

W. R. DUNN EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 28, 1874.

Barnum is at present building a mammoth establishment on the site formerly occupied by the Harlan & New Haven Depot. He has engaged curiosities from almost every continental city. This establishment will be by far the largest thing of the kind in the world.

An Italian in Peru has trained some 35 parrots to perform two Operas. Their rendition of some of the parts calls forth the loudest applause. They perform on a small stage which has all the mechanism of the best theatre platform. The strangest thing is that a man lives with the patience necessary for such a work.

The law of Michigan requires all oils used in that State to stand the test of not igniting at a lower temperature than 150 degrees Fahrenheit. Recent examinations disclose the fact that there is probably not a gallon of kerosene or petroleum oil in the State save the kind used for locomotive head lights, that comes anywhere near the legal standard of safety.

The principal papers throughout the State are clamoring for the enforcement of the law.

Investigations are still the order of the day. A proposition is now before the United States Senate for a commission of five persons to be appointed by the President, whose duty it shall be to investigate the liquor traffic in its economic, criminal, moral, and scientific aspects, in connection with pauperism, crime, social vice, and the public health and general welfare of the people, and who shall also require and take testimony as to the practical result of license and restrictive legislation for the prevention of intemperance in the several States. If this work could be thoroughly performed, we would be gratified; but the undertaking is a large one, and we fear that the only practical issue of such a proposition would be a bill of expense, incurred by the Commission in taking an agreeable and bacchanal journey through the country.

Two men and a woman were brought to jail last Tuesday from Petersburgh, by constable Sipler, committed by Justice Booth, charged with highway robbery. The name of the woman is given us Mr. Aurora Gustina Johnson; better known as the "fortune teller," who has been keeping some kind of a shebang at Petersburgh. The men are named Wood and Phillips—the latter professing to be the husband of the fortune teller.

The hearing before the justice showed that the trio were on a kind of spree on Sunday, down at the "half way house," and returning about dark met Mr. William Wessner, an old man about 75 years of age, below Petersburgh, and with drawn knives demanded his money, and by force went through him, taking about $50. In default of $1,000 bail they were committed, and we presume will be tried next week.—Clarion Democrat.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Your attention is specially invited to the fact that the National Banks are now prepared to receive subscriptions to the Capital Stock of the Centennial Board of Finance. The funds resulting from this source are to be employed in the erection of the buildings for the International Exhibition, and the expenses connected with the same. It is confidently believed that the Keystone State will be represented by the name of every citizen alive to patriotic commemoration of the one hundredth birth-day of the nation. The shares of stock are offered for $10 each, and subscribers will receive a handsomely steel engraved Certificate of Stock, suitable for framing and preservation as a national memento.

Interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum will be paid on all payments of Centennial Stock from date of payment to January 1, 1876.

Subscribers who are not near a National Bank can remit a check or post-office order to the undersigned.
