Marriage--What is it? The great Apostle to the Gentiles forcibly enjoins his son Timothy to "Hold fast the form of sound words."

The word Marriage is thus defined by all the standard English lexicographers whose works are within our reach at this moment.

By Dr. Samuel Johnson: 1. "The act of uniting a man and woman for life. 2. State of perpetual union."

By Noah Webster: 1. "The act of marrying, or the state of being married; union of man and woman as husband and wife; matrimony. 2. A feast made on the occasion of a marriage."

By John Craig: "The act of uniting a man and woman for life in wedlock; the legal union of a man and woman for life; a feast made on the occasion of a marriage."

By Samuel Worcester: "The act of marrying, or uniting a man and woman for life as husband and wife; the state of legal union between a man and woman; matrimony; wedlock; wedding; nuptials."

Every one but Webster makes union for life essential to Marriage, and Webster intimates no dissent from the general dictum.

Consider now the promise required by the Christian Church of every man who presents himself as a candidate for marriage. [We quote from the liturgy of the Protestant Episcopal Church, but it is essentially the same in all churches.]

Minister--"Will thou have this woman to thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony? Will thou love her, comfort her, honor and keep her in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only to her, so long as ye both shall live?"

Now are we not here arguing that the Woodhull-Clafin crowd have not devised or adopted a substitute which is vastly superior to Marriage--we will consider that point in its order.

French Railway Travelling. We might copy with advantage many of the customs in vogue on French railways, especially that one in regard to meals.

The court-martial of France charged with the trial of Communist prisoners went through a delectable farce not long since, in that it tried and passed sentence on members of the "Corps of Fighting Infants," who ranged in age from six to eleven years.

The feelings of a near-sighted man who finds he has kissed his hand to the wrong lady.

The finding your pocket book gone just as you are about leaving a strange hotel, with no time to spare to reach the train.

The sensation from a lady's book heel (present style) when she sets on your foot accidentally.

The prices charged at some hotels on "the European style."

The skill with which the "gentlemanly" bar keeper gives you short change.

Getting on horse-back for the first time in your life.

The amount of your gas and plumbing bills.

Your mother-in-law's remarks if you do not go to the mountain or sea-shore during the season.

It is not so generally known as it ought to be that a human being is liable to infection from a glandered horse.

Genius and Common Sense. Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs much to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution.

A Good Story. Olive Logan told a story, in her lecture on "Nice Young Men," at Frederick, Md., the other night, to this effect:

Nature is industrious in adorning her dominions, and man, to whom this beauty is addressed, should feel and obey the lesson.

The great tunnel through the Sierra Nevada is to be five miles long, nineteen feet high, and twenty-one feet wide. Its cost is to be $15,000,000.

The subject of impression at first sight was being talked over at the tea-table when the lady whose duty it was to preside, said, "she always formed an idea of a person at first sight, and generally found it to be correct."
