LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

No Paper Next Week. Next week we take our semi-annual rest, but as our readers have by this time become accustomed to it, we make no apology therefor.

The brass band proposes to give us some music during the holidays.

Mr. Dithridge has brought some more logs down the creek, and the mill is running full time.

J. B. Long, the harness maker has shut up shop here, for the time being, and has taken a contract in Titusville.

The School fund of Jefferson county was increased $700 by fines for selling liquor without license. That's the way it works in anti-license counties. A good thing for the schools.

Harry, son of C. D. Mabie, is now lying very ill with fever of some description. He has youth and a good constitution in his favor, and will probably recover.

Alex. Henage, who met with an accident about the 1st of October, is around on crutches, and is improving slowly. It will be some time before he is fit for business again.

One of David Hunter's pet deers, the doe, died some time since, during the absence of the owner. It was supposed that the buck gobbled up the feed intended for both of them, and that the doe died of starvation.

During the past week a great many extra trains, carrying oil, have passed over the railroad. A railroad man informed us on Saturday, that more oil was being moved this month than in any month since the road was built.

Staats, of the "National," Oil City, buys deer, cuts them up in the highest style of the art, and has no trouble in disposing of the venison at prices that make it an object. If any of our readers have venison for sale, they had better communicate with Staats.

A spectator informs us that a couple of the citizens of the Hunters' Run region had a tussle on our streets the other day. An old grudge, with some new provocations was the cause thereof. It is not supposed that the strong arm of the law will be called upon in the matter.

The attention of our readers is called to the new advertisement of Ferdinand Wenk, who has embarked in the lively business, and has the only establishment of that kind in this place. Those reading any thing in his line should give him a call.

The sleighing is or was said to be quite good up on the hilly part of this region, and although it might seem quite trying on the system of a nervous person to leave town in the aforesaid vehicle, a good old-fashioned sleigh after you get a mile or two out of town might make amends.

During the last few years of the life of Jacob Shriver, who died nearly two months ago, his pet scheme was a trout pond. Many a weary day did the old man spend getting trout to stock his pond, and excavating preparatory to directing part of the waters of Tubbs' Run into the pond.

By the telegraphic reports of Monday last, we notice that Spain has made a formal demand for the Virginian, so that the war cloud may gather and produce the thunders of battle between the two Republics, notwithstanding the extreme temperance of this government in the premises.

A year ago we took possession of this office as proprietor, and we must say that we have been supported above our expectations. Although it has been with us, as with every business man in town, a season of "hard times," as far as cash was concerned, yet our real business has been increased, and our business relations to the public generally pleasant, and moderately profitable.

Monday evening, the 22d inst. the friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Van Giesen assembled at their residence to celebrate their wedding. A glorious time was enjoyed by all present, and mirth and gladness ruled the hour.

The boys with sad eyes and sorrowful hearts do look upon the ponds, and suffer untold agonies lest the ice cometh not with the proper thickness, in the small hours of night they have bright visions of glassy frog ponds and ice-bound streams, and wake on the morrow to find that Morpheus has given them in dreams that which winter still refuses.

Court week, the time which has been looked forward to with ardent hopes, is here, bringing with it familiar faces of many limbs of the law who come here when business calls, which is only on court week.

Christmas is coming—in fact is nearly here, and our hills, as if wishing to contribute their share to the festivities of that occasion, display countless Christmas trees, and on frosty mornings they appear loaded with the bright crystals and frail diamonds which Winter so lavishly scatters in his pathway.

In playing charades at the party at Sheriff Van Giesen's on Monday evening last, the word "dogmatic" was proposed, but was not acted because of the stubbornness of two gentlemen, both of whom bluntly refused to personate the dog.

At a regular meeting of Petrolia Lodge No. 263, held at Oil City, on Friday evening last, the following officers were elected: Henry G. Tinker, W. M. James M. McElroy, S. W. John A. Ritchie, J. W. H. M. Choate, Secretary. S. H. Lambertson, Treasurer.

A communication came to us this week for publication with no name given. No paper in the United States, we believe, publishes communications unless the name of the writer accompanies them. This has been our invariable rule, and we cannot deviate from it.

Our readers will notice the new advertisement of H. G. Tinker & Co., of Oil City, and their extraordinary offer of 15 per cent. off for stoves during the holidays.

It is rumored that the franking privilege is to be restored in a modified form, the P. O. D. not gaining what the government loses by the operation.

Council Chamber, Tionesta Borough, Dec. 18, 1873. Sealed proposals will be received by the Borough Council, for the furnishing of materials and building a bridge across Tubbs Run, on the River Road, until Thursday, the 1st day of January, 1874.
