The Lorest Republican. W. R. DUNN . . . . . EDITOR. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 5, 1873. ALEX. MCLURE'S RAILROAD SCHEME.

During last week remonstrances were sent from this place to our representatives in Harrisburgh, praying them to use their influence against McClure's dead letter of the free railroad law. than usual, and came in contact with The latter law provides that companies formed under its provisions shall have the right to construct roads so as to cross at grade the track or tracks of fellows, besides being fearfully burned, any other railroad in this State, with were badly bruised. Their lamps were the provisos that the first mentioned all blown out and they were left in the provisos that the first mentioned all blown out and they were left in the dark in this terrible condition. crossings in repair, and shall keep a badly injured, showed a great deal of presence of mind. He discovered one McClures bill provides that it shall of the props to be on fire, which shownot be lawful for any railroad company now or hereafter incorporated under the free railroad law, to cross any public street, road, turnpike, way or Troop's City Hospital, where their railroad at grade, but such railroad wounds were dressed by Drs. Troop shall be constructed so as to pass either and Squires, and every thing done to above or under the same; and that a connection may be made with the rail-road of another company only by its taken to the hospital. It is thought consent and for the purpose of traffic. A first glance at this portion of the bill might create the impression that its object was the saving of life and limb, and that Mr. McClure was a badly in the face, on the hands, arms philanthropist of the first water; but, look again: the real object is to allow no more reads to be constructed unless no more roads to be constructed unless the Pennsylvania Railroad has the lion's share of the profits. What company controlled by sane men is going to build an "underground" railroad, or a road entirely upon trestles? And what reason have we to believe that the Pennsylvania railroad, or any road controlled by it, would allow a connection with a new road unless the advantage were all on one side? Mr. Fire Department were promptly on McClure is the loudest-mouthed reformer in the Legislature, and yet if anybody wants a dirty job done, he is the man to advocate it, and dress it up, teo, in such a virtuous garb, as to so deceive the unwary that they sometimes vote for it, thinking they are doing a good thing for their constituents and humanity generally.

-We take the following items from the Venango Citizen :

Forty-five paupers are now being boarded at the Hotel de Pour, presided over by Sam'l McAlevy.

On Friday last the woolen mills, in Mercer, were burned. Loss about $75,000 insured for $23,000.

For the first time in the history of Franklin a colored man is announced as a caudidate for a public office, the name of the candidate is T. L. Green, and the office which he seeks is that of constable of the First Ward.

Charles Fletcher, ex-manager of the Exchange Hotel, returned to this city on Friday last and on Saturday was arrested on charge of larceny as bailee.

-The Scranton Republican of Tuesas follows : Four sons of Mrs. Eliza Ward, accompanied by two boys named Gillon, went into the mule-way of the Oxford shaft for the purpose of getting coal, which it appears they were in the habit of doing. It railroad bill, which, if passed, makes a seems they penetrated a little further lican. fire-damp which exploded when the finme of their lamps came in contact with it. The explosion must have been, of considerable force for the little ed a faint light. He took off his coat and set it on fire, which furnished light for them to get out. The four Ward brothers were brought to alleviate their suffering and make them comfortable. Michael and James that James cannot recover. Mrs. Ward, who has also a small infant, is at the hospital and bestowing a mother's care on her four suffering children. Joseph, age fourteen years, is burned manner. Patrick, age ten, is thought to be unconscious. Every particle of hair is burned from his head, and his face, hands, arms and legs are worse than his brother's. Edward, aged about eight years, escaped with comparatively few injuries.

About twenty minuter to one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the residence of Mr. Louis Howard, on High street, Barnsdall hill. The the spot, but the house being situated at so great an elevation from Church Run, where the steamers took water, the hose burst before an effective stream could be brought to bear, and the house was speedily burned to the ground. The adjoining dwelling to the west also fell a victum to the flames. It was the property of Jacob Elmer. The house adjoining to the east, owned by Mr. Richard Corry, was saved with difficulty, by buckets of water. The fire caught from a defective flue, and was discovered by Mrs. Howard. Mr. Howard had an insurance of $400 on his house, and $200 on the farniture which will probably cover his loss. Mr. Corry was also insured $500 on his house, and is fully covered, the furniture being saved. Mr. Jacob Elmer was not insured, and he estimates his loss on the house at $200. The greater portion of his furniture was fortunately saved. The Fire Department displayed great energy on the occasion, and when the hose burst they took to the buckets with a will and succeeded in checking the progress of the fire. The Fire Police also rendered efficient sesvice

About 11 o'cluck Friday night, day gives the following account of an explosion of fire-damp : Yesterday af man on train 14, fell from his train ternoon about five o'clock a serious between the depot and Walter St. sta-28th ult., Eugene Aucman, a brake-man en train 14, fell from his train and melencholy accident happened at the Oxford mines, in Hyde Park, by which six small boys came very near losing their lives. The particulars, as far as we were able to ascertain, are a. Was apparently about 23 years of A. was apparently about 23 years of and dead. It is supposed that he slip-ped and fell between the cars. Mr. age and resided at Genesee, N. Y. His body was taken to Stuart's undertaking establishment this morning, and after being carefully coffined was shipped, on train twelve to-day, to his friends at Genesce.-Meadville Repub-

The Blade, in an article upon the present state of Corry says that, "looking upon all the bearings which can be brought before us relative to our city's present position, we are led to the conclusion that lack of unanimity, lack of sociability, lack of home pride, distrust of one another, and the great desire for braggart display, are the great causes of our present depression ; and to these may be added the great desire to cut down prices for necessaries at home, while a falsely liberal expenditure for luxuries abroad is indulged in."

He gave bail for his appearance at 28th. Alderman Daily's office for a hearing, which takes place to-day.

The Savings Bank of Franklin, chartered by the Legislature in 1872, has by a recent supplement been chang-ed in name to the Dollar Savings Bank, of Franklin. The gentleman engaged in the enterprise have secured the room occupied by Willard Lind-sey's Jewelry store in Plumer's block, and will commence business early in April with a capital of $100,000. This bank will fill a want long felt in the community, materially advance the business interests of the city, and be a paying investment to the stockholders.

On Wednesday Richard Hastings was arrested by policeman Bowman for forgery, on warrant issued by Alderman Heasley. By some means he obtained a blank pipe line order, and filled it out in favor of Fisher Bro's., for seventy-five barrels of oil, and signed it "Hastings & Co.," there be-ing such a firm in the oil business here, but with whom Richard has no connection. In order to get the money fram Fisher Bro's., agent in this city, Mr. T. P. Miller, it was neceseary to have the order certified by Mr. W. Nichols, agent for Vandergrift & Foreman's pipe line. 'To obvinte this difficulty Richard forged Nichols's name, and on presentation received a they can win it, as they ought to do. check from Mr. Miller to the amount of $127,50 The forgery was soon discovered, and the forger arrested. When taken before alderman Heasley he acknowledged his guilt and was committed to juil.

Brighter days are coming-just think of it. Blue birds, dandelious, chrayans, seissor grinders, young ou-ions and hand organs will soon sing, shine, show, sharpen, scent and shrick that spring has come.

-The various trade organizations of New York are said to be preparing for another general strike. Of course the principle effect of such a move-ment will be to cripple and paralyze many productive branches of industry, and to entail wide spread suffering and distress. The worst feature of these strikes is the threats and viclence used by these strikers against men who are willing to work during the lock-out. We do not say that Trades Unions are not essential to the protection of the interests of the workingmen, but it is the enforcement of measures which infringe on individual rights, that arouses honest indignation against them. No one will deny that in the case of a dispute between a master and workmen, if the man chooses to give up his work, he has a right to do so; while if the master can get another man who will do his work as he wishes it to be done for the pay which he is willing to give, the master and that man have as much right to agree without consulting the man who refused the employment as he had to throw up his engagement. Should the threatened lock-out occur, it is to be hoped employers will inflexibly insist on their right to be as free as their workmen. The struggle will call for pluck and perseverance, but

A meeting was called to meet in Pittsburgh one night rencently in favor of auti-license. The liquor dealers there-upon put their heads tagether and determined upon a flank movement which they did by packing the hall with their own votaries. When the temperance interest attempted an organization they were hustled from the stage and their antagonists obtained full sway. No temperance man was allowed to say a word. Resolutions were passed asking the Legislature to enact a more stringent license law in place of the Local Op-tion act, and the meeting adjourned. JoB WORK neatly excented at this office
