

It must be apparent to the Democrats that General Wheeler's views about the Philippines were not lost in the mail.

Present indications the delegation in the next State Legislature will be almost entirely composed of friends of Senator Quay.

President Kruger seems to be made of the same kind of material that entered into the construction of General Crozier.

Senator New Hampshire's prominent Democratic opponent for McKinley, The Republican majority in that State in 1898 was nearly twice as large as Bryan's total vote, and will go higher this year.

The new financial bill will increase the circulation without the slightest degree impairing the 100-dollar equivalent to gold everywhere throughout the world.

Mr. BLACKBURN prudently absents himself from Kentucky at this juncture. He will presently try to convince the Senate that the election in Kentucky was valid as to himself, though absolutely null in the case of Republicans.

On April 31 the Quay case will be taken up in the United States Senate and fought to a finish, and there is but little doubt as to what the result will be.

The opponents of the bill will be parliamentary tactics, are doing their best to prevent a vote being taken, knowing full well, as they do, that it would result in according Mr. Quay his seat by a decisive majority.

The manner in which the Stewart Republicans of Indiana county, under the skillful leadership of Attorney General Elkin, did up the party-wreckers and caucus-baiters who were led by the insurgent boss, Senator William Flinn, at Saturday's primaries, was beautiful to see.

Flinn may not be as handsome, but he is a wiser man than before he commenced to monkey with the Elkin buzzsaw. Flinn is not in the Attorney General's class.

This jury in the Johnston Democrat libel case, which was on trial before Judge Bell, of Blair county, at Ebensburg last week, returned a verdict of guilty Sunday morning.

The prosecution was brought by County Commissioners' Clerk Gates, and was founded on an article published in the Democrat during last fall's campaign, in which Mr. Gates was accused of omitting to transfer the names of certain Democratic voters from the Assessors' returns to the tax lists with a view of displacing them to vote at the November election.

It is possibly held open to do service at the approaching primary.

If the Hawkeye will delve a little deeper after facts it may be able to inform Mr. Thrupp's Somerset county constituents why he has steadfastly refused to recommend a Republican for appointment as postmaster at Glencoe, and prefers that the Democrat should occupy the office.

As we had some municipal primaries here about two months ago, and an opponent of the existing municipal control had the hardihood to stand for the Republican nomination in his ward, in three precincts he had a majority of the vote, and in the fourth, the vote of which was not known until the other returns came in, the machine rolled up 243 majority against him, with a total vote more than two to the total vote of all parties at the State election.

The beneficiary of this political outburst is now a town councillor.

And yet the immaculate Reformer lifts up his voice and hypocritically wails about the wickedness of the "State Machine." It is about time that William was presented with another loving cup on the "Reformer" form of the last Legislature.

The insurgent element in the Republican party of this State that recognizes the leadership of David Martin and William Flinn was badly worsted in about every instance by the Regular Republican at the primary elections that occurred Saturday.

The Martin contingent represents the element that is responsible for the bolting of the Republican caucus on the United States Senatorship at the recent session of the Legislature, and which, through alliances with the Guffey Democrats, maintains an organization which is to cooperate with the Bryan Democrats at the coming election.

The Legislature, where they are unable to dictate the nominations of the regular Republican candidates.

It is alleged that Boss Flinn, at one of the insurgent conferences held in Philadelphia early in the winter, confided with the so-called "Business Men's League" to carry over the vote in certain counties to the Regular Republican.

In view of these circumstances the primaries have already occurred, and in each instance the Flinn forces have been completely routed and drubbed. The party-wreckers and caucus-baiters up to date have captured just two candidates. One was in Armstrong county and the other in Lackawanna, where Speaker Farr, voting in local differences, was defeated by a small majority.

The Pennsylvania Hawkeye's weekly paper published at Bradford, of which Congressman Thrupp is the regular owner, in a recent issue goes to great pains to explain the removal of the veteran Saml. A. Dean as postmaster at Adams, Somerset county, and to state what it claims to have investigated with great thoroughness, that lead up to it. It then proceeds to repeat to make a deliberate misstatement of the facts.

The Hawkeye's statement that Mr. Dean had disposed of his Adams property, transferred the post office to and removed to another State, is positively incorrect, as the papers on file in the Post-Office Department and the Dead Record in Somerset county will show. The true facts in the matter are as the HERALD stated them some weeks since, briefly as follows:

Saml. A. Dean was a veteran of the Civil War and a stalwart Republican. He was appointed postmaster at Adams about two years ago. He was engaged in business in Adams with his brother and nephew. His nephew was assistant-postmaster, and had almost exclusive charge of the office. Owing to the delicate condition of the health of members of his family Mr. Dean commenced to take them to make arrangements for the severe winter months, and went Franklin, Cambria, Adams, Cumberland, Juniata and Other Counties Speak Out.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, March 20.—There were several overwhelming defeats administered to the insurgents at the primaries following in Pennsylvania politics on Saturday last.

This Mr. Dean did, but Mr. Bristow afterwards informed him that his application for leave was made to him in the meantime on very energetic representations of the honor voters of the party caucus bolters and the party wreckers was routed completely.

The most significant vote possibly was that of Adams county, where the leadership of Attorney General John P. Elkin, the regular, confronted the insurgents with confidence and determination from the outset of the caucus.

The insurgents were personally directed by William Henry of Adams, who had guaranteed at one of the Philadelphia conferences the nomination of insurgent members of the caucus.

The primaries in Adams county on Saturday last resulted in a complete victory for the leaders of the regular party, headed by Col. Quay.

Backaches of Women are wearing beyond description and they indicate real trouble somewhere.

Efforts to bear the dull pain are heroic, but they do not overcome it and the backaches continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does this more certainly than any other medicine.

It has been doing it for thirty years. It is a woman's medicine for women's ills. It has done much for the health of American women.

Mrs. Pinkham counsels women free of charge. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Peffer's son Sherman, aged thirteen, was found dead in a bed at his home in Adams county, Pa., on Saturday last.

The cause of death was asphyxiation by gas from a gas stove in the kitchen.

The gas stove was found to be in bad repair, and the gas had leaked out.

An invitation is extended to all visit the home and hospital and examine and investigate for themselves.

There are fewer children committed to our care than in previous years. No more important problem confronts society today than this question of properly caring for neglected children.

It is an old story, that the child is father of the man. It has also been said that every man of magnanimity has its root in some neglected child.

It is not necessary that we look after the neglected and abandoned children, the children of poverty and crime, children of vicious or ignorant or drunken parents, many of them by the invariable law of heredity, inbred from birth with evil propensities and vicious tendencies.

This is the element from which our great army of paupers and criminals is yearly recruited. The state has a way of making a law making it criminal on the part of those in authority in the age of two and sixteen to remain over sixty days at the poorhouse.

The stability of the commonwealth is the education of the youth. In view of this and a desire to do all that could be done toward making useful men and women of those committed to our charge, we have made it our endeavor to make valuable citizens of these unfortunate children.

The Children's Aid Society has been re-elected and willing to aid us in the care of these little ones, and we acknowledge our thanks to them for their untiring work and interest in finding suitable homes.

We would like to have the Aid Society and plan it in its charge. A suitable marriage was chosen, and all the children committed to the poor home were immediately
