Time of Trains

Table with 3 columns: Train number, Class, and Time. Includes South-1st Class and North-1st Class trains.

On the River Division f. c. from Oil City to Irvinston, up the river is North; down the river, south.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

James Woodington's house is enclosed, and will be weatherboarded during the fall. He will probably occupy it this winter.

It is understood that Judge Proper will put a French roof on his residence next summer, which will add materially to the looks and value of the property.

Jno. R. Stroup has enlarged the house just north of Mrs. Henry's property, and weatherboarded the same, and it now presents a very creditable appearance.

The New Bethlehem Press formerly published by Vic. A. Haines, is among the things that were. Our sympathies are entirely with the late editor.

There is talk of organizing a literary society in town this winter. It is to be hoped that the enterprise will succeed. A good library in connection with it would be a very nice arrangement.

A cellar has been excavated just north of Mabie's house, by Mr. H. O. Davis. It is intended, we believe, to save the house now occupied by Mrs. Riddels up to that place, and convert it into a store.

The time table of the O. C. & A. R. Ry. for this place, will be found corrected in to-days paper. There was no change on Monday last as was anticipated. In all probability the trains will run on this time for a few months, at least.

A correspondent of the Clarion Democrat says "the buckwheat batter hole, called by some, James' oil well, is still yielding a good supply of light batter, all ready for the griddle. Will reach 2,000 feet in a fortnight, if nothing 'buets.'"

Walter's residence seems to be approaching completion as far as the joiner work is concerned. It will probably not be plastered until spring. The sash and doors, we understand are to be furnished by A. H. Partridge, from Jamestown manufactories.

The Time Table of the A. V. R. R. has undergone another change this week, which those interested will notice. It will be observed that the Eastern Extension, which runs from Red Bank up through Jefferson county, is now through to Reynoldsville, and regular trains running.

The St. Mary's Gazette says that Hiram Woodward, of Penfield, Elk county, a large operator in lumber, was stabbed on Tuesday evening of last week by an employee. He was stabbed in the side, when his back was turned, and the wound may yet prove fatal. Full particulars were not given.

Says the Williamsport Register: "Judge Nathaniel Hannan died at his residence in Lockport, of dropsy, at the very advanced age of 89 years, 2 months and 18 days. He was born August 7, 1784, and lived all his life and died within fifty rods of where he was born."

Suicide or Murder at Oil City.

Lewis Williams, of Oil City, was found dead in the woods near Siverleyville, Friday about eleven o'clock. He had gone out hunting in the morning with a man named Charley Larabee, and was found by a boy at the time stated above. Larabee has been arrested, and will, in all probability be tried for the murder. It is rumored that Larabee had been on intimate terms with the wife of the deceased, also that he is a half-witted or simple fellow. He denies all knowledge of the shooting, also says that he was drunk at the time he was out hunting, and that he and Williams separated, and he never saw him again until after he was arrested. He is a smooth-faced young man of about twenty-two, and had been a brakeman in the yard at Oil City for several weeks.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Lewis Williams came to his death by reason of two shot gun wounds, and "That from the testimony addressed they believe that said wounds were made by a double-barreled shot-gun fired by the hands of Charles Larabee with intent to commit murder."

The prisoner was delivered into the hands of Officer Fry and committed to the Franklin jail, Monday night, immediately after the verdict of the jury was received.

Our readers will recollect the fact of the pardon of J. K. Turner, of Titusville, which we published last week. It appears that, since his release, he has been foolish enough to write two columns of abuse of President Grant, the Court, Mr. Swoope, and others, was yesterday rearrested, on a process from the United States District Court, to answer a charge of forgery, in which a true bill had been found, but upon which Mr. Swoope did not try him.

He was taken to Pittsburgh on Friday last for trial. Turner doubtless owed his liberty to Mr. Swoope, as much as to any other man, as the President would not have signed his pardon unless the District Attorney had recommended it—and he was induced to recommend it, not on Turner's account, but because of the persistent appeals and entreaties of Turner's aged father, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the county, now on the brink of the grave, and who could not brook the idea of dying and leaving his son in the penitentiary. Had Turner kept a quiet tongue in his head, he would have escaped this new trouble.

When he arrived in Pittsburgh, and had an interview with Mr. Swoope, he professed great sorrow for what he had done and a willingness to make all the reparation in his power. The District Attorney told him that he could go home, on entering into his own recognizance in $1,000 to appear and answer the charge at the next term of court. Turner was not prepared for such lenient treatment, and, with tears in his eyes, said "unless he got better soon his case would not need much preparation." After some wholesome advice from the District Attorney, he took his departure, promising to visit his aged father at Jersey Shore, warmly thanking the District Attorney for what he had done.

From our Clarion exchanges we learn the following particulars of a sad accident at Scotch Hill, that county: A Presbyterian church was being raised on Tuesday afternoon of last week, and while the upper frame was being fastened, the board on which the "summer" rested broke, throwing the whole frame to the ground. There were nineteen men on the building at the time, five of whom clung to the side, and three fell through to the basement, all escaping unharmed. The remaining eleven fell to the ground on the logs etc., and were all more or less hurt. Those injured most seriously were S. Imhoof, Daniel Steiner and Elijah Barlett. It is feared Mr. Imhoof's injuries will prove fatal. The others hurt are as follows: James Simpson, Robert Porter, Samuel Henry, Wm. Henry, D. Watson Esq., H. Fitzcharles, A. C. McCombs, Jno. Lewis.

The last advertising dodge is to write with a diamond on a car window. We noticed several of these "ads" on the O. C. & A. R. Ry. the other day. They cannot be removed without removing the glass on which they are written. It would be a fine joke if the railroad officials would arrest these cheeky advertisers for defacing their property.

Reck's new house is almost enclosed, and when entirely so, will probably be let rest until spring, and then take a new start.

Gold, the love of which is said to be the root of all evil, is circulating to some extent in our place. Our eyes were gladdened last evening by the sight of a $20 gold piece. It might be well to state, however, that the money belonged to another fellow, and our exhilaration was therefore in due bounds.

Strangers with shot-guns come through here en route for the woods for the purpose of slaying the panting deer. For the sake of information, will state that a rifle is preferable for this kind of game, and that the shot-gun claps will probably be able to carry all the deer they slay with those high-priced fowling-pieces.

Mr. Harry Bates has been engaged to teach the balance of the winter term of school, the previous teacher having been discharged by the board on account of his extreme devotion to the shrine of Bacchus. Mr. Bates graduated with honors, last summer, at Allegheny College, and will, doubtless, be a teacher who will give satisfaction to all parties.

Uncle Billy Grove, Wm. Lawrence, Davy Hilands and John Hulings departed for the woods on Monday morning, taking with them bedclothes, provisions, arms, ammunition &c. in quantities, enough to last them at least a month. Fluids, we believe, were not forgotten, or else that was an awful big keg of powder they stowed away under one of the seats. They propose to be gone three or four weeks, and will undoubtedly make it interesting for the deers, bears, &c., which infest those regions.

By reason of a resolution offered by Harry White, and adopted by the constitutional convention, the law of the State, which provided that the New Constitution, or amendments to the old one should be published in two papers in each county, is set aside, and the whole job and the profits thereof, are thrown into the hands of B. Singlerly, State Printer. This is undoubtedly very satisfactory to Mr. Singlerly, but it don't suit us worth a cent. These high-minded, economical cusses are everlastingly trying to grind down the printers, as in the case of the abolition of free exchanges, making postage payable on papers, circulated in the county, or, as in this case, setting aside the laws of the State, for the benefit of one man, to the prejudice of all the rest. Young Harry, we must say you beat the Old Harry for sanctimonious cussedness.

Thanksgiving is coming on and still we don't see any turkeys offered for sale. It has been suggested that there isn't much to be thankful for this year, and that a turkey is an unnecessary expense. This is a mistake; because, notwithstanding the closeness of the times, our circulating medium, what there is of it in circulation, is still good, and we have not the anxiety that was attendant upon former panics because of the instability of the currency of those times. Be thankful for this. Be thankful for health. Be thankful for beautiful harvests, and above all, be thankful that the Constitutional Convention has adjourned and is not likely to meet again. When you think of your troubles, just turn around and think of your blessings, and the probabilities are that there will be a balance in favor of the blessings. Therefore, let us observe Thanksgiving in a proper manner, and we will not regret it in future years.

The December number of Ballou's Magazine is a most attractive number—one of the best that we have seen this year. It contains some thirty different articles, and each is of remarkable interest to the general reader. The stories in this issue are fresh and good, the poetry eloquent and fervent, while the illustrations are such as will cause more than the usual share of attention. The leading story, "The Ghost of Hendee Hall," continues to be of absorbing interest, while "An Unfortunate Match" will still find admirers. Take Ballou's Magazine, the cheapest monthly in the country—and after an examination of its merits, we must confess that it is superior to most of the high-price serials of the day; and yet to every subscriber is given a pretty little Chromo, an ornament for the home. Only $1.50 per year, and 15 cents single copies. For sale at all the news depots in the country. Address Thomas & Talbot 36 Broadfield St., Boston, Mass.

On Friday evening last in Monongehala City a man named Clemens stabbed his father, and then killed himself. The horrible deed has occasioned much excitement in the vicinity.

On Wednesday last B. Singlerly's State Printing office, at Harrisburgh was burned to the ground; the cause of the fire being, as is supposed, spontaneous combustion. The loss is estimated at from $100,000 to $200,000. No insurance.

CORN MUFFINS.—Take one and a half pints corn meal, one pint cold sweet milk, two tea-spoonfuls salt, one table-spoonful melted butter, three eggs, well beaten; mix thoroughly, then add one-half pint wheat flour, and one measure Banner Baking Powder, mixing the Powder into the dry flour, and passing both through a sieve; bake at once, in muffin rings.

Each can of the Banner Baking Powder contains a small measure, to be used even full, according to printed directions. If you cannot obtain this really valuable article from your grocer, send twenty-five cents by mail, addressed to Banner Baking Powder, P. O. Lock Box, 317, Pittsburgh, Pa., and you will receive, postage paid, a quarter pound package together with a list of fifty valuable Recipes.
