CIDER MAKING TIME.

They are gathering the apples in the orchard on the hill. They are carrying the baskets to the humming mill.

NO TRESPASSING.

It was a delightfully hot afternoon, and under the trees, Elysium itself. The path ran through a tunnel of foliage.

"I could hardly imagine it was possible," said he. She flushed angrily. "You are trespassing," she continued.

Cavalry Horses in Battle.

A veteran cavalry horse partakes of the hopes and fears of battle just the same as his rider.

The Cultivation of Nut Trees.

The planting and cultivation of various kinds of nuts will sooner or later be given more attention by nurserymen and landowners than at present.

A Prairie-Dog Village.

Near Fort Reno, in the Indian Territory, is a prairie-dog village, and a visitor at the fort tells our Animal Friends something about these interesting little animals.

Good Stories Told of Robert Bonner.

There are more forms of high art than appear on canvas, in marble or on a graven page.

"Nobly ever recognized it as me," said the young man, unobtrusively; "but it is said to be a speaking likeness just the same."

Southern Fried Chicken.

At this season, when poultry of all kinds is approaching the high tide of excellence, it is well to recall the delectable of Southern fried chicken.

Rome Antedates Romulus.

It is all very well to demolish William Tell, Shakespeare and Beatrice Cenci, but when it comes to denying the existence of Romulus and Remus it is another question altogether.

The Checks Came Back.

Jones-Brown had just been married. Like other bachelors, he discovered early in his matrimonial career that Mrs. Jones-Brown's methods of distributing his hard-earned pelf were most unbusinesslike and wasteful.

A Tax on Bachelors.

The crusty old bachelor or the woman who is out of the running married is making some rather sad remarks in foreign countries.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curran, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery.

Cuts of Beef Most Easily Digested.

The meat from the shoulder was found in some German tests to be from 1 to 2 per cent more easily digested than that from the hind quarters.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Benick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, his wife had been cured by a simple operation.

Picking Apples.

The practice of leaving apples on the trees until they are easily picked off is not a commendable one, as when left so long a heavy wind coming up will shake a great many of them down.

Save the Vase.

The little son of an English gentleman, in mischievous play with a vase, was about to throw it into the water.

He Didn't Bite.

"I never can tell a story and have it come out all right," said a little woman plaintively the other day.

Butter Milk and Health.

But few appreciate buttermilk. It would be a sorry day for the doctors and hogs if everybody ate and drank as much buttermilk as this writer, says A. N. Hyatt.

The Home of the Potato.

Peru is the birthplace of the potato, which was used as an article of food by the Incas and exported to Europe by the Spaniards.

Case of Cerebry.

A little girl whose acquaintance with the zoological wonders of creation was limited to looking at one of the elephants in Lincoln park, Chicago, while on her first visit to that popular resort.

Too Often True.

It requires 40 horses to pull family carriages, and 100 to haul a load of coal to the furnace.

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Published by Munn & Co., 361 Broadway, New York.

Home of the Edam Cheese.

While the Edam cheese is a familiar visitor on the table not every one knows whence it comes nor how its various well proportions and gray coloring have been achieved.
