"THROW PHYSIC TO THE DOGS."-The Graphic recently gave an illustration of the new chromo issued by the Murray Hill Publishing Company, 129 East Twenty-eighth Street, from Bispham's painting—"Throw Physic to the Dogs." The subject is a little girl physicing various specimeus of the canine race. The scene is a laughable one, and the different attitudes of able one, and the different attitudes of the dogs are exceedingly pleasing.

It was designed to illustrate Dr. Foote's aversion to drugs, and accompanies each copy of his well-known, "Plain Home Talk and Medical Common Sense." The Doctor's practice is thoroughly "New School," and in this way he stands prominently out from the profession a successful practitioner.

the profession a successful practitioner.
The book is a volume of 912 pages and 200 illustrations, filled with facts and reason relating to mankind, and their social and physical status. The Graphic says of it: "It is an encyclopedia of useful knowledge." A noted clergyman of this city testifies to its merits, remarking: "It is a library in itself." The Franklin Repository, of Chambashure Presented Chambersburg, Pa., speaks of the pic-ture as "a beautiful chromo, very pleasant, and so enjoyable as to be almost good company .- N. Y. Express.

A sportsman was seated with his servant on a bank, consoling himself under the fatigue and disappointment of unsuccessful pursuit. "Well, Pat," said he, "this is expensive work. I've been calculating that every one of these birds has cost me above fifty pounds." "Faith, your honor," said Pat, throwing a dash of humor into the sympathizing simplicity of his reply, "I'm sorry for that; but it's lucky there's no more of them."

A country minister of "limited capacity" recently married for a second wife a widow of some property. Being an ardent servant of Mammon, a former neighbor asked him if he did not do well by the second marriage. "Oh yes, indeed," he said, with animation; and then, as an expression of reverence stole into his face, he added, "and what is very remarkable, the clothes of my wife's first husband just

A man living in Prospect street near Jay, Brooklyn, went home the other night in a bad temper. His sup-per wasn't ready. "What in thunder's the matter?" he asked, though "thun-der" wasn't the word he used. "The fire isn't as her asked. fire isn't as hot as your temper, my dear," was the reply. He didn't ask any more conundrums that evening.

A tale of two Norristown husbands: One, upon leaving his office the other night, stopped at a book store, paid $1.25 for a new novel, and went home and presented his wife with "A Pair of Blue Eyes." The other, after leaving his office, stopped at a saloon, paid $1.25 for whisky, and went home and gave his wife a pair of black eyes.

Brownlow is after General Hill again. This time he frankly writes to him: "You are a small pattern of a man-a vulgar fraction of human nature reduced to its lowest torms." Hill is a Southerner by birth, a proud, highspirited Southerner, but up to this time he hasn't so much as set Brownlow's barn on fire.

Sixteen years ago, a Carolina father who knew the virtues of the rod. thrashed his big boy, and sent him out to hoe corn. The first seen of him since was last week, when he returned rnia with $50,000 on his hoe. When you send a boy to hoe corn always "lick" him first.

One of the sewing girls employed in making the Grapic balloon is Miss McQuade of Philadelphia, who is entirely blind. She does her work as neatly and quickly as her more fortunate companions, guiding the long seams and avoiding mistakes by her careful finger tips.

The invention of a flying machine by an old man of eighty-five, in the East, induces the Courier-Journal to say: One would suppose the only flying machine an octogenarian would care about would be an ascension robe.

"You seem to be a little hoarse, my love," remarked Simpkins to his spouse, when she had a cold. "A lit-tle horse, indeed!" she replied, mis-liking the personal allusion. "Better be that than a big mule."

A Judge at Montgomery, Ala., recently interrupted a very flowery young orator with "Hold on, hold on my dear sir! Don't go any higher! You are already out of the jurisdic-tion of this court."

A gentlman observing a young lady earnestly at work knotting fringe for a petticoat, asked her what she was doing. "Knotting," replied she; "pray, can you knot?" "I can not, madam," he answered.

Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., of Ledger fame passes fourteen hours of the twenty four in sleep. Some declaimers against his species of literature think it would be better for the youth of the land if he would sleep the other ten. Oliver Wendell Holmes, being asked by a young doctor what sign to put on his door, replied, "The smallest fevers gratefully received."

A Lowell, Mass., boy took nine hundred and fifty boxes of pills last week. He took them from the factory, and traded them for sticks of licorice.

Taded them for sticks of licorice.
