The Primary Elections.

As we go to press before the meeting of the Return Judges, we can form no adequate idea of who are to be the Republican candidates for the county offices this fall. Reports from all parts are conflicting,and we can only promise to give our readers full returns next week. We shall probably get out before our usual time, so that we shall not keep our readers in suspense long.

The New Postal Law.

The Post Office Department is now preparing to carry into effect such of the changes made by the new postal code adopted by Congress as require special action on the part of the Postmaster General. The more important changes are these: The branch postoffices in large cities are made money-order offices, and assistant postmasters authorized to sign money-orders in the absence of the postmaster. Five cents is now the fee for money-orders of $10 or less, instead of ten cents, which has heretofore been the minimum fee. A married woman is allowed to be postmaster; and is declared to be feme sole as to her official character. Letters between postoffices not more than three miles apart, may be, at the discretion of the Postmaster General, dispatched to their destination though only partially prepaid,and the amount due collected on delivery. Heretofore such letters have been treated as dead. The rate of two cents to four ounces on newspapers, &c., is changed to one cent on two ounces. Clothing for non-commissioned officers or privates in the United States service may be sent at one cent per ounce. Individuals are allowed to place in postoffices, private boxes for their mail matter. Several of these changes will require a circular from the department before they can go into operation. One of the most important features to the public generally is the authorization of the one cent postal cards for correspondence or for printed circulars, similar to those which were introduced in Great Britain some years since. The price of the card and stamp will be one cent. If a postal card of a private manufacturer is used, the regular three cents postage will be collected.

In conference committee the style of the card was left to the discretion of the Postmaster General, who prefers the open card, and will order that kind only to be manufactured. The face of the card will bear a one-cent stamp, and will be provided with lines for the address, and the back will be ruled for the letter. The price of the card and stamp will be only one cent. It will probably be three or four weeks before they will be ready for sale, as the plates for printing have yet to be prepared.

—The rural districts are pestered with vagrants, many of whom assume the role of beggars that they may more easily steal from their benefactors. Their object is not so much to obtain food or raiment as to afford opportunities for the gratification of their thieving propensities, of which they readily take advantage. While the person from whom alms are solicited is engaged in the work of misdirected charity many of these worthless tramps seize what they can lay their hands on and secrete it among their garments. The country is not the only place where these rascally practices prevail, cities being more or less cursed with them.—Ex.

The Civil Service reform, for which the country is so largely indebted to General Grant, is soon to be put into practical operation in the New York Custom House and Sub-Treasury. The Board of Examiners of the Treasury Department have been in session for some days in New York, making the preliminary arrangements for a thorough reformation in the manner of appointing officials. The chief officers have been consulted by the Board, a thorough understanding arrived at, and at the earliest practicable moment this promised reform will be put in operation. The rules adopted are substantially those in operation in all the Government offices in Washington, and no appointment or promotion will be hereafter made, except in accordance with the result of a competitive examination. The large number of appointees throughout the country, there being over fourteen thousand in the Treasury Department, will render it impossible for the Board of Examiners to inform themselves personally as to the merits of the applicants, and the examinations will be conducted by sub-boards appointed by the several offices. The fact that the important offices of the government in the city of New York are hereafter to be filled without reference to the political influence of the applicants or their backers, and solely on account of merit, is one of great significance, and makes an era in our political history. This reform has been found to be one of the most difficult to accomplish—so difficult that many able politicians thought it useless to attempt it. But under Gen. Grant's instructions, and in pursuance of his settled purpose, it is steadily progressing. If it shall prove successful in New York, of which there can hardly be a doubt, it will be applied to every city in the Union. Those who are in favor of giving this reform a fair test, will find that a sufficient reason for voting for the re-election of President Grant. —Ex.

In answer to a recent article in the Philadelphia Press, stating that three-fourths of the Republican newspapers of the State ignore our candidate for Governor, and that there is a growing dissatisfaction with the ticket among the people, a correspondent of the Evening Bulletin shows that of the one hundred and seventy-five Republican journals in the State, nearly all have hoisted the name of General Hartranft, in connection with the whole State ticket, at their head; the Philadelphia Press, Lancaster Express, and a few insignificant papers of small circulation and influence, whose combined opposition probably will not affect more than five hundred votes, being the only exceptions. The Bulletin editorially states its belief that the real reason of Col. Forney's otherwise inexplicable course is to be found in connection with the Evans war claims, and says "we express this opinion, regretfully, and after a fruitless search in all other directions for a satisfactory answer to the questions so frequently asked concerning the subject."—Pittsburgh Commercial,

—We take the following from the Clarion Democrat:

On Wednesday a son of Mr. C. B. Near had his thumb and forefinger amputated by to near to the busy saw at Corbett & Wilson's saw mill, at the mouth of Little Toby.

A brief visit to Tionesta last week afforded us an opportunity of learning how fast the county seat of Forest is growing. The town is assuming almost city proportions, and the buildings are substantial and tasty. The people are intelligent and enterprising, and we know of no more pleasant place to visit than Tionesta.

The body of Mr. William Harrager, deceased, late of Scotch Hill, who was drowned at Miller's Eddy last week, was found and taken home for interment last Sunday.

The smoke stack of Greenland & Wilson's planing mill at Helen Furnace, was struck by lightning, on Sunday last, but caused no damage save twisting up the guy rods and knocking off a few bricks from the boiler wall.

A man, whose name we did not learn, had his arm caught in the machinery, at the lumber mills of Hahn, Metzger & Co., in Paint township, last Monday, and it was fearfully mangled. Dr. J. F. Ross dressed his wounds.

The store of Isaac Baum, in Ashland township, was robbed on Wednesday night last. An augur hole was bored through the window shutter and the fastening removed, and the thief entered through the window. Between $60 and $70 in money was taken.

—A few weeks ago, Mr. W. D. Jones, of Columbia Farm, met with quite a serious accident, by which he has since been disabled. He was out gunning on the farm, when by some means the gun was prematurely discharged, the charge entering his arm and badly shattering the bone. He is recovering the use of his arm slowly.—Pet. Cen. Record.

Jacob Shriver.

It is probable the Dr. Hunter will procure a third speaker.

—On Monday afternoon 13th street, in front of Joseph Carr's beer saloon, was the scene of a lively fight. Peter Smith, a barber, while in a state of drunkenness, went into the saloon and epithetically attacked the proprietor, supplementing his chin music in a few seconds with a physical demonstration, whereupon the bar-tender Andrew Babcock, seized Peter and pounded him severely. Peter was taken to his home across the street and a doctor sent for. After his wounds were dressed Peter again renewed the attack upon the saloon by breaking the glass in the door, but was seized by a policeman and again taken home. Peter's second exploit was contagious. Several other individuals seemed to thirst for a row, but promises of a general knock-down were nipped in the bud by the police. All parties concerned in the row were arrested and will have a hearing next Monday. The proprietor says that Peter is one of the beer guzzlers he will not sell to, and attributes the row to that fact.—Spectator.

—We take the following from the Elk Democrat:

A man by the name of Nathan Vasbinder, on Monday June 3d, had one of his legs broken, while engaged in floating timber at the mouth of Little Toby, near Portland Mills, this county. The injury was so heavy that amputation was found necessary. The painful operation was performed by Dr. Hartman, of St. Mary, assisted by Dr. Bordell, of this place, on the following Friday.

Mr. Vasbinder died on last Monday night and will be taken to Warsaw, Jefferson county, for interment. He was a married man, about 22 or 23 years of age. He leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

Gilmore Brown, during the storm of last Wednesday, met with a fatal accident, while pealing bark near Dauguscahonda junction, this county. He was out in the woods peeling when the storm came up, and seeing his danger started for a bark shanty near by, and when almost in reach of it a tree fell back of him, and one of the limbs striking him on the top of the head, killed him, as is supposed, instantly. There was no person in the woods with him at the time. Not coming in as usual from his work a party of some twenty men started in pursuit, and after a long search they found him and carried him to the junction. On Thursday morning, Esq. Mead, of this place, held an inquest, but we have not heard the verdict. Mr. Brown was from the State of Maine.
