Time of Trains

Table with 3 columns: Train, Direction, Time. Includes Southward and Northward routes.

Passengers will have to understand that "Northward" in the table is down the river, and "Southward" is up the river.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Those beautiful lots just north of Mrs. Henry's residence can be bought cheap, on long time, by applying to the editor of this paper.

Hon. G. W. Scofield has our thanks for a copy of the Census Report.

John Hulings has fenced in the lot on the river bank, in the rear of the Blum property, and is devoting it to agricultural purposes.

The contractors have commenced work on the creek bridge and we presume that the structure will be finished before any one is aware of it.

Rev. Recser held forth last Sabbath, but unfortunately we did not hear of it until it was too late to make the announcement.

The shrubbery in the court house yard is growing finely, and not many years will pass before that same yard will be beautiful to gaze upon.

A cripple was in town yesterday who had lost an arm and an eye in a steambath disaster. Of course he got all the floating change that was about.

M. W. Tate Esq. is putting a very neat fence about his property which will add materially to the looks of his premises. These things have a permanent and homelike look which we delight to see.

W. W. Mason Esq. is fixing up the platform in front of his office, and proposes to put an awning above it. That will be an awfully nice place to rest after taking a little too much local option.

Our townsmen Messrs. May and Kelley, will start with their families for Cape May, in the course of a week or two, there to spend a couple of months sea-bathing. May they have a good time.

A large force is at work on Dithridge's mill, across the creek, and they expect to be able to raise the frame in the course of a week or ten days. This mill, when finished, will be the largest one in the lumber regions.

A few radishes, a little lettuce and some young onions have found their way to this port. Such are the joys of early summer here, and we only need some fresh, high-priced strawberries to make our happiness complete.

J. G. Dale used to be a famous fisherman, but has not been out for ten years, until yesterday, when he procured some tackle and went out. There was a big rain in the afternoon, and some are superstitious enough to ascribe it to Mr. Dale's fishing. For our part, however, we don't believe it.

On Saturday evening last a congregation of about a dozen creatures made the night hideous for an hour or more, by shouting, swearing, singing, groaning, and dancing on the streets, in imitation, we suppose, of the Modocs in the Java beds. It is quite possible that they enjoyed it, but we are morally certain that no one else did.

And what about the 4th of July? Is not the American eagle to scream in Tionesta? Is the Declaration of Independence a dead letter, or is our civilization a failure? Do the heathen Chineses no more manipulate fire crackers or Roman candles? Is the manufacture of gunpowder prohibited, or is the Roberts torpedo still injunctive? If not, why in the name of the American Flag, why in the name of the benighted tax payer, why in the name of local option, is this thus? Are there none so patriotic among us as to read the Declaration of Independence, or to reproduce that grand old 4th of July oration which covers all the ground from the Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers to the Millennium? Rouse ye! Rouse ye! And let us have an old-fashioned Fourth—one which will be remembered by the little ones with enthusiasm when they become the patriarchs of the land.

Davenport, the Elocutionist and "Facial" Artist, gave two entertainments in Lawrence's hall, on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. On the first evening we had the pleasure of listening to and seeing the performance, and cannot do otherwise than extol Mr. Davenport for the faithful delineation of the several characters he assumed. His elocution was good, his ventriloquism excellent, and his facial changes little less than wonderful. At any time when he shall choose to give another entertainment he will undoubtedly be greeted by a full house. The same mistake, however, was made by some individuals as has been made at every public entertainment we have ever attended in Tionesta, to-wit: a misunderstanding as to whether the exhibition advertised should entertain the audience, or whether two or three self-appointed "cute" ones among the audience should deify Mr. Davenport intimated his disgust of the proceedings in pretty plain terms, which had the effect of making the rowdies lower their voices so much that they only annoyed those immediately around them. A liberal bounty should be offered for the scalps of such disturbers of the peace, and they might stand a chance of being exterminated, and the public be rid of a detestable nuisance.

In almost every paper we pick up we read something about the champion old lady, who lived below Pittsburgh somewhere, who died aged ninety-four, or thereabouts. Now when you talk about the oldest people, why've got them. They live about one mile this side of Tylersburgh, and their name is Allio. The man is one hundred and eight years old, and the woman one hundred and six. They are French people, live alone and the old lady does all the housework. So don't stop in the nighties if you are going to produce champion old people. Any one can be satisfied of the truth of our statement by inquiring of any of the citizens of Tylersburgh.

Yesterday Mr. D. W. Clark started out into the old part of the county, trout-fishing, piloting A. A. Van Dusen, Esq., and John Robinson, County Clerk, of Mayville, and Mr. Ed. Booty of Jamestown, N. Y. Ex-Governor Featon, also, was to have been of the party, but failed to put in an appearance at the appointed time. Another party, consisting of Mr. Davenport, the Elocutionist, Wm. Lawrence, Davy Hillands and J. E. Wenk, are to start to-day. It is our wish that they may get a good many trout, but we don't want them to get them all, because we are going out next week.

Barney Long, a chunk of a boy gets a number of Oil City Derrieks every morning by the first train, and sells them all out before he gets. This is the earliest news we can get here now, and we hope our citizens will patronize Barney every time they can raise a nickel.

J. B. Long, the excellent harness maker and saddler, next door, has built up a business so fast that he has been obliged to bring on a journeyman to devote the labor of the establishment with him. Business is brisk but he is always able to take a little more.

A gentleman named Wilson, from Titusville is at present attending to the wants of the customers of Knox's Drug Store. The captain's mill takes up so much of his attention that he cannot attend personally to the store.

C. D. Mable has erected a temporary kitchen and dining room, near the site of the old Holmes House kitchen, to serve during the warm weather. It's cool and convenient.

SCHOOL MEETING.

On the evening of the 9th inst., the School Board met and organized at the office of M. W. Tate Esq. S. D. Irwin Esq. was elected School Director, to supply the vacancy caused by removal of L. L. Hackett from the place.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President - H. O. Davis. Treasurer & Collector - D. S. Knox. Secretary - S. D. Irwin.

The school tax levied this year is 13 mills; building tax 4 mills. The expenditures of last year were found to be about $650. The present levy will yield a fund of about $700 for the ensuing year.

It was decided to open the schools about the 1st of September next, to continue six months. On a resolution, the salary of teachers graduated as follows: Teachers of upper school to receive $40 per month; teachers of lower school to receive $35 per month.

Board adjourned to meet at the call of the President. T. B. Cobb, and his assistant L. Agnew, have returned from Pittsburgh, where they have been attending to the lumber of John Cobb & Son, since the last flood. They report the lumber market poor, with no prospect of any change for the better very soon.

The supplement to the sidewalk ordinance, requiring the owners of walks to repair the same, where needed, have been posted sufficient length of time to give everybody proper notice and operations should be commenced at once.

Samuel Haslet was followed quite a distance down Little Tionesta, the other day (not Sunday), by an enormous wild cat. It became monotonous after a while, however, and Samuel heaved a rock at the cat, who dug out.

Nor yet do our young men organize a base ball club. If there ain't some steps taken in that direction soon, we shall come to the conclusion that this is not a good year for base ball clubs.

Robinson & Bonner have a full stock of Palm, Leghorn, Wool and Fur Hats for men and boys. Also Ladies' and Misses trimmed Hats.
