An old lady named Mrs. Grove cars on the Jamestown Railway, at Summit the first station beyond Frankpassage on the up accommodation train, and by mistake got on the main track as the meruing express from Oil City app, onched the station. The unfortunate woman was thrown under the cars, which passed over her and inflicted fearful injuries from the effects of which she died shortly after.

There is no occasion dle of the track, three cars passing for special haste, but this is the time over him, crushing the poor fellow for American industrial enterprise to terribly beneath the axles, and hurting him internally. Medical attendance was promptly secured, and at a into hour last night the unfortunate lowing item in regard to Jos. K. Turman was still alive, though in a critical condition. He resides in Buffalo.

-The New York Times, in the course of an article on the situation,

Congress has adjourned, and its members have gone home to their constituents, to make such peace with them as is possible. The President has begun his second term, and has laid his unpretending programme of intentions before the people. For the next eight or nine mouths, the country will have comparative freedom from political discussion. The relief will not be unwelcome. There has been a long and wearisome period of excitement. commenced before the opening of Congress in 1871, and it bas lasted, with only brief intervals, since-more than fifteen months. It has not been as profitable as it might have been, and has at no stage been very agreeable to the people at large, if we except the moment of triumph over the election. Before the Presidential election the country was aroused, not by the discussion of new issues, or by the agitation of great principles, but by a pelitical intrigue, of a low character, by which it was sought to cheat the people into restoring nower to a condemned and obsolete party. The struggle that ensued was one in which little of real value was contributed to the political experience of the country. was not a question of different methods of administering a Constitution which all respected. It was only a question of whether a very old set of political schemers should get possession of the offices under false pretences. In such a contest, it was very needful that the friends of good Government should win. But their action was necessarily defen sive, and they never felt that their opponents were worthy of their steel. Any one who will recall the expreshas most reason to trust, in regard to neglect .- Spectator. to the late campaign, will acknowledge that they were almost invariably somewhat contemptuous, and at most indignant. The best minds of the counan inspiring task.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL.

The following figures from the forthcoming report of the Auditor General's Ruilroad Report for the past year give some idea of the gignatic operations of the Pentsylvania Central Railroad Company. This company has in operation 593 first class cars; 8,811 freight cars; 1,741 coal cars. The road crosses 154 iron, 17 stone, and 35 wooden bridges. It has 203 depots and 97 wood and water stations, and 614 miles of steel rails.

During the past year its passenger trains traveled 2,009,374 miles, while its freight trains traveled 10,471,583 Five million two hundred and and fifty thousand three hundred and ninety-three passengers, of all classes. were carried, of which number 214,-448 were through passengers. The freight carried amounted to 7,844,779 tons, 1,155,299 tens being through freight. This is classified as follows: Anthereite coal, 776,226 tons; bituminous, 2,892,845; petroleum and other oils, 462,226; pig iren, 334,947; railroad iron, 157,026; other iron, 222,192; iron and other ores, 297,120; agricultural productions, 1,134,517; merchandise and manufactures, 504,-445; live stock, 396,296; lumber, 463,-889, unclassified, 20,000.

The receipts were as follows: Form passengers, $4,262,017; freight, $16,-856,891; mails and express, 604,542; miscellaneous, $289,073; making a a grand total of $22,012,525. The cost of maintaining and operating the road was $13,764,673, showing an excess of receipts over expenditures of $8,247,852. The mortality list foots up 146 persons killed and 314 wounded. Of the killed, ten were passengers, sixty-seven employees, and sixty-ulae "others." Of the wounded, fifty

The latest advices from England cotton trades, as well as in the iron market; that its pressure is daily becoming more disastrons, and interfering seriously with almost every known branch of business. So widespread is the suffering and so profound the alarm, that the subject of government proposing a temporary stoppage of the export of coal is discussed with conwas killed yesterday morning, by the siderable animation in commercial circles, and there seems to be a general tendency to agree that in the face lin. She had been waiting to take of such a national disaster as the present scarcity and high price of fuel, the ordinarily rigid laws of free trade might legitimately be relaxed for the good of the community. Another subject also which has provoked discussion is the propriety of the government if possible, becoming the owners of the collieries of the United King-While a freight train on the Atlan- dom, even in preference to acquiring perity than England ever saw, exist begin to gather its rewards.

It is now about a year and a half since Joseph K. Turner, a young lawyer of this city, was consigned to the penitentiary. The facts connected with his arrest, trial and imprisonment are familiar to all our people. It was the general opinion then that his sentence was much more severe than his crime, or the crime he attempted to commit warranted. We have lately talked with a person who has seen Turner. He is now lying sick in the prison hospital, and it is doubtful that he will ever recover. His father is more than eighty years of age. He has no influential friends to whom he can appeal to aid him in procuring a pardon for his son, and is too old and feeble to attend personally to the getting up and circulating of a petition to the President. In view of these facts, a petition to President Grant will be drawn up and circulated here in Titusville, praying for the pardon of Turner.

-A span of horses and a carriage, belonging to Brookville, met with a serious accident at that dangerous portion of the Clarion road known as the narrows, a short distance below this city on Saturday. The passing of an upward bound train frightened the horses and they jumped over the bank. One horse rolled under the hind truck of the last car and was so badly burt that it had to be shot. The other horse was saved by being farther up the hill, and the driver escaped by being thrown out or jumping out. The carriage was completely demolished. At the same time a horse under the saddle became frightened and threw its rider. The condition of this piece of road is very dangerons. The persons whose duty it is to put in proper order should be made to do so at once, sions of the men whom the country or suffer the consequences of their

Thomas Ray, of Freehold township, Pennsylvania, went to the woods one try felt that the coalition was a con- day last week, with a team of horses, spiracy, and however necessary it and while there he hitched his team may be to crush a conspiracy, it is not to a tree he had cut and lodged some years before, to draw it down. When LIQUORS, For Medical use ONLY he started, the tree being rotten broke in two about twenty feet from the stump; and fearing the top would fail on him, Ray ran from his team under the body of the tree. Here he be-came tangled in the brush and deep snow, and the top end of the butt of the tree struck him on the hip, crushing it fearfully. Drs. Smith and Wright were called and the bones set, and the patient well cared for. It was feared at the time that there were internal injuries which would prove fatal, but he is now doing well and strong hopes are entertained of his coming out all right.

The New York papers mention a case which shows that some rascally genius has invented a new device wherewithal to ensuare mercanary rustics. It seems that a citizen of Mattoon, sent to the Superintendant of Police at New York a lithographed circular similar to those that are used in the "saw-dust 'game," which he had received through the mails. This epistle represents that its author bought at a very low figure, 1,200 yards of fine silk that had been stolen during the Boston fire, a sample of which accompanies the circular; that he is sick and afraid to dispose of it in the city, and that he is compelled to propose that he will sell it to the party addressed for 25 cents a yard, to be paid for in installments of $50 per month. An inneent-looking postscript adds that a remmittance of $10 will be necessary to get the silk out of pawn.

We are glad to observe that Auditor state that the coal famine in that General Allen's health has so far imcountry has produced a crisis in the proved as to permit him to resume his duties in the office to which he has been elected. He has undergone some very severe suffering from the disease with which be was attaked shortly after the election, but medical skill has conquered in his case, and he is able to walk without assistance. He arrived in this city last night .-Harrisburg Tel.

-For several days past a smart looking youth has been going round among the servant girls soliciting subscriptions for a supper or festival on St. Patrick's night. He must have fleeced the inocent maidens out of two or three hundred dollars. They all describe him as a nice looking young man, with a slight Irish brogue. He is now probably practicing the same game in same of the surrounding cities.

CROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINES.

The following are selected from thousands of testimonials of similar character. as expressing the reasons for the preferonce of the Grover & Baker Machines over et all like the Grover & Baker Machine, in the first place, because if I had any other, I should still want a Grover & Baker; and having a Grover & Baker it answers the purpose of all the rest. It does a greater variety of work and is easier to issen than any other,"—Mrs. J. C. Croly (Jenny June)

"I have had several years' experience with a Grover & Baker Machine, which has given me great satisfaction. I think the Grover & Baker Machine is more easily marraged, and less that to get out of order. I prefer the Grover & Baker decidedly,"—Mrs. Dr. Watts, New York.

"I have had one in my family for some two years; and from what I know of its workings, and from the testimony of many of my friends who use the same, I can hardly see how anything sould be more complete or give better salimfaction."—
