The forest Republican. W. R. DUNN . . . . . EIDTOR. TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 20, 1872.

A PROPOSED NEW PARTY.

It is the highest duty of every Government, and of all political parties, to throw ample protection around la-bor, and to render the laboring classes as happy, contented and prosperous as possible. A nation that does not foster labor cannot expect to compete for standing or position with such that do. It has been a leading idea of the great and progressive Republican party of the United States, to advance the interests of the working people, to equalize wealth so far as possible, and make general the advantages derivable from our free institutions. The record of that party in these directions is good, and Sugar Grove on Friday last, unand it is for this reason that the masses of the laboring people of the land, especially those possessed of intelligence and discrimination, are found eurolled in its ranks. It is not saying much to assert that the working and middle One boy named St. John was struck classes of no other country in the by the engine and his skull broken. broad world are as well off and com- He died at eleven o'clock in the evenfortable as here in the United States, where labor is commensurately awarded and no line of caste is drawn. Yet there are demagogues who are never satisfied to leave well-enough alone, and who seite upon every possible hobby present to ride into power, place or notice on the shoulders of those whom they can deceive into taking stock in their peculiar and hypocriti cal notions. Every once and awhile an exhibition of this cruth is afforded in movements started by soft handed charlatans to disturb the relationship between the working masses and capi-talists, and to win the influence of the former from the ruling political party, in order to fritter it away in glorifying designing men who have their true interests far from their bearts. No great objection can well be made against ordedly combinations having the independence and honest remuner ation of labor in view, for, with or without such association, work is worth its full value and should receive it.

But it is quite a different matter for laborers to erect an agrarian platform and enter the political arena with the sole, but impracticable purpose of disturbing the social system of the country, and effecting a revolution in the existing condition of society. Such a movement is full of danger and can never accomplish that for which it aims, for, as the world was regulated in the past, so is it in the present and so it will be in the future, notwithstanding the efforts of those heat on accomplishing a revolution. The Internationalists have fully demonstrated the folly, if not the wickedness of such attempts to secure a re distribution of worldly goods. They never have and never will accomplish more by their efforts than to bring about bloody results, suffering and degradation to themsives and the cause of labor. Here in this country frequent attempts have been made to establish a political party on the sule basis of labor, the leaders ignoring the fact that there are many national questions affecting se-riously the best interests of the working classes which enter into the principles espoused by the Republican party. Rob the country of the tarif, and where wou'd the prosperity of the peo-ple come from, even if a Labor party held the relax of a tabor party held the relax of government. In the United States, to day, laborers have full share and voice in the government of national and local affairs, just as much as the bond-holding millionaires, and more so, for they hargely prepon-derate in numbers. They need no in dependent reform party so long as their infiguree in that way would be nothing, while it is great if they throw their weight into the scale of the politic al organization that has already ac complished so much for their welfare Holding such views it seems to us like to be held in Columbus, Ohid on the 21st inst., to erect a new party to place candidates in nomination for the bighest effices within the gift of the bighest effices a the bight of the down and habor the party of. Greenville Argus: Sharon, prospectively, is to have two new railroads. One is to be a narrow guage from Cleveland, and the other is to be a branch of the Jamestown, Ashtabula and Franklin road from Andover to Hubbard, where it will divide into two forks, one going to Sharon and the other to Youngstown, O.

The house of Henry McLellan in Vashington township, Erie county, burned down on the morning of the 5th, and Mr. McLellan perished in the flames. He was seventy-five years of age. The other inmates had barely time to escape, and thought at that moment that the old gentleman had got out. They soon, however, saw him through the famous had we want and the start of the source of t time to escape, and thought at that through the flames, but could not rescue him.

Four boys while returning from school on the road between Columbus dertook to see how many times they could cross the track of the A. & G. ing.

-The following items are from the Venango Citizen :

Martin & Epley and Dale & Plumer are making preparations to erect a brick block on Liberty street. Brig-ham & McGough, and John L. Mitchell are ready to build on 13th street, on lot adjoining Brigham & McCough's Block. They propose to have their block completed by July 1st.

Active preparations are being made to commence building as soon as the wheather will permit. More buildings will be erected the coming year in this city, than for five years past. Many wealthy and prominent oil men from different parts of the oil regions, are negotiating property on which to erect residences, having determined to make this city their home.

OH, CORRY, CORRY !- Pain, of the Corry Blade, in taking a western tour, passed through Fort Wayne, Ind.,and this is how it struck him :

Fort Wayne has a population of 17,718; is the county seat and situated at the confinence of the St. Mary and St. Jo. rivers, which form the Maumee; is the railroad center of five railroads and has the locomotive works of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, together with its car and repair shops, which occupy five acres of ground, has seven large brick buildings and gives regular employment to 1,000 men. Besides these, it has several factories; and when 1 see how much railroads do for a city when that city aids them, I am tempted to say "Oh, Corry, Corry ! why in h-11 don't you wake up and do something for yourself?" -Another fatal accident occur-red at the scene of the late railroad

-The trial of Marlow, the Brewery murderer, at Mayville, N. Y., resulted in a verdict of guilty and the prisoner was sentenced to be hanged on the 29th of March. Prisoner's counsel moved for a new trial. If the sentence is carried out the execution will take place at Mayville. Mrs. Artman, Mar-low's mother in-law, swore that she committed the murder herself, as ou the previous trial, but the jury didn't believe her.

1872. The Pittsburgh Commercial. A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

COMMERCIAL will in the future, as in the past, render an undeviating support to Republican Principles, holding that the good of the Republic requires that the Government should remain in the hands of the party that saved it in the great life-or death struggl. In the future as in the past it will speak its own views regarding men and m asures, holding that through free discussion only can safe conclusions be reached and the independence of the press preserved. In this regard we can say simply that the COMMENCIAL will be true to itself and its established character As a Newspaper, nothing will be spare to maintain the position which the Com MERCIAL has always held among the lead

Railroads are being constructed every-where; new projects are almost daily pro-elaimed; population is increasing; inter-prise intelligently directed was never so well rewarded, and the prospect for the wonderful activities of our country is, to say the least, extrem by eacouraging. With all these things he COMMENCIAL is intimately identified, and as a Business Paper, at the center of the greatest manu-facturing district on the continent, has constantly in view whatever of interest readers may reasonably expect to see in gence and general news, collected and from alread. To our patrons we have only words of cheer. With some our readers we have held pleasant relations for years. It will be our aim to deserve the continuance of these relations for many years to come. We feel proud in the fact that the COM-MERCIAL wields an influence second to no journal in the State. Its readers as a ge-eral thing are the influential, intelligent classes. In a circle of hundreds of miles, embracing nearly the whole of Pennesyl-vania, much of Ohio, West Virginia and States beyond, it is the favorite in the counting-house, the office, the store and the family, especially of business and culti-vated classes. To hold this place will be our constant effort.
