LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

The Local Option Law is being agitated, and may be passed during the present session of the Legislature. A. H. Steele's family move to Titusville this week, where he has purchased a residence, and will live at home. Considerable snow has fallen during the past week, but it is melted almost as fast as it falls. The "break-up" has not yet occurred. James Green, Esq., of East Hickory has been on the sick list for a few days. We trust that he will soon be restored to his usual health. Max Hilbroner has lost a Knight of Pythias pin in town recently. Any one returning the same to him will be liberally rewarded. C. D. Brigham editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial has been appointed Auditor General to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. Stanton. Prof. Weber has again taken up his abode among us, and has nearly all his old pupils and several new ones, who have, or wish to have "Music in their souls." A very interesting series of meetings were held in the M. E. Church at East Hickory during last week. Several souls were seeking light at last accounts, and the good work is moving bravely on. Ed. Colleton, Cutter of the Superior Lumber Co. Store, has gone to Pittsburgh, to study the spring styles. We may expect to see some "stunning" suits aired about here, when he comes back. A fire occurred at Pithole one day last week, which destroyed three frame buildings, one of which was occupied by Col. Doolittle, Treasurer of the Pithole & Oleopolis Pipe Co. The others were occupied by W. H. Sprague and N. E. Vanatter. The loss amounts to about $3,000. We published an account of a fracas between two lads named Staver and Gibson, at the Rynd Farm, last week, in which Gibson was stabbed several times by Staver. Gibson has since died, and Staver has been committed to jail at Franklin to await trial for murder. Commissioner Collins fell through the ice while crossing the river at St. Ignace Landing on last Friday morning, to his armpits. He fortunately recovered himself before the current swept him under the ice, and the entire community is heartily rejoiced at his escape. An apportionment of the Congressional Districts of this State reported by the Committee of the Pa. Legislature appointed for that purpose, which makes Erie, Warren, Venango and Forest the 26th Congressional District of Pa. The Venango Citizen demurs. Mr. H. H. Stow and his family are going to Cincinnati on a raft when the "break up" comes. Wm. White, Esq., of Newtwn, and his numerous progeny are going to take the lead or follow suit in the same way—only he expects to go through to Missouri. We wish them and their families abundant success in life. On Tuesday last, Mr. H. J. Miller, agent for Brooks & Co., of Brookville, which is situated in Howe twp., Forest County, was in town, and from him we learn that the tannery erected there last season, of which we spoke at the time it was being built, is completed, and under headway, employing sixty men, at present, with a prospect of enlarging the business sufficiently to employ two hundred. Thirteen houses and a saw mill, beside the tannery compose the town, and business is as brisk as could be wished. Success to the new town.

Delegates of the Young Men's Christian Association will hold a meeting in the M. E. Church on next Sabbath at 3 o'clock P. M. Let everybody turn out. The Petroleum Centre Record says that the Phillips, Boyles & Leslie well on the Krautzer Lease, Cash-Up, which started up some days ago at the rate of 160 barrels per day, but filled up with sand and ceased producing, has been cleaned out and started up again, and is now yielding 70 barrels per day and increasing. Jno. Cobb & Sons have rafted 1,300,000 feet of lumber on the ice in the pond at Lacystown. If the break-up does not interfere with it, they will be on hand for the first rise, with a good number of rafts. Whether this rafting on the ice will prove profitable or not, depends entirely on how the ice goes out. We hope it will prove a success. We know of two modes of establishing a good reputation. One is to be praised by honest men, and the other is to be abused by rogues and scandal-mongers. The former will invariably be accompanied by the latter. Their calumniations are not only the greatest benefit they can confer upon you, but also the only service they will perform for nothing. "A word to the wise," &c. A week ago Monday Mr. G. W. Zents and Master Geo. Holeman saw a young deer on the ice in Holeman's Eddy, and acting on the spur of the moment, gave chase. The deer got upon a slippery place, and fell, when they came up and secured it. Mr. Zents now has the animal penned up, and is taming it rapidly. It will now eat from Mr. Zents' hand and bids fair to become a very affectionate pet. The Venango Spectator of last week apologizes for the lack of local matter in that paper by saying that "the editor has become a father for the first time. It's a boy and we might name it after the man who pays his subscription in the longest in advance. It weighs well we are not ashamed of its verdupois." Accept our congratulations, John. May the child sing as well as its mother, and write as well as its father. George B. Luper closed his school at West Hickory on Friday last, the term having expired. Everything moved off harmoniously during the entire term, and the people, old and young, without a single exception, as far as our informant could learn, give but one opinion, viz: "Mr. Luper has done better for us as a teacher, than any one ever did before." He returns to his home in Crawford County this week, accompanied by the hearty good wishes of all who knew him. Yesterday evening James Fogle, a lad about 17 years of age, was brought before D. S. Knox, J. P., on a charge of threatening Jas. McIntyre with mutilation with a knife. It appears that Fogle had had some difficulty with a younger brother of Jas. McIntyre, and expressed the opinion that "there wasn't a McIntyre running that could get away with him." Jas. thought there was, and peled for the fray. Fogle drew a knife and swore he would carve his (Mc's) intestines from out his frame. The younger brother then clinched Fogle, who made a pass at him with the knife, narrowly missing his heart. The teacher, Miss McCurdy interfered, and tried to get the knife from Fogle, and received quite a severe cut on her hand. He then put up his knife. He was bound over in $100 bail for his appearance at court. Some time during last night Capt. Knox was awakened by his wife, who said she heard a noise in the chicken-coop. Thinking that some animal was disturbing his poultry, the Capt. hurried out to the coop, without dressing, and thought he saw a large dog with a chicken in its mouth. He made a grab at the chicken, when, much to his surprise, he caught hold of a man's hand. The man dropped the chicken and proceeded to make himself invisible, as quickly as possible. The Capt. recognized him, and gave chase. The frozen ground was hard on his bare feet, however, and he was obliged to give it up. He then returned to the coop, and found two chickens and a turkey lying there with their necks wrung. He watched for some time, but the thief did not come back for his prey. We suppose the chappy will be indicted immediately. Somebody, probably the same light-fingered gentleman, spirited away a gangler belonging to J. Wenk. The poultry market is lively just now. Come and see the new Spring Goods just received at the Superior Lumber Co. Store. A complete assortment of Notions, Dress goods, &c.

Letter From Hickory.

HICKORY TOWNSHIP, Mar. 18, '72. Mr. DUNN:—A friend called my attention to an article in the Press of last week, headed "From Howe Township," the manuscript of which never saw daylight outside the office from which it was published, which contained some insinuations against you, and your paper. You have heretofore refrained from noticing the flings of the aforesaid sheet, which action, I think, very creditable to you, as you are not a dirt-slinger, and I suppose, of course, that you intend to follow out the same line of conduct now and henceforth. Consequently, if you will allow me the space, I will say a few words about the thing which pretends to be the Democratic Organ of the County: In the first place, if you will take the trouble to inquire, you will find that the Democrats as a mass repudiate the sheet, and will tell you that they only long for the day when the present editor will die in one of his drunken fits, when they hope to have a decent paper, which they can carry into their houses without the fear of its filthy teachings corrupting and debasing the minds of their children. If you will examine further, you will learn that the Democrats, if left to support the sheet, would let it die of starvation, but they say that the most of the support it obtains is given either by disaffected Republicans, or by those who think that if it does die, a good Democratic paper will be started and Democrats who are now voting with the Republicans will be brought back to their first love. You pretend to have a moral tone;—if you have, why is this blot on its decency, this running sore on its cuticle, allowed to remain there and distribute a certain amount of filth, profanity and infidelity to your county each week? It is true his circulation is limited, owing I suppose to its im-moral tone, and its non-appearance for five or six weeks at a stretch, while its editor is wallowing with more decent swine in the gutter. Clear out this stench in the nostrils or moral people from your midst, and let a paper of that party be printed there which can be taken by all Democrats without reflecting on their respectability, and your town will rise in the estimation of all. I occasionally ask a Tionesta man why steps are not taken to suppress his obscene publication and bring him to justice. The answer has always been: "O, let him alone, he cannot live through many more fits of the mania potu, and he will never quit drinking while he lives." But I have wanted and hoped in vain for his demise, as the whiskey seems to be counteracted by some more powerful poison in his system, and I am afraid he won't die until he has done mischief which can never be repaired. Yours Truly, REPUBLICAN. [We received the above communication almost too late for publication. We had noticed the insinuations contained in the letter referred to, and had concluded to let them pass as we have numberless others, as worthy only of contempt; and hesitated before putting this letter in type, but after showing it to a few of our friends here, and being advised to publish it, we do so, believing that every word in it is true, and will meet with the approbation of our citizens. We frankly confess that we do not own all this establishment, and the reason is because we have not sufficient money to buy it. We suppose we could establish about five of such as the Press office. We intend, the Lord willing to own the REPUBLICAN entire just as soon as our stamps weigh enough, and hope our readers will pardon us because we have not been able to buy it before. As regards to brains connected with this institution, we don't boast, but we have at least enough to edit a paper which contains all our county news; which is issued each week regularly; which doesn't publish every smutty story that comes around, and which our subscribers are always pleased to receive. When an opposition paper is published in our place whose editor has brains enough to fill the above bill, we will then, and not until then, consider that we have a fieman worthy of our quill. Until that time we will proceed as though the Press were not published.—Ed.] Notice. All those knowing themselves indebted on the Subscription to the Presbyterian ministers' salary, are requested to make payment within two weeks, as at the end of that time the balance on the list will be due. W. R. DUNN, Treas.

Forty years ago, Illinois was as far West as most people wished to go, and journeys were made in the legendary "Prairie Schooner," but in these days of Progress and Improvement, the word West has come to mean Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, California and the Territories, and the Traveler reaches almost any point therein by a splendid Line of Railroad. This Line of Railroad is the Burlington Route, which starts from Chicago over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., from Indianapolis over the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western Short Line, and from Logansport over the Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw R. R., and running through Burlington, reaches Omaha, Lincoln, Nebraska City, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas city, connecting with the Union Pacific, Kansas Pacific and other Railroads running from those cities. Always go "By way of Burlington," and you will be sure to be right. The Burlington Route has admirably answered the question, "How to go West?" by the publication of a truthful and interesting document filled with facts in regard to Time, Connections, Accommodations, rates of Fare, and other interesting items, and illustrated by a large map, truthfully showing the whole West which they distribute free of charge.
