"Meeting the Situation." The New York Tribune is busy "meeting the situation," and it honestly enough says, "We may be beaten in November." The change from insouciant braggadocio before the elections in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, to the old locofoco cry of fraud and Simon Cameron, is truly refreshing. It argues something for its ingenuity, but it is the logic of the political knave.

When this wise Tribune warns against the "moral effect" of the Pennsylvania corruption, it need not necessarily be construed as an imputation against the good faith and honesty of the masses that voted for General Hartranft. By a rare charity it may be taken as simply an overflow of gloomy bile that so spots this immaculate organ of Liberalism. In its mad disappointment at the popular verdict, it makes an indiscriminate charge of fraud and corruption at the ballot box. The fact is, the interference of the Tribune in Pennsylvania matters was offensive from the first; and its reproaches now are as contemptible as the object is apparent. Because its lies and slanders were detected by a thinking, reading and reasoning population, it sees fit to abuse the honesty it but recently claimed to commend.

Its whole force was thrown into the Pennsylvania canvass for Buckalew. This three-headed dog of the press, ran through every county of the Commonwealth, traducing the good name and fame of General Hartranft. That its persistent howl was disregarded, may be humiliating to the Tribune after its lavish expenditure of foul names and personal abuse, and it may well fear that the "moral effect" will have something to do with the defeat of Horace Greeley in November.

The Republican majorities at the elections, are as follows: Pennsylvania 35,627; Ohio about 15,000, and Nebraska 5,000. In Indiana, Hendricks, the Liberal candidate for Governor, squeezed through on his personal popularity, by less than a thousand, while the balance of the ticket is Republican by large majorities. Indiana is safe for Grant in November. The prospect is really a gloomy one for the Liberals. No wonder their National Committee at Washington has closed its rooms, and their canvass has been reduced to a forlorn attempt to rally after their late disasters.

The Republican prospect on the other hand is encouraging in the extreme. We are assured that New York will cast her electoral ballot for Grant; and so it is counted for us in New Jersey, Delaware and Virginia the same, while in Tennessee the probability is Maynard will be elected Congressman at Large, which will carry that State for Grant. These States have been heretofore claimed by the Democrats.

Republicans! arouse to the work of the hour! Do not lapse into carelessness now. Much indeed, has been accomplished, but the crowning victory remains to be achieved. The "ground swell" from Pennsylvania has knocked the wind right out of the liberal sails, but they are trying to make the head land with their shattered craft. The "tidal wave" is sweeping them farther and farther into the unknown sea.

Let the committeemen in the townships see to it that there is no lack of organization in their respective districts. Let every man who wants to cast his ballot on the 5th of November, see to it that his assessment and registry are properly made. Our work now is to organize, and have a full vote out on election day.

CONGRATULATORY ADDRESS. The State Central Committee to the Republicans of Pennsylvania. HONORS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL CON. OF PA., 716 WALNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA. The Republican State Committee tenders its hearty thanks to the Republicans of the State, for the devotion shown to their principles, and the firmness with which they have maintained the integrity of the party against the fierce assault made upon it.

We cannot, without being invidious, select individuals for special mention, but our thanks are particularly due to the chairmen of the several Republican county committees for their faithful and efficient co-operation, to the many gentlemen throughout the State who have given their time and talents to advocating our cause on the stump, to the able speakers from abroad who have aided us, and the Republican newspaper press of the State, which, by its zeal and ability, commended itself anew to the confidence and regard of our people.

The November battle remains yet to be fought. Practically, its results may be said to be known beyond doubt; but much remains to be done to make the result certain. We go into the fight with our hearts cheered by the great victory just won, and we must win for Grant a still greater triumph than that which we have just gained for Hartranft. In carrying on this struggle to its certain and triumphant conclusion, some who have fought us bitterly and taken active part with the enemy, will attempt to regain in our ranks the places they have willfully forsaken. No one has the right to say that these men shall not now come in and vote for Grant; but we have the right to say, and we trust that the chairman of every Republican county committee in the State will unite with us in saying, emphatically and irrevocably, that no one who has fought against Hartranft shall be permitted to make a speech under our auspices for Grant. Let them hold meetings of their own, if they will, but not with our aid or permission. Very Respectfully, RUSSELL EARLETT, Chairman.

A man named Leo Ben, a tinware peddler of Sugar Creek, attempted to cross the track at the Titusville Driving Park last Saturday while Battler and Brown George were on the home stretch, and was run over by Brown George. The horse struck him on the breast and one of the wheels passed over his neck. He was conveyed to the Bucklin House in an insensible condition, where Dr. Barr was summoned. Upon examination no bones were found broken, but the unfortunate man suffered severely from the injuries sustained. The accident was caused by his being under the influence of liquor. His brother arrived from Triumph and attended him Saturday night and yesterday morning. It is hoped that he will be sufficiently recovered in a few days to be able to go home. Titusville Herald.

About four o'clock this afternoon a number of boys were pushing a flat car on the switch at the Atlantic depot. One of the boys, a son of C. T. Mapes, an old and respected citizen of Franklin, was sitting on the cross beam, and after the car had started, attempted to get off. In doing so his foot caught in some way and falling with his head on the rail the wheels passed over it killing him instantly. Derrick, Monday.

The following memoranda of codicil have just been discovered: Let it be a plain marble slab. No Latin—no embellishments. State when nominated and when deceased. Get Cochran to write epitaph—his style is so simple. Whitelaw will distribute looks of my hair. Be kind to Tilton—he is foolish but young. Plant me in my favorite pumpkin arbor with a gooseberry bush for a footstone. H. G.

In Tennessee the Greeleyized Democracy oppose the election of ex-President Johnson as Representative at Large because he was a Union man during the secession war. They bitterly denounce him as a traitor—to the South, and slavery. That is Greeleyism for you, and a very bad thing it is, too. Mr. Johnson must repent him of his mercy to rebels, when such is his reward for robbing the gallows of many of their carcasses.

It is understood in Washington that Mr. Boutwell will be a candidate for the vacancy which will occur in the United States Senate by Mr. Wilson's election to the Vice Presidency.

Leslie Combs, the playmate of Methuselah and last survivor of the party engaged in a famous architectural enterprise at Babel, is out for Greeley.

The Chappaqua agriculturist harrowed over the three great October States. He now has the harvest. It consists of three great beans.

Maryland can now be counted on as Republican in November. H. G. has spoken there. South Carolina has gone Republican. In a pickle—Housekeepers about this time. A put up job—Canning tomatoes and peaches. Singular that the product of the still should make men so noisy. The man who never told an editor he could better his paper has gone out West to marry the woman who never looked into a looking glass.
