-The Dispatch says that on Friday fore-noon a solitary wild duck, seeing a little clear water near the end of the E. & P. dock lit there and swam around contentedly. Shortly afterwards, an engle come sailing over, and swooping with lightning-like rapidity, seized the duck, which made a pitcous noise. The eagle was then within a faw feet of some men on the dodk, and chunks of coal were pitched at it, but the eagle leisurely toro the duck to pieces with its strong talons, and then sailing along the bank dropped the pieces into the snow and came back as though to search for fresh game. Had there been a gun handy, the eagle would have fared little better than his quarry.

called for it several times before it on St. Clair street who will stand up came, and when it arrived he was ready with his money to pay the premann. Six weeks after, or six weeks ago. Mrs. Nadra left home one morning, and her husband, who was not feeling well, remained in the house, The children were out and in during the morning, but were away to a neighbor's during the afternoon. A Liborer at the next house saw Nadra once during the afternoon, but when | Chicago Times says that high waymen the wife returned at evening she found him cold and dead. Coroner Goau was called, and, as he was given to understand that the death involved a loss of $15,000 to the insurance companies, he adjourned the inquest, The stomach was removed and sent to Dr. Lyon for analysis, in order that it might be determined whether his death was the result of natural causes, Dr. McGraw conducted the post mortem, which was full and complete, The inquest was concluded yesterday by Coroner Guan, and the case was disposed of.

Dr. Lyon testified that he made his first test for prussle acid, and not finding any, tested for vegetable poison. He found a small quantity of what he believed was vegetable poison, but could not determine its nature. By rubbing a little on the eye, the fluid caused the pupil to dilate, like the action of belladonna. It was his belief that there was not enough of this fuid to cause denth, even if it had. been real vegetable poison as suspected. Dr. MeGraw testided at considerable length as to the post-mortem fully explaining his operations. Dr. Spranger testified that he had treated the decensed for congestive chills, and it was his opinion that death ensued from a chill of this sorn. Dr. McGraw thought that doubt had ensued from disease, and the tury returned a verdiet that the deceased came to his death foun canses unknown to them. This will probably and the case. The wife is certainly cloned from any suspicion of guilt but yet the bas.

> A newsboy having been garroted and robbed in Jacksonville, Ill., the will be attacking reporters soon, as those gentlemen stand next below newsboys in the scale of journalistic opulence.

The Buffalo Express, under the head of " Tootsicums," expresses lears that "the unLappy women of Louisville and St. Louis will become known throughout the world as possessing the largest feet of any people of whom we have a record."

A new temperance organ is advertised; it is called a "first-glass paper." Surely there must be a mistake somewhere ?

The Chainnooga Headd got so many typographical errors into one article that it had to reproduce the whole thing for fear all its readers would turn lunathes.

An editor once wrote: "We have received a basket of strawberries from Mr. Smith, for which he will receive our compliments, some of which are four inches in circumference."

A rural exchange gets off the following: "An heirers is stopping at a neighboring village whose washing costs eight dollars a week. Our acquaintances" with heiters is very slight, and we had no idea they were so dirty."

An old gentleman was discovered the other day by a encious Peoria itporter, il-hing for his wig, which had dropped down a cistern. He asked the reporter not too ay any thing alout it, and to didn't.
