REPUBLICAN HOSTS

Great Throng of Enthusiastic Party Men Go to the State Convention.

SOLDIERS BOOMING BARNETT.

Colonel McClure Gives the Democracy a Shock by Predicting the Triumphant Election of the Republican Candidates Before They Are Named.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, Aug. 22.-There is a great crowd of stalwart Republicans in town, all eager to be on hand when the state ticket is nominated on Thursday next. It is going to be a typical Republican gathering, full of enthusiasm, party fervor and patriotism. The streets are already thronged with a good natured, cheering crowd, with the partisans of the several candidates all anxious to make a demonstration in favor of their respective favorites. The hotels and other public bulldings and many business places and private residences are gaily decorated with flags be filled with valuable information for ters there are many soldiers, some of them in full uniform, fresh from Camp teresting matter appropriate to this great | Meade, which is but a few miles down the road from this city. The presence of these military men, among them are many who served in the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns and have since been mustered out from the federal service, is full of significance. It means that they are all interested in the work of the forthcoming convention. They expect to see one of their comrades in arms honored by the Republican party of the old Keystone state next Thursday. They have heard of the proposed nomination of Lieutenant Colonel James Elder Barnett, the acting commander of the famous "fighting" Tenth regiment, and they are here to show their interest in him and names, regiment and other details, and | their desire to see him named for state treasurer. The nomination of Colonel Barneti is now assured. And that he will sweep the state by an immense majority is certain. His regiment will reach Pittsburg in a few days, and there is no doubt that a great ovation Encampment of the Grand Army of the awaits them. As to the balance of the ticket, Josiah R. Adams, of Philadelphia, for the superior court, has practically a walkover, and for justice of the supreme court J. Hay Brown, of Lancaster, is in the lead. Judges Archiba'd, Morrison, White and Walace and former Attorney General Paler are also proposed for supreme judge.

STALWARTS IN CONTROL The convention will be absolutely in the hands of the stalwart element of the party. The regulars, with the issues clearly defined, carried the primeries by overwhelming majorities wherever the insurgents put up candidates, with the exception of in about three counties outside of Allegheny and Philadelphia. In Allegheny no effort was made to dispute the power of Tickets for side trips to Washington, bid Point Comfort, Gettysburg, Antietam, the delegates in the districts which the Weilman party found in and Virginia battlefields will also be sold | they usually carry, and in the Quaker City there was an agreement which gave to the Martinites a certain number of districts without a contest. though this number was much smaller than the Martin men claimed. The outlook for the election of the whole ticket by unprecedented majorities is most gratifying. The Demoratic party is demoralized. The sound money men have bolted Creasy, the ree silverite who was placed on the ticket for state treasurer by the orders of Colonel Guffey to please the Bryanites. While the disgruntled insurgents have been praising Creasy, in the hope of compelling the stalwarts to show them some consideration at the state convention, they all know that Creasy is not a vote winner and that he will not have his own party vote back of him on election day. Some idea of the feeling as to the prospects of a sweeping Republican victory in Pennsylvania this fall may be gleaned from an editorial which Colonel A. K. McClure printed in the Philadelphia Times last Friday. While this publication was overflowng with unusual frankness it was rered with outbursts of disapproval and disappointment from the Democratic leaders and sympathizers. was the first candid statement of fact as to Pennsylvania politics that has been gotten from a newspaper carrying the Wanamaker advertisement in Philadelphia for many days. All these journals are industriously telling their eaders what a great man is Creasy, and how the people are falling over themselves to get into line to vote for him. It is the same old story that was heard throughout the campaign for poor old Mr. Jenks, who, it will be recalled, ran for governor last year. with the full prestige of the advertising subsidized newspapers booming him daily and all the other influences of the insurgent Republican organization at his back. Mr. Jenks now knows the value the people place on these bargain counter organs and what influence they do not possess. M'CLURE'S CANDID ADMISSION. With this whole choir daily harpng on Creasey's strength, it is, ineed, refreshing to read Colonel Mc-Clure's breezy and convincing way of rushing them all to one side. In discussing the probable nominees the Republican state convention plonel McClure said: "The nomination for state treasurer shaped itself. It happened to come Quay's way, and in that he was fortunate. The record of the heroism of the Tenth regiment in the Philippines stands out single from all the others alike in sacrifice and achievement in the bloody conflict with a barbarous foe and deadly climate in the far east. Had Colonel Hawkins lived he would likely have preferred to take his seat in the senate to which he was elected two years ago, but if he had chosen to mefer the nomination for state treasurer no political combinations could have prevented it. His sad death left Lieutenant Colonel Barnett as the only surviving officer of the gallant Tent's who has had active participation in politics, and at no time since the death of Colonel Hawkins has his nomination for state treasurer depended upon anything but his willingness to accept it. Some of the Republican leaders would prefer another, but knowing that they might as well bay the moon as to start a fight against him, his nomination will be made with practical unanimity, and it is most unfortunate for Democratic Reformer Creasy that he has to buck against the buzz-saw record of the glorious Tenth regiment." WILL BE A CLEAN SWEEP. "It goes without saying," continued Colonel McClure, after making complimentary references to J. Hay Brown and Josiah R. Adams, whose nominations for the supreme and superior courts, respectively, he predicts, "that the Republican state ticket will be slected. The people would willingly strike a revolutionary blow if the Democracy of the state commanded the respect it once did as a minority party. but the independent leaders are unwilling to develop their lines and strength in an off year battle to aid the Democrats in their visible decay. "The election, therefore, will practically go by default because the people Texas will soon be the principals in au of Penesylvania, regardless of factional event showing decidedly how far the interests or prejudices, believe that a friendly feeling between the North and loyal support is due to the government South has progressed. This event is the in favor of the policy inexorably shaped for the republic by the war with Spain. There can be no Democratic victories in loyal states until there shall be a Democratic party that does not defame its own record of nearly a century in favor of extending our possessions and maintaining honest money. The Pittsburg Dispatch, which opposed Governor Stone in the last campaige, is not giving the insurgents much encouragement. Commenting upon Barnett's letter in refusing the colonelcy of the Tenth regiment, it

There is little doubt, however, that Barnett has put aside the only chance he will ever have to become colone! The selection of the candicountry. This fear was more bitter to lates was made after many conferences of the leaders of the contending factions with Mayor Ashbridge, who ant Colonel Barnett evidently shares in has labored unceasingly to bring about the chagrin resulting from this neglect harmony in the party organization in to promote a deserving officer, for he this city. He has succeeded in a remarkable degree. The prospective others, but not to him.' It is not yet nomination of Lieutenant Colonel Barinderstood in this state why Colonel Hawkins was 'passed by,' as Barnett puts it, but it will be known some of nett for state treasurer is well received in this city. A number of the young soldiers of the Spanish-Amerithese days. The people of Pennsylvania have a right to know, for they can war, who volunteered from this city, have gone to Harrisburg to work have the utmost confidence that it was and cheer for Barnett. Among them not by reason of any shortcomings on are the active spirits in the movement for the organization of the proposed "Barnett battalion," which is to be formed after the adjournment of the TROMSOE, Norway, Aug. 17 .- Walter state convention and to take part in Wellman and the survivors of the Polar the campaign. expedition led by him arrived here this

ASHBRIDGE MAKING A RECORD. Ashbridge is going to make a record for himself as mayor of this city. He has already impressed his personality upon the community by his independence and his businesslike way of going about things. He will not permit himself to be dictated to by the so-called Republican newspapers that never find anything good in anything that any official does, unless he is of the David Martin faction in local polities. Now the mayor wants it known that he represents no faction of the Republican nerty and that he proposes to conduct his office for the best interests of the people. He has consequently made himself a mark for the assaults of the insurgents, and he is being misrepre-sented daily by the same newspapers that go out of their way to attack Governor Stone, and when they cannot find anything in his official acts to criticize, they assail him personally. Mayor Ashbridge has served notice on the editors of certain papers that if they go one inch beyond the line of proper and legitmate criticism he will proceed against them in the criminal courts. "I am not thin skinned," remarked the mayor a few days ago, "but there is a limit to what I will stand. I do not propose to be bulldozed into doing what I do not think is right, and when conclude upon a policy I shall carry it out, despite these newspaper attacks, the political character of which the people are fully familiar with." PENNSYLVANIA FIRST IN CHARITY The new mayor is a worker as well as a fighter. He showed this in the masterly maner in which he responded to the call of the secretary of war for supplies for the stricken people of Porto Rico. He at once put the full force of his administration to work to have Philadelphia make a prompt and generous response to the appeal for aid He remained at his office until after midnight while this work was under way, coresponding with the officials of the war and navy departments and enlisting the assistance of leading and public spirited citizens of the city and state. The arrival of the Panther, the transport sent by the national government to this city to take the supplies to the stricken people, found the warves filled with provisions ready to be loaded on board and shipped without delay. Mayor Ashbridge at once got in touch with Governor Stone and soon had the supplies so kindly shipped by the residents of interior towns of Pennsylvania, diverted from New York, where they were to go under the first notice sent out, and brought direct to this city where they were Passengers may also spend the night in Philadelphia, and proceed to the shore by any regular train from Market Street Wharf or Broad Street Station on the folstarted off as the first shipment from READY FOR THE ENCAMPMENT. This has involved an mmense amount of work. It has meant the collection of have sums of money to meet the enormous expense that is being incured in the public decorations and the proposed entertalnment of distinguished visitors. Mayor Ashbridge has been in constant communication with the committees of the Grand Army and has been of inestimable P. M., carrying sleeping cars to Philadei-phia, and 7:05 P.
