Time of Trains

Table with columns for Train No., Class, and Time. Includes sections for South-1st Class, North-1st Class, and 2d Class.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. O. B. Clark will preach in the Universalist church on next Sunday morning. An invitation is extended to all, to be present.

—I. G. Butterfield is improving rapidly, and will soon be fit for duty again.

—Teachers' Annual Institute for Forest county will be held at Tionesta, commencing on Monday, December 1, 1873.

—Rev. Tomlinson did not preach on Friday evening last, as announced, so we must conclude that Couver read the manuscript of his sermon.

—J. B. Long, the harness-maker, has taken the contract of carry the mail to and from the depot. The consideration we have not heard.

—So far, this month has been an improvement on September for beautiful weather. The "melancholy days" are bright and warm, and a more pleasant season could not be wished.

—Is there not enough street tax not worked out to allow our street commissioner to fill up those horrible mud holes on Walnut street? It is almost impossible to get along with a load.

—Einstein is still absent, buying goods of a somewhat different class than those usually kept in town. He will bring on some fancy goods, jewelry, &c., and will sell the same cheap.

—Mr. A. Gordon and family, formerly of Laceytown, now of Elkhardt, Ind., are now in town on a visit to their friends. Possibly they may think better of it, and come back here to live.

—Alex. Henage is improving slowly, but is not, as yet, entirely out of danger. A slight relapse would make a deal of difference to Alex. Whether or not he will ever regain his usual strength we do not know.

—Now that A. C. Porter has left the bed and board of the Clarion Jacksonian, Col. Wm. T. Alexander, an old war-horse, and a terrible enemy of Brown's, has taken the editorial chair. He fits our best wishes.

—Mr. S. C. Sloan, who constructed the ice breakers of the river bridge at this place, has taken the contract of putting up some of the same kind in Franklin, on one of the bridges there, and leaves for that place to-day.

—A deer delivered up the ghost in the river near town yesterday. He was swimming the river to get a drink, when the murderous bullet drank his blood. Before this paper reaches our subscribers the largest part of that deer will have gone the way of all victuals.

—The fall flood has not yet made its appearance, and is not looked upon as an event sure to happen. Time was when the lumbermen could confidently look forward to spring, June and fall floods, and never be disappointed, but those days have gone from our gaze. It will not materially effect business this year, if we have no "fresh."

—We have received a letter from Abram James in regard to his "spirit well," which will be read with interest by all who are acquainted with the name. The following are some extracts:

I am still drilling at a well for oil, that was commenced in Feb., 1872, and am now to the depth of 1917 feet. It is located on Blyson Run, Mill-creek township, Clarion county, Pa., and was located by me, by and through "Spirit Influence," (the same as my first well at Pleasantville, which was the opening of that territory,) and has been conducted throughout by spirit direction; and I am confident, will result in the opening of another new territory, more lasting in its production than any ever yet known.

Yours, &c., A. JAMES.

—Monday night Mr. Mabie took a load of passengers to Tylersburg, and on his way back, about 11 o'clock, when passing through what is known as the "White Oak Bottom," about one mile this side of Sed. Whit's clearing, he was set upon by some cowardly miscreant, who tried first to stop his horses, but frightened them so that they started on a run, and as the wagon passed the fellow, he fired two shots at Mabie. One shot passed through the side and up through the crown of his hat, just missing his head; one-half inch lower would have killed him, sure. Mabie did not try to stop his horses for a little ways, and stood a chance of being thrown out and killed in that way.

No doubt the fellow mistook Mabie for some of the numerous mercantile agents that travel over that road, and expected to secure a good haul, but luckily, was disappointed. The locality chosen was a good one, being in a very dark hollow, and a good distance from any house. Persons that have got to travel that road after night had better go prepared. We sincerely hope some one will be fortunate enough to put a bullet through the miscreant's hat about one inch lower than he did in Mabie's.

—Two weeks ago we published an item taken from the Titusville Courier, representing that Warren had been selected as the site of the new insane asylum. It now appears that the statement was a little "previous," and that Warren is not yet sure of the prize. It is understood that the commissioners have reported in favor of that place, but that the Governor has not yet approved of the selection, and may go back on it. Tionesta is the place which should have it, but Titusville is very hopeful. If they don't place it here, they can take it where they please, and we won't interfere.

—On Saturday, the 11th inst., Senator Pomeroy, of Kansas, was shot by Ex-Congressman Conway, of the same State. Senator Pomeroy was hit in the right breast, just below the nipple, and by reason of his having on two coats, the bullet merely produced an abrasion, which will cause him no inconvenience whatever. Two other shots were fired, one of which went through Pomeroy's hat, and the other missed him altogether. There had never been any controversy between the two gentlemen. Conway was arrested and is now locked up. Suppose of course it is another case of "mental aberration."

—A case of horsewhipping took place up Hunter's Run, this morning, of which we hear the following account. It appears that a man living up in that region gave a valentine, one of the scandalous kind, to a little boy, telling him to deliver it to his sister. The boy did so. To-day the young lady, armed with a horsewhip, went to a barn where the sender was, and while her brother held the man, she laid the horsewhip over his back. The parties to the whipping have been arrested, and the suit will be heard to-morrow.

—Last week we attended the Conneautville Fair and met many of our old acquaintances, and enjoyed myself immensely. The fair was a complete success in every particular and the receipts will exceed the expenditures to the amount of several thousand dollars. An immense concourse of people were gathered there, and all was orderly as an ordinary spring election.

—The Allegheny Valley Road has contracted for twelve new locomotives, which will be placed on the road shortly.

—The last arch of the river bridge is up, and by the end of this week it is expected that teams can cross on the bridge. The wooden span at this end will not add materially to the beauty of the structure, but will undoubtedly be painted so as not to look out of place. If the old thing works satisfactorily, we will speak further of it next week.

—Prof. McCollin, the blind man, who gave a concert in the Presbyterian church, on Thursday last, will, by request of the audience, repeat the same, with an entire change of programme, on Thursday of next week, being the 23d inst. Everybody was delighted with the last one, and all will attend the next one.

—The proprietors of the Derrick have been benzining that dry hole, and have cleaned it out to the extent of doing away with Bishop. Now, to court the favor of the Allegheny Valley Road again, they will have to keep their rig in good order, and not cover the whole establishment with smut again.

—J. D. W. Reek, for a few years past the popular clerk of Proper & Reek, has emigrated toward the setting sun, taking with him his wife. He will go to Colorado Territory, and probably embark in business there. That he may be successful and make a fortune, is our earnest wish.

—Jacob Shriver, one of our oldest citizens, has placed us under obligations by bringing us a fine basket of eating apples, which the same we enjoyed immensely. May the old gentleman have many years of health and strength before he is gathered unto his fathers.

—The November number of Ballou's Magazine is issued, and is as fresh and nice as ever. It contains the usual variety of interesting stories, good poetry, and fine illustrations, just such reading matter as the people want, and will have if they know where to find it. Every subscriber receives a pretty chromo. Only 15 cts. single number, and $1.50 per year. Address Thoms & Talbot, 36 Bromfield Street, Boston.

—The following in regard to a very popular military organization, we clip from the Venango Spectator:

The second annual parade of the Titusville Citizen's Corps will take place to-morrow afternoon. There is not a word of truth in the rumor that the Empress Eugene has engaged the Corps to re-entertain the Bonaparte dynasty upon the throne of France. They will not leave Titusville unless the city is invaded.

—The Clarion Democrat goes on to remark the following, which contains a rebuke needed by many people, in all sections:

We would merely suggest to an educational institution of this county, that when it wants free advertising it should send its manuscript to the Philadelphia firm that prints its catalogue and programmes. This thing of sending all paying work to the city, and then drawing on the local press for gratuitous advertising is getting a little too thin. We can and will do job printing for schools as cheaply and neatly as can be procured from the city, as several of our educational institutions will witness. But don't send your paying work to Philadelphia and your non-paying advertising to Clarion.
