The Bazar is edited with a contribution

The Bazar is edited with a contribution of fact and talent that we so dom find in any journal; and the journal itself is the organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by the fashion-plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing gowns. But the reading-matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great exoclience. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the tireside enjoyment it affords.—N. Y. Eccaning Post.
