aged 36.

Sheriff Laufer, of Northampton county, has already received over 500 applications for passes from people who want to see Liberator Street hangs on August 22. The applications have been received from all parts of the country.

Judge F. H. Smith, of Lancaster, started for Philadelphia to make a trip to Manila, Mexico, Wednesday, a distance of 2,000 miles, which he expects to cover in 30 days, an average of almost 70 miles per day.

The price paid by the Federal Steel Company for its 6000 acres of newly-purchased coking coal lands, in Fayette county, is said to be $1,000,000, and an eleven-mile railroad will connect the mine with the Baltimore & Ohio.

Because of the fact that Sheriff McCormick's brother will be tried for murder at the September term, the Fayette county court has directed that Conner Taylor shall take the place of the sheriff in drawing the juries for that term.

Becaus of the great increase of disease cases at Allegheny County, Judge White has directed that each hospital hereafter be heard in open court instead of secretly before a commissioner. He believes such action will have a diminishing effect.

The report of the secret service officers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, show that 679 persons were arrested for making and passing counterfeit money and kindred crimes. Of that number 218 have been convicted and 260 are awaiting trial.

Governor Candler issued an appeal to the people of Georgia to join hands and put an end to mob violence in the State. The Governor believes that the only way to restore a condition of peace for the people to uphold the courts and aid them in bringing to justice justic criminals of all kinds.

Fifty people were killed Sunday at an accident at Bridgeport, Conn., when a train, loaded with 100 passengers, ran off the track and sank in the mud 20 feet below, overturning completely and spending.

When the truck, the four-ton motor and the heavy trucks crashed into it, instantly killing many of the passengers.

Speculators for horses have been patented by an inventor, and are being used with considerable success. Their object is not so much to magnify objects as to make the ground in front of the horse appear nearer to his head than it really is. The result is continual high stepping, which after a while becomes natural and gives to the horse a lofty gait, which he will retain for many years.

Three heavy batteries, one light battery, and the regimental band of the Third Artillery came first in the parade. Then came the Pennsylvanians, led by Lieutenant-Colonel Barnes, whose sword, draped in ermine out of respect to the dead, was given to him by the colonel of the Tenth Colonial Hawkins, caused a shout to fall silent.

The soldiers accepted the attention shown upon them modestly, pledging along with even step and only occasionally looking to the right or left. The expressions of gratification which their burned faces bore, and an occasional cheer were the only signs they permitted themselves to show that they appreciated the demonstrations of a grateful people. The plaudits of the cheering people could not be heard.

As the band marched on, the buglers sounded the call to arms, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The bugle-call of the band was followed by the bugles of the band of the Tenth Cavalry, and the band of the Tenth Cavalry.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.

The band marched on, and the drums beat out the music of the march.</