The Democracy for Repudiation.

If ever a party was in a quandary, the Democracy are at pesent. In or der to make votes, they have actually resolved the Republican party is right, that it never was wrong, and thus con-fess that in seeking to defeat that party, they made a bold attempt to defraud the people. On the subject of the public debt. the Democracy make a feeble declaration that it must be paid, and the same resolution, by an adroit use of language, they assert the rate of interest must be reduced. They do not propose the Government shall create a new loan at a reduced rate of interest, and with the money thus secured, buy off the old debt, and thus get rid of the old interest. Nothing of this description is asserted by the Democracy. They merely propose the rates of interest shall be reduced, which in effect is repudiation, because the moment the rate is altered, every Government bond we hold at home and abroad, will suffer by depreciation, and therefore repudiation, to a large extent, will be accomplished.
