LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. Virtue will preach in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday next, morning and evening.
—Daniel Black has built a large ice house, and is putting up a splendid lot of ice for summer use.
—Now that the sidewalks are getting bare, we can see several spots in them which would be improved by the introduction of a new plan.
—S. H. Haslet will commence work on his new house as soon as the winter is fairly over. He has a splendid situation, and calculates to build a house which will be an ornament to the south end of town.
—Col. J. H. Dewees got a judgment against the Union & Titusville Railroad in a late suit, for the sum of $28,000, on account of non fulfillment of contract on the part of the managers of the road.
—Web. Clark is going to start a Henery—not Henry—next spring. Glad if it for the bush comes down mighty close to his house and we can get our chickens cheap, if he don't keep a big dog.
—These warm sunny days start the coons out, and we notice several parties starting after the coons. Coons make a good pot-pie after they are cooked, "and don't smell so bad either."
—We see several notices stuck up about town, advertising property for sale, on account of the non-payment of poor tax. We shouldn't be surprised if several suits grew out of the matter.
—The snow is disappearing rapidly under the rays of the sun, which have been pouring down their hottest ever since the fore part of last week. If the weather don't change soon, we shall soon have no ice bridge here, and then will there be more agitation about a permanent one.
—The public appreciating our liberal inducements for cash purchases is the reason we have such crowds and sell such piles of goods every Saturday. SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.
—We received a piece of "poetry" from some dandelion whose name neglects to appear on the margin. We require the names of all our contributors before we publish any of their effusions, but don't by any means agree to put in all the "poetry" that comes in, even if the author's name is appended.
—Every Saturday is the day for cheap goods at the Superior Lumber Co. Store.
—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, Capt. Knox has sold out his store and store house and is selling goods at cost for cash, until the 1st of April. Now is the time for cheap goods, and Knox keeps a splendid stock of all kinds. Remember he sells at cost until the 1st of April.
—Dress goods selling as low and compared with New York prices, at the Superior Lumber Co. Store.
—A. H. Steele, Esq., has formally tendered his resignation as Cashier of the Tionesta Savings Bank. We believe no action has been taken upon the matter yet, but as Mr. Steele's Railroad matters require all his attention, we suppose the directors cannot do otherwise than accept it.
—Winter camps selling at cost at the Superior Lumber Co. Store, every Saturday.
—D. D. Fassett, Esq., formerly of the law firm of Clark & Fassett, whose card has appeared in our paper for some time past, has gone into partnership with J. R. Harris Esq., of Titusville. Mr. Fassett is a young man whose talents as a lawyer we have heard highly spoken of, and we wish him success in his new partnership.

—Ole Bull is a cause 've loved him.
He has a good ear for music. And a good knack of jerking it out.
In company with about thirty-nine Tionestians, we sallied forth in the on Friday afternoon, and took overland route to Titusville. The and there being about 14 miles, nearly by railroad being the route. The sleigh didn't lose much, pretty good, Pleasantville was the village, was decided there to Titusville scattered about to in. Our party we believe the major deal, but up at the Parshall House them put been procured for most tickets had trouble was experienced in no good seats.
Mr. Alfred Richter opened the cert with an extremely difficult performance on the piano, which we have no doubt conveyed a superlative degree of ecstasy to cultivated ears; and we must confess that there were remarkably few discords in the piece to what we expected from a real live professor.
Mr. Candidus, radiant in white kids and pigeon tailed coat, next sang to us, which performance we appreciated principally because every note the accomplished tenor produced, brought us nearer to Ole Bull's appearance.
Then came the lora, or rather we should say the Bull of the evening, with his violin. He bowed, and we felt as though reverence were being done us by one of the kings of the earth; we were subdued. He smiled; and such a heavenly smile. It seemed to us as though a sunbeam had shone upon the inmost centre of our heart. He tuned his violin; our pulse only beat when his finger touched a string. He played; and yet we live. He played—and Oh! that we had the pen (or rather the brain; we suppose we could write just as well with any other pen) of Byron, Moore, or some other talented cuss, to describe his playing. His transitions from the lowest to the highest keys of the instrument, were wonderful; the ole reminding us of the rushing of mighty waters, and the other of the liquid flow of oil through the Pithole Pipe Line. A violent scrape of his bow on a low string reminded one of the howling of a raging demon. Then one of his sweet smooth touches on high Q, resembled the whisperings of an angel who loves mankind, and when he struck on the "Arkansas Traveler," the house was nearer coming down than when the Roberts Building fell. Altogether, as a friend of ours once remarked, "the music was heavenly, and we never expect to hear the like again." Long may Ole Bull live, and may his hands never lose their cunning, nor his ears their nice discrimination, while he does live. And that, smile! Although "a man may smile, and smile, and be a villain still," we don't believe any villain could ever smile as he smiled. If ever our face were to be paralyzed we would like to have Ole Bull's smile on when the operation is performed. May he never lose that smile.
Miss Gertrude Orme sang two English ballads which were appreciated by the audience. And just here we wish to ask, why is it that fine musicians will persist in singing Italian, French, or German to audiences where perhaps not one in every hundred present understand what they are singing about? The beauty of vocal music does not consist entirely in the music, but in order to appreciate we must know what they are trying to get at.
The party arrived at home on Saturday afternoon, and we believe that the individual who said the concert was "Bully," expressed the sentiments of the entire Tionesta delegation.
—To-morrow is St. Valentine's Day, and we suppose a great many of these speaking little m. sives will go through the mails; but for that matter, if mails have been stuffed ever since the 1st inst.; differences of opinion in regard to which was the right day. We have heard of no valentines being on sale about here except caricatures, and believe the real gorgeous ones, plastered all over with love and gut, have gone out of style. One thing, however, we would recommend to senders of these caricatures: "do, 't wit on facts." If a lady has passed the tender age of thirty, and is yet single, don't send her a valentine with the picture of a vinegar-faced old maid, and some doggerel rhyme below which may fit very close. Or if a lady's nose has the faintest idea of turning up at the end, do not send her one of those insults in the shape of a lady with a nose piercing the air and beat back over her shoulder like a brass horn. In other words don't take this opportunity to wound those whom you don't admire, without giving them a chance to retaliate.

Having procured the assistance of two good workmen in our Tailoring Department, we are able to turn out suits for men and boys with dispatch, and guarantee entire satisfaction. We always keep a first class stock of coats, vests, and cassimeres. All work guaranteed before leaving the shop. Where we sell once we have the assurance of selling again. 44th SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.
—Owing to the shortness of the cotton crop and the great demand for cotton goods in the west, there is a material advance in all kinds of domestics, but we are selling at the old prices beside the great inducements we offer for buying goods every Saturday. SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.
—Gents' Furnishing goods, latest styles of neckties, bows, scarfs, paper collars, underwear &c., at the very low prices. SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.
—Received assortment of Notions re-ferable py. Will be sold at very low prices. We sell Sewing Machines at the lowest figures. 44th SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.
—Ready made. Clearances Sales, specialties at SUPERIOR LUMBER CO. STORE.

" How To Go West."
Forty years ago, Illinois was as far West as most people wished to go, and journeys were made in the legendary "rairie Schooner," but in these days of Progress and Improvement, the word West has come to mean Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, California and the Territories, and the Traveler reaches almost any point therein by a splendid Line of Railroad.
This Line of Railroad is the Burlington Route, which starts from Chicago over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., from Indianapolis over the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western Short Line, and from Logansport over the Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw R. R., and running through Burlington, reaches Omaha, Lincoln, Nebraska City, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas City, connecting with the Union Pacific, Kansas Pacific and other Railroads running from those cities.
Always go "By way of Burlington." and you will be sure to be right. The Burlington Route has admirably answered the question, "How to go West?" by the publication of a truthful and interesting document filled with facts in regard to Time, Connections, Accommodations, rates of Fare, and other interesting items, and illustrated by a large map, truthfully showing the whole West which they debate free of charge. Copies, and additional information, can be obtained by addressing, General Passenger Agt. B. & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa.

Y., sole proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, has for over three years offered, through nearly every newspaper in the United States, a standing reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh in the head which he can not cure. The Catarrh Remedy is sold by all Druggists. 568.
