

President Andrew D. White said: My friends, if there is any man who from the bottom of my heart I pity, it is the man who believes that all mankind are cheats and swindlers, and who considers life merely a game of grasping and griping. If there is any man for whom I feel deep regret, as for a man sure to fall, sure to live and die wretchedly, it is the man who goes forth into the world believing that the only motives in this world are selfish motives. Depend upon it that selfishness is not the only motive in this world—nay it is not even the strongest motive.

—Do the people of the United States know that they are living under a merciless, a crushing despotism? Do they know that Grant is a tyrant and the army and United States Courts are tools in his hands wherewith he means to crush out every vestige of freedom and ride roughshod over their necks to imperial power? Do they appreciate these solemn facts? If they do not, it is time they should. The Democratic papers assure us that such are the facts—and who ever knew a Democratic paper to lie.

Zanesville is the happy land for burglars. A few nights since a lady heard some one walking in her house. She supposed it was her daughter walking in her sleep, got up, caught the supposed gambambulist, but discovered that it was a man and not her daughter that she had in her embrace. The discovery only made her squeeze the harder, and had she not screamed for help, the fellow would probably not have attempted to escape. The woman will know better than to scream the next time.

A Norwich gentleman of broad social views wrote a note to the landmaid who wrestles with his crockery, inviting her to take a sleigh ride with him. Unfortunately the slave was unable to read, and brought the note to wife of his bosom to decipher. Wretched and heartsick, the miserable woman awaited in agonizing suspense till her husband's return, and the family physician says he didn't consider it possible for a delicate female to do so much damage.

The Yale Record relates that once, when a party of students had investigated Daniel Pratt, the great American traveler, into a small close room, which they were vigorously filling with tobacco smoke, he stopped for a moment in his discussion of "The specialties of all specialties," or something of that sort, and in his mild way remarked: "Gentlemen your speaker ain't a ham!"

A most shameful trick was played upon a lover at Terre Haute by his rival. The generous wooer had procured a package of gum-drops to present to Angelina ever dear, but the other man maliciously substituted there for a paper of white beans. It was not until 3 o'clock in the morning that matters were explained and a reconciliation effected.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Kansas City has decided to purchase a quantity of rock and some hammers, and when young men apply for work and say, as most of them do, that they are willing to do anything, give them a job of breaking stone—the Association depending on selling the same to the city for macadamizing the streets.

A little boy in Springfield, after his customary evening prayer, a night or two ago, continued, "And bless mamma and Jenny, and Uncle Benny," adding, after a moment's pause, the explanatory remark, "his name is Hutchison."

A Georgia editor, friendly to Mr. Stephens, says of another Georgia editor who does not like him: "He may throw himself back on his hind legs and bark at Mr. Stephens until his lusty lungs are as airy as his chuckle head is."

A foolish young man in Savannah, Georgia, fired his revolver in the bungalow of an empty kerosene barrel. The barrel burst, breaking his nose, gashing his forehead, and knocking him more senseless than he was before.

The residents of Pekin, Ill., are paying $250 a barrel for water, under the impression that it is some rare and hitherto unknown foreign beverage.

A California lady, having resolved to commit suicide, wrote to a friend that "it almost killed her to think of having to leave her poor children."

A young man in New York is becoming independently rich by breaking off marriage engagements objectionable to his father at $100 a time.

An interior journal offers this inducement: "All subscribers paying in advance will be entitled to a first class obituary notice in case of death."

A young man in a Danbury boarding house created considerable scandal the other evening by kissing his wife by mistake in the hall.

A young man at a party the other evening being asked if he could play the harpicoard wanted to know if it was any thing like seven up.

A Danbury man says he has read of beggars dying with stockings full of silver, but the only beggars he ever saw had real estate in theirs.

The man who don't advertise thought a neighbor was drunk who attempted to drain his cellar by cutting a hole through his roof.
