LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Now is the time to resort to downy beds of g-nese.

—Another change in the "Time of Trains" at the head of this column.

—Thursday of this week is the day appointed by the President and Governor as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer.

—Rain fell, and the streams rejoiced. The waters exalted themselves; the light snow fled, and more to the same effect, a few days since.

—The man who fell into a barrel of feathers head-first, says he never felt so down in the mouth before in his life since he was "plucked" at college.

—By reference to our supplement it will be seen that the County Teachers' Institute commences in this place on Monday next. We may expect an interesting time.

—Quarterly meeting will be held at Asbury Chapel, beginning on a week from Saturday, being the 6th of December. The presiding elder will be present and conduct the meeting.

—The heart of the Fenian is down-cast, for the potatoes are few, and he lifeth up his voice crying "wherewith shall I be fed." Good chance for some man of enterprise to make a "spec" on the eyes of above mentioned fruit.

—John Nellis, a fugitive from the justice of this county, was arrested in Oil City, for stealing hides, and is now out on bail. If John don't stop developments in that direction he will undoubtedly fetch up in Allegheny some of these days.

—C. L. Hanna, of West Hickory, has placed us under obligations for late files of Colorado papers. The Colorado "Sun," we notice publishes "The Beautiful Snow," being the first and only paper which has come to us this season with that production.

—J. H. Patrick has disposed of his interest in the Clarion Republican to Will T. Alexander, who has been the "local" on that paper for some time. The paper is now "Edited and published by the Republican Printing Company." Mr. Alexander and the Company have our best wishes.

—The men who were injured by the late accident at Scotch Hill are getting along as well as could be expected, four of the number have been taken home in a sled within the past few days, and there is but one remaining, and it is thought he can be taken home this week.

—Oil has got down tolerably low, at some places bringing only 40 cents per barrel, and now goes up the cry "stop drilling." This remedy should have been suggested and acted upon some months ago. Whether any concerted action on the subject will take place, is something that the future must decide.

—Last week we stated that Robinson & Bonner were building a shed for the purpose of sheltering customers' horses in bad weather, the length of the shed to forty feet. The shed is built and is forty-eight feet long, and will undoubtedly be appreciated by farmers and lumbermen who come in with teams on stormy days.

—The Clarion Republican seems suspicious of the proposed constitution because Alex. McClure has spoken in favor of it. Alex. undoubtedly intends to create just such a suspicion, being fully convinced that he can do more to defeat any given measure by sowing its praises than any other score of men can by singing out against it. Oh, no, Alex. that won't work; the people are getting up to your games.

—It was so dark here a few nights ago, that the river lost its bearings and commenced running up the creek, and got up to the bridge before the mistake was noticed. So says a friend.

—Old Winter begs to announce that he has already on hand a large stock of laces, jewels, crystals, fancy frost work, and the like. He is fully prepared to keep up his reputation in this region.

—The bridge over the river still stands, and all persons wishing to cross have only to pay their toll in order to appreciate the benefits which Hunter and providence have bestowed upon them.

—Slaters are at work on the roof of Jno. Reek's new house, putting slate thereon. This is the only house in town which indulges in this class of roof. It will undoubtedly be a good job, as the slaters are imported; principally, we suppose because Tionesta boasts of none of her own.

—As soon as Democracy gets into power it is going to pass a law which shall not only render panics and business depressions impossible, but which will also prevent such things as cattle stampedes, the epizootic, the potato blight and the wheat rust, effectually and forever.

—Bill Widmer suggests the propriety of building a pontoon bridge from the coast of Florida to the island of Cuba, to facilitate the transportation of troops. He proposes to write to the war department on the subject and put in a bid for the construction of the bridge.

—There rose a cry of lamentation and sorrow among the fowl when roost that morn when housewives give thanks that their turkeys are fat, and the once proud gobbler wishes he had been a crow. Thus does man's appetite take away the young turkey from its mother, and breaks the family circle of the barn yard.

—On Sunday last while a Mr. Watson, who has been making brick for Col. Thomas, was attending to the burning of the kiln, he fell from the roof of the kiln and was very seriously injured. On Monday he was so bad that his friends were dispatched for, and they arrived Tuesday. With careful nursing he will probably recover. Dr. Hunter is attending him.

—On Saturday night Mrs. Roberts discovered a light in S. H. Haslet's barn. Thinking it strange she proceeded to investigate, and found that the barn was on fire. By prompt efforts the fire was extinguished. In a few moments the fire would have reached the hay in the loft, and our friend Sam. would have met with a heavy loss. How the fire originated is a mystery.

—Dithridges new mill is now running, full time, and the sound of two whistles daily gives us due notice of the fact that both mills are doing their best to drive dull times away. Long may they wave, and much lumber may they manufacture, and moreover, much certified checks may they distribute. These are inducements which keep business lively in this neck of woods, and we honor them accordingly.

—One of our old citizens recently informed us of an ordinance which was passed by the council of this borough, which has never been annulled, and is, consequently in force as much now as ever: We refer to the ordinance requiring all coal sold in the borough to be weighed, the person selling to produce the weigh-bill at the time of sale. The ordinance also lays a fine of $5 on any person selling coal contrary to said ordinance, for each and every offence; the buyer is also fined in like manner for purchasing coal which has not been weighed. Now this ordinance either wants living up to or else it should be repealed. There is a good deal of guessing at the number of bushels on, and the expense of weighing is slight; so, if every load is weighed, neither the buyer nor the seller suffers. If this law is enforced a few times, as it should be unless repealed, it will make people more careful.

—Just for a change, we would like to see the Clarion Democrat make one honest political statement. It goes on to say, in its last issue that "Congress contains a republican majority of two-thirds in each house, hence that party is responsible for all legislation."

In other words, a Democratic Congressman, because his side is in the minority, may vote for the passage of any obnoxious bill, any land grab, any back pay, or front pay deal, and not be held responsible; why? because his party is in the minority. Take a bill for instance that all the Democrats (say one-third of the whole number) in Congress should vote for, and suppose that one-fifth of the Republicans should vote for the same bill; it would pass. The Republican party would be responsible for that legislation because they had a majority. The back pay deal could not have been passed had the Democratic side of the house voted solid, or nearly so, against it. Yet, the Republican party is responsible for that. Even your beloved Griffith, the first Democrat for a number of years, who has had a chance at the public crib from the 20th District, voted for that deal. Is the Republican party responsible for his vote? Now Brown let up on us. Do try to be honest once. It may make you sick, but it will make a white spot on your conscience.

—M. Carpenter, the artist is about erecting a building next our office, said building to be put up in movable shape, similar to that used by Martin the transient artist, who was here during Mr. Carpenter's absence. The establishment will probably be in running order by the last of this week.

—Lewis Whitten and Doc Allison gobbled up a young bear in Hickory township, one day last week. Several very large bears have been seen at different times on the streams of Otter and Queen, this fall. Deers are unusually plenty; a large one fell into the river, and would have drowned, had it not been for Carlisle Hunter and Madison Church, who assisted it to shore with a tomhawk.

—The latest news from Spain says that nation is ready and willing to accede to all reasonable demands of the United States on account of the Virginia matter. It may be a question, whether or not the Spanish government will consider the demands of the United States "reasonable," but their apparent willingness to make any amends in their power, rather diminishes the size of the war cloud which hangs over us. Still we will know more about the matter after the meeting of Congress. The principal news is guess work now. Next week we will probably have facts.

—Tweed, the New York, embezzler, was pronounced "guilty" of all the counts of which he stood indicted, and was sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $12,750. Tweed is now upward of sixty years of age, and, if not pardoned out, will probably not live to be a free man again. Although we have no sympathy for Tweed, we cannot help remarking that it is safer to murder in New York than to steal. Stokes, who murdered Fisk, got four years. Tweed who embezzled some greenbacks got twelve years.

—This is one of the ways the railroad men take to prevent a fair expression of opinion on the New Constitution. The dispatch is a "special" to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24, '73.
 Notice was to-day served on the Commissioners appointed by the Constitutional Convention, that an application would be made to Judge Sharswood to-morrow for an injunction to restrain them from holding the election under the ordinance of the convention. The application will be made by two of the ablest Democratic lawyers of Philadelphia. It is believed the injunction will be granted returnable on Monday next, and that the Supreme Court will hold the ordinance to be void.

—Enoch Morgan's Sons' "Sapolio," for sale in cakes, or in quantities to suit customers, at Robinson & Bonner's.

—Messrs. Myers & Lindsay, formerly of Franklin, have established a Jewelry Store in one side of the American Drug Store. They will keep a full line of watches, clocks and jewelry, and will repair everything in their line. They will occupy part of the Drug Store until spring, when they will take possession of the whole room. They come well recommended, and will undoubtedly do good work and sell at reasonable figures.

—Peters' Musical Monthly for December has come to hand. As far as our observation goes, there is no other musical publication that gives as much, or as good music for the same money. Price $3.00 a year. Address J. L. Peters, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

—Peterson's Magazine for December arrived last week, too late, however, for mention in last week's issue. This number presents its usual variety of steel engravings, fashion plates, and miscellaneous reading. The price is $2 a year in advance. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

—We are in receipt of Vick's Floral Guide for January, and a beautiful number it is. To any one who has a natural or acquired taste for flowers, or their culture, this publication is worth several times the price of it. The Guide is published quarterly, by James Vick, Rochester, N. Y., at 25 cts. a year. Beside giving all the newest and best varieties of flowers and vegetables, it gives complete instructions in floral decorations, bouquet making, and directions for cultivation. The number before us contains 136 pages, and is undoubtedly the cheapest periodical published. Address as above.

—WAFFLES.—Take one quart of flour, two teaspoonfuls of salt, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and sweet milk sufficient to make a thick batter; mix thoroughly; add one egg, well beaten, and one measure Banner Baking Powder; stir well, and bake immediately, in waffle irons.

Each can of the Banner Baking Powder contains a small measure, to be used even full, according to printed directions. If you cannot obtain this really valuable article from your grocer, send twenty-five cents by mail, addressed to Banner Baking Powder, P. O. Lock Box, 317, Pittsburgh, Pa., and you will receive, postage paid, a quarter pound package together with a list of fifty valuable Recipes.

—Ladies' trimmed hats for sale very cheap at Robinson & Bonner's.
