AN UNPLEASANT REMEDY.

A professor of Cornell University recently published a number of hints as to "What to do in case of accident." One of these was as follows: "If you choke, get down on all fours and A waggish exchange says a neighbor, Singleton, read this, and determined to remember it. A few days ago he was eating his dinner alone, and he choked upon a piece of beef. Instantly he got upon all fours, and began to cough. Just then Mrs. Sin-gleton came in, and the impression made upon her by Singleton's extraor-diffary attitude and his barking was that he had suddenly been attacked with hydrophobia. So she first seized the pitcher of water and took it from the room. Then she sent one of the girls up stars for the mattress, which was thrown over Singleton, while Mrs. Singleton and the family set on it and held him down.

The madder he got the more alarmed was Mrs. Singleton; and the more he protested and foamed at the mouth the more she insisted on the hired girl giving an extra turn of the clothesline around his leg and tying him to the stove. Then the doctor came and pulled Singleton's arm from under the mattress and bled him, put fly-blisters on his feet, and promised to come around in the evening and shave his head in order to cup his scalp, so as to relieve the brain. When the doctor called that night, Singleton had a fight with him in the parlor, and after sending the medical man up to the bath-room to wash the blood from his nose and cool his eye, Singleton went out to hunt for the Cornell professor. There will be pain and anguish in that institution of learning when Singleton arrives. He means war to the knife.

The "toughest" set of "roesters" that ever shook the dust from any town, says the Reno (Nev.) Journal, left Reno recently for the new mining district of Cornucopia. They came here from Virginia. Among the crewwere four New York gun-fighters, two Chi-cago murderers, three Baltimore bruisers, one Philadelghia prize-fighter, four San Francisco hoodlums, three Viginia beats, two Union Pacific roughs, and two check guerillas.

It is related that when Wilkie Collius was about to step in front of the curtain at Syracuse, he said to Mr. Manchett, who was to introduce him, "Don't introduce me as the greatest living novelist. I've been introduced so a number of times, and I'd rather be simply Mr. Collins. You know everybody is the greatest living some-

Mr. Ross Winans, of Baltimore, has completed in that city one hundred and thirteen brick dwelling-houses, four stories high, suitable for people in moderate circumstances. They possess unusual accommodations for dwellings of their classes. Their cost was about $500,000, and they will ac-commodate about 1,500 people.

A mournful story is told by a Maine "The winds of autumn will soon whistle shrilly; the goose flies southward; the air speaks of snow and ice; everything betokens that in a few weeks more the fall season shall have ended, and the circuses and snake shows will be no more!"

A Hillsboro, Ill., philosopher, named Jeff Yokum, after listening to various explots of early days narrated by a party of gentlemen, broke in with:
"Well, felters, I tell you it seems to me that as men get older fun gets
