

Facts for Grumblers.

It is the custom of the Democratic press to criticize and promble at the financial policy of the National Administration. In reply to these critics and grumblers, the Albany Evening Journal pertinently observes:

"1. The Republican party has reduced taxes within the next five years to the amount of $215,848,827.32; that is, it has thrown off taxes which would have produced a quarter of a billion of revenue a year, or two and a half times as much as is now annually paid on the public debt.

"2. The Republican party has reduced the current running expenditures of the Government, apart from those stated amounts which grow out of the war; so that while they reach the amount of $173,520,371.77 for the year ending June 30, 1868, they only aggregated $95,648,592.30 for year ending June 30, 1871.

"3. It thus appears conclusively that the reduction of the National debt is not effected by heavy taxation, but in spite of a large decrease of taxes. It is effected by a vigorous retrenchment of expenditures and by honest service. And it further appears that this Administration, instead of 'not doing any more than the previous one,' is doing infinitely more. It is paying much more of the debt on a much smaller rate of taxation. If the same rates were prevailing now as under Johnson's administration, President Grant would pay three hundred and fifty millions of the debt a year, instead of a hundred millions."

Death of an old Printer.

A veteran printer, John S. Greene, died at Indianapolis, Indiana, a few days ago. He was in the eighty-eighth year of his age, and was probably the oldest printer in the country. At the age of ten years he was brought to the United States from Donegal, Ireland, by his parents, who located in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. He remained there, serving his apprenticeship in printing business, until the breaking out of the war of 1812, when he enlisted in the Pennsylvania militia, and served until the cessation of hostilities. He then went to Philadelphia, but remained there only a short time, going thence west to Vincennes, and finally retracing his steps to Pittsburgh. There he remained until 1834, when he again went west, to Indianapolis, and there worked at his trade until 1838. He then purchased a farm, a few miles from Indianapolis, and there spent his summers, working in the winter at his trade in town. In 1847 he withdrew from active life altogether, and ever after lived on his farm. Recently his health rapidly failed, the result of old age, and his death occurred on the 17th, at the residence of relatives in Indianapolis. He leaves no family, never having been married. In accordance with his oft repeated request, his remains were taken to Pittsburgh and interred.

—We clip the following items from the Clarion Democrat:

A boy went into the mill, near Shippenville, a few days ago, and stole Mr. Haus's gold watch, which was hanging up. At latest accounts the watch had not been recovered.

We have neglected heretofore to notice the fact, that another brass band has been organized in town, and under the leadership of Mr. A. Bonnet, the new musicians will soon be ready for engagements. Already, they play several pieces quite well.

Joseph Cochran, Esq., of Brookville, died on Monday last week. He formerly resided in Limestone township, and was a highly respected citizen. Long a Justice of the Peace, and ruling elder in the Presbyterian church. He was well and favorably known throughout this section of country. Though well advanced in years, his death came rather unexpectedly. But his consistent Christian life gave evidence of his preparation for the life everlasting.

The house of Hamilton Corbett, in Clarion township, with nearly all its contents, was burned on Monday evening last. The fire caught, in some manner, in a room and was so far advanced when discovered, that little property could be saved. The house was rather old, and not very valuable, but Mr. C. and family suffer great loss from having all their household possessions burned, especially at this season of the year. It is reported there was no insurance.

DANGEROUS GREENBACKS.—Peter Sosa's Counterfeit Detector says that within a week past a number of exceedingly dangerous counterfeits have made their appearance. How large the number may be cannot be known, for the counterfeits are so nearly faultless that it is with the utmost difficulty that it can be distinguished from the genuine. The spurious bill is a twenty-dollar greenback. The only weak point in the execution seems to be the central figure, which is a little too coarsely done. When presented in a package, however, this figure is not seen in rapid counting, it being hidden by the hand or the overlying bills. The other points of the bill are so excellent as to stand the test of the strongest light. We are told that two or three banks have been deceived by the bills. There has not been a more dangerous counterfeit put afloat. Look out for them.

The Erie Dispatch has the following brief but interesting sketch of a "Young America" oil man: "Mr. John H. Gaily is the acknowledged leader of operators at Parker's Landing, although he is but a boy yet. About three years ago he bought a half interest in 'The Island' at Parker's Landing for the sum of $10,000, paying $100, all the money he was possessed of at the time, to bind the bargain. He managed to borrow $9,900, and paid for his property. One well was producing forty barrels daily when he made the purchase, and afterwards steadily increased to seventy barrels, and up to the present time has netted Mr. Gaily $150,000. He now controls one hundred and seven wells, and his income is $18,000 a month. Fortune favors him in nearly every instance. When John H. Gaily buys a piece of 'wild cat' territory and commences to put down a test well, other operators rush on immediately, and secure a lease before his 'big well' is struck. Although this young man is traveling on the highway to princely fortune, he doesn't put on airs. The casual observer cannot select him from among a group of the most modest and plain young men of the town."

—We are again called upon to record the death of one of the early settlers of our township. Mr. JOHN G. SING WORTH passed from earth away, on the evening of the 20th inst., after a lingering illness, of cancer. Mr. S. was born in Germany, in A. D. 1805, emigrated to Lancaster county, Pa., in his 14th year. About the year A. D. 1824 or '25, he came to the neighborhood of Fresburg, and married Mary C. E. Mable. He then removed to Stark county, Ohio, where he remained about two years, and then returned to this township, and has resided within its bounds ever since. Mr. S. was a man of great energy, and enterprise. He was at different times engaged in the iron business, smelting iron, heating metal, and in the lumber trade. He planned and laid out our thriving village, and was, until within a few months of his death, the widely known and popular landlord, at this place. Last February he retired to his private residence, in this village, where he remained until the time of his death. Mr. S. was a firm Democrat, and a good citizen, and in his death the party have lost a firm supporter, and the community one to whom they are indebted for many of the comforts they enjoy.—Clarion Democrat.

An examination of the report for a year shows that in the aggregate 859 wells have been abandoned during the year ending Nov. 1, 1871; that of these, 258 have been resumed, a net abandonment of 601 wells, or 484 per cent; the average number of producing wells was 3,772. From this it appears that all wells would, if no new ones were drilled, be finally abandoned in about seventy-eight months, or that the average life of a well is thirty-nine months, or three and one-fourth years.—Venango Spectator.

—We clip the following items from the Warren Ledger:

While this has been a hard year for lumbermen, they are not discouraged, but are going right on to make it their business again the coming winter to stock the mills and get out timber for running. An acre or more of both slash and pile are around the several blacksmith shops in town, only awaiting snow to be taken into the woods. Those engaged in lumbering are usually a brave class, and do not allow trifles to disturb their calculations. They are looking forward to another season to make them all right; and we trust they will not be disappointed.

A correspondent informs us that a young man named George Wilson, was killed about one mile above Spring Creek Station recently, (the time is not named), by a log rolling over him. He was at work on the premises of St. John near St. John's Mill. He was building a skid way for loading logs on a log car. He slipped and fell—the log rolling over him. He survived but fifteen minutes.

—The Elk Democrat of last week contains the two following items:

During the past week some four or five new buildings have been started in St. Mary's, and are being pushed rapidly toward completion. Should it continue to build up as fast during the coming year as it has the past, it will undoubtedly be a large place, and the now vacant land will all be taken up inside of the borough limits.

A report is in circulation that there are some six or seven cases of small pox in St. Mary's. We are pleased to be able to state that this report is utterly false. There has not been any cases of the kind there.

—Last Thursday, 22d inst., Jacob Miller a resident of this place, shot a man, whose name we have not learned, in the leg with a load of buck-shot. Jacob said he was "foolin'" with the gun when it went off. The man that was shot is boarding at Millers and at the time of the accident "all hands" were under the influence of "the ardent."—Elk Advocate.

A. H. STEELE, Cashier Tionesta Savings Bank, has been appointed agent for the celebrate "Inuan Line Ocean Steamers," at this place. Any person desirous of going to Europe or bringing friends to this country, will do well to call on Mr. Steele, who will furnish them with all the information required.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters, the great Tonic and Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthy appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits. 32-41

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Honorable James Campbell President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions in and for the County of Forest, has by his report for holding a Court of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions, to be held at the Court House in the town of Fresburg, on the fourth Monday of December, next, to-wit: the 25th day of Dec., 1871. Notice is therefore given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace and Constables, said county, that they be and they are to appear in person at ten o'clock, A. M., of said day, with their reports, impositions, examinations and other memoranda, as to do those things which their offices respectively require, and to those who bound in recognizance to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Forest County, that they be then and there to present to said Judge, and shall be just, given under my hand and seal this 20th day of Nov., A. D. 1871. E. L. DAVIS, Sh. ft. per D. W. CLARK, Deputy.

A MIRACLE!

Mr. Samuel Bell, of W. E. S. Manufacturers Co., of the late Fort and Ship Manufacturing Co., of Erie, Pa., has been afflicted with chronic rheumatism for thirty years, from his right leg to his foot, having to use a crutch and a cane, at times so painful that he was unable to get up from attending to his business. Having tried every remedy known, without effect, except Gilliland's Pain Killer, he was finally induced to try it. A second application enabled him to lay aside his crutch, and a third effected a permanent cure. Mr. Bell is a popular and well-known citizen, and is a living monument of the efficacy of that great medical discovery, GILLILAND'S PAIN KILLER. The afflicted should ask their grocer or druggist for it, and try its wonderful power. Mr. Gilliland, we understand, was a resident of this place, and is now in town and is ready to give the principal office is at 72 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. 34-4
