LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. D. C. Tomlinson, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will preach in the Universalist Church, on Friday evening, Oct. 10. Services to commence at 7 o'clock.

—Mr. J. M. Sharp and family, and Mrs. H. H. May, arrived in town last evening, after an absence of several months. All are well, and apparently glad to see Tionesta again.

—Some chap captured Dithridge's large boat yesterday morning, loaded it with butternuts, and started down the river. The constabulary forces are after them, and if they are captured they will learn that the way of small transgressors is hard.

—Daniel Black, proprietor of the Forest Hotel, opposite the Court House desires us to inform the public that the business will go on as usual, and he will still do all in his power to make guest comfortable. Notice his advertisement on first page.

—Fox & Denier's Pantomime Troupe give an entertainment in Grandin's Opera House, Tidioute, this evening. This is said to be one of the very best entertainments traveling. Those who wish to see it, can leave here at 5:30 p. m. and return next morning at 8:30.

—Our borough schools commenced on Monday, the upper school being in charge of Thos. McLean, a teacher of many years' experience. The lower school is taught by Miss Christine Hammerer, of Warren. The indications are that the schools will be taught in the best manner, and much good be done thereby.

—C. L. Hanna, informs us that some notice dogs killed his prairie dogs a few days ago. The prairie dogs were brought from Greeley, Colorado, by Mr. Hanna, who captured them when they were quite small. As a natural consequence he feels quite badly about it, and says he would not have taken $50 for the pair.

—It will be seen by reference to the minutes of the District Convention that F. E. Allison, Esq., of East Hickory was unanimously nominated as the Republican candidate for Assembly. If elected, Mr. Allison will represent the interests of the district in the best manner, and will make a Representative who will do honor to his position and constituents. Republicans, be sure that the name of F. E. Allison is on your tickets for Assembly.

TIONESTA'S IMPROVEMENTS IN 18 MONTHS PAST.

There is a romantic eminence near Tionesta, from which can be seen with one sweep of the eye, the whole beautiful village, for its entire length, nearly two miles.

Standing here it occurred to us that a sketch of the improvements so plainly dotting the village below would be both interesting and instructive; and, lest the review should be too tedious, it shall be confined exclusively to the last eighteen months:

To our left, and not far from Jacob Shriver's trout pond, is Charley Hinton's new purchase, upon which he has erected a cottage. This is the pioneer improvement of the town in this direction, being northward from the Court House.

Just below is the small dwelling of Mrs. Robb, widow of Daniel Robb, former County Surveyor.

Next is Col. P. D. Thomas' large brick manufactory, for home use and export.

Then coming down Elm street on its east side, is the fine two-story frame dwelling of Jacob S. Hood, for many years a citizen of the county, and who has plenty in "barn and in store" for the rainy days of life.

On the same side of the street, and nearly opposite Lawyer Tate's, is Lawyer Irwin's home, fully completed and neatly adorned.

Or the other side is the two-story frame erected by John W. Stroy, and now owned by Sheriff Van Gieson.

On the adjoining lot, James Woodington a former resident of Lycoming county, has laid the foundation for a new frame.

At northeast corner of Elm and Helen streets is the fine transformation of T. B. Cobb, one of the most extensive and energetic lumbermen in Western Pennsylvania. Part of this magnificent structure was formerly known as the "Old Brown House," where the first courts of Forest county were held.

One the west side of Elm street at the corner of Elm and Helen, Jacob M. Kepler's two and a half story looms up. Jake is a live Democrat, and used to live in Phillipsburgh, Centre county, and is now the fortunate possessor of a two hundred barrel well and a two months old boy.

Opposite the Court House grounds is a small frame owned by William Hepler.

Just below, the neat dwelling of Bill Harlan, newly painted and sided, with the historical flag staff in front, from which on all election days and fourths of July the "standard sheet" is given to the breeze by the patriotic William. Perhaps the influence of the old wigwag, which stood on this lot, yet lingers "patiently about."

Further down and on the same side of Elm street, the neat new dwelling of Mrs. C. D. Mabie is seen, whose husband owned to Holmes House, destroyed by fire about a year ago.

Nearly opposite is Wm. Smearbaugh's frame, now occupied temporarily as a dwelling by William Lawrence and his family.

To the right and farther down is the Brick Bank building of May, Park & Co., which, although a young enterprise is a solid and substantial institution.

Opposite this again is the large frame block of Bonner & Agnew, in which is the post office, drug store, and so forth. Bringing the glass to our eye, we see "Jim," the post master, prompt to a minute as usual, with mail bags in hand, sighting for the ferry and bound to make the "up train."

Following still down Elm street, the house formerly owned by A. H. Steele, at one time Cashier of the Tionesta Savings Bank, and now by Geo. W. Robinson, of the firm of Robinson & Bonner, has been treated to an additional story, and a new coat of paint, and now presents a very attractive appearance.

The Lawrence House, owned by G. G. Butterfield is the largest hotel in town, and was erected by Wm. Lawrence.

Just opposite, Dr. Blaine is refitting what used to be Ed. Lathy's office, for his abode; putting on additions and otherwise improving the lot which he now owns.

On the same side of the street Wm. Lawrence is putting up a brand-new two story frame, for stores below and offices above, which is fast approaching completion. In the rear of his store he is erecting a chop mill, to be run by steam power.

Henry Swaggart, the Butcher, has refitted and modernized the old meat market, and the hungry population have steak and roast regularly for the first time in the history of Tionesta.

Nearly opposite the brick church John Reck, one of the solid men of the place, has laid the foundation for his mansion on earth, which is to be a two-story frame worth from $3,000 to $4,000.

In the same enclosure upon the foundation of Judge Dale's former residence, Dan. Walters, Judge Proper's son-in-law, has erected a handsome frame, two and a half stories, and mansard roof.

Then appear the new additions of Charley Randall and Wm. Roberts to their homes.

And still beyond, over Judge Proper's and H. H. May's comfortable homes, is Capt. Knox's steam lumber manufactory, giving its sheets of smoke to the breeze.

Just across the Tionesta Creek from this looms up the mammoth mill of George Dithridge, on the Shreve farm, with its slate roof, and glass globe sixty feet in air, reflecting the upward slant of the sitting sun.

Just above is the iron bridge, erected by the county, spanning Tionesta creek, a thing of beauty.

On this side, J. N. Teitsworth's new mansion.

Then Samuel Haslet, on the hill, commanding the view of the river, for miles, and as neat a home as any man wants in which to dream away the coming years of life.

Al. Partridge's addition to his already large dwelling.

Samuel Clark's new barn, just in the rear of Lawrence's mill.

Eli Holeman's frame, on Race street.

Finally George S. Hunter's new bridge across the Allegheny River, gradually rising from the ruin, wrought by last spring's ice and flood. George has plenty of pluck and money, and has fairly earned his reputation as a go-ahead man of business. His bridge enterprise will be finished before cold weather comes and will have much to do with the material growth and increase of the county.

And all this within eighteen months last past. What the next eighteen months may bring forth by way of developments and buildings can be pretty fairly estimated from this hasty glance. However, we understand that some fifteen or eighteen dwellings alone, are already under contract, or in contemplation, some of brick, and a new block somewhere opposite Tase's office, for stores, offices, and a Masonic Hall, is to be erected in the spring. Tionesta is bound to compete in size, as she already excels in beauty, any of her sister towns along the river. She is surrounded by a fine agricultural district. The county is rich in minerals and lumber. Part is yet heavily timbered with pine, hemlock, walnut, and cherry &c; when cleared it will exhibit some of the finest rolling lands in the State. Roads are surveyed that lead from Tionesta to all parts of the county, at easy grades. The tide of population is beginning to flow in, attracted by the cheapness of lots in comparison with the surrounding towns, and the healthfulness of the climate. And general business is daily on the increase.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The following are the cases disposed of, which were not reported in last week's issue:

Hays vs Neill. Plaintiff takes nonsuit.

Hogan vs Walters. Settled.

Pierson vs Hays. Settled.

Flynn vs Lacy. Settled.

Roberts vs Fisher. Verdict for plaintiff.

Mays for use vs Rose. Verdict for plaintiff in $204.00.

Kuhns, adm'r vs Lyon et al. Judgment confessed by defendant for $126.44.

In our report of proceedings last week, in the case of Rafferty vs Porter, we made a mistake in the amount awarded the plaintiff, which was $131.17.

There were no new admissions of attorneys this court.

—Our readers will please notice that the election will be held in Howe twp. at Brookston Hall, Brookston tannery.

—The Postmaster of Pittsburgh has proven a defaulter in the sum of $33,000. He was arrested and gave bail in $60,000.

—On Monday morning, very early, a young man by the name of Bell was brought before Justice Mercillott, by Constable Haslet, on a charge of horse stealing. It seems Bell was working for a man by the name of Altman, at Millerstown; this Mr. Altman was formerly from Shamburg, and on Saturday last sent Bell to that place after his cow, furnishing him with a horse and buggy. As Bell was getting ready to start he mentioned an overcoat, and took Altman's against his wife's protestations, while he was away, using language Mrs. Altman considered ungentlemanly, and when her husband returned she told him about it, which started his ire and suspicions that Bell was not going to return, and early Sunday morning he started for Shamburg, but on arriving there could find no traces of Bell, horse, buggy or overcoat. Now he was sure in his suspicions, and after considerable hard work and sharp practice as a detective, he found Bell about six miles from Shamburg sparking his girl.

After getting a Warrant, and our Constable they went to the house where Bell was, and proceeded to arrest him, bringing to Bell's mind the old adage "There is many a slip," &c. On Bell being brought to Altman's presence he explained that as he was not expected to start back from Shamburg until Monday morning, he thought he would drive over and see his girl, thereby having a pleasant time, and, as he told Altman, save his horse feed, these hard times. On being brought before Justice Mercillott he was discharged at once.

—By the Courier of yesterday, we see that the insane hospital has been located at Warren. The site is located on the Conewango Creek and consists of three hundred and thirty acres, for which the consideration was $33,000. So are our hopes, along with those of Titusville, Mendville, Franklin and Erie, blown to the four winds of heavens. It is said that the cost of the buildings will not be less than $1,500,000, which, in these times, is a sum of money not to be sneezed at. Of course, since this place was not selected, we are in duty bound to congratulate the lucky town, and do so with the best grace we can muster. Those who worked to get the buildings located here, deserve the thanks of our people just the same as though their efforts had been successful.
