LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

-Jacob Hood was appointed Street Commissioner at the first meeting of the new Council.

-Judge Date, who was ill when our last paper was issued, is now around enjoying his usual health.

-Money comes slowly into the County Treasury. From present indications there will be a large tax sale in June.

-Protracted Moeting is still going on, with moderate success. The meetings are well attended and are said to be very interesting.

-The woman's praying movement has gotten as far as Williamsport, in this State, and there's no telling which way it will spread.

-During the fine weather previous to the present snow, the youngsters of our place have been reviving their base-ball practice. It looks kind of - old fashioned to see them in position.

-Rev. Clark, at present in charge of the borough school, is in favor of putting new scats in both rooms of the school house. During the present term the seats now in use have been uncomfortably crowded.

-The Odd Fellows' Home in Mead-

-The bills sent in by the papers which published the new constitution are greatly perplexing the legislators of our State, there not being much regularity about them. The question is how to equalize the payments. The following extracts from speeches will show how the honorable gentlemen are disturbed about the question :

MR. LITTLE, of Wyoming said :-There is evidently not diffused a very high sense of honor among the publishing fraternity. Most papers ad-vertise their rates, and it is supposed that no individual would pay more than the advertised rates. How, then, can publishers who advertise that they print a column advertisement for will $20, $30 or $40, charge the State $720, $960, $1,000 and upward?

It is simply a gross, unjustifiable fraud and brings contempt upon every printer in the State. Even the religious papers could not resist the temptation to dip into the treasury, now that they had the chance.

MR. BROCKWAY-I am ashamed of the cloth. Of what use is it for editors to inveigh against the salary grab, the petty stealings in governmental departments, the opposition to the repeal of the usury laws, and those pious injunctions to honesty, and rant about the general rottenness of the body politic, when upon the first opportunity they dip into the treasury arm's length, and steal what they can, and claim it as their due. For the credit of the honest portion of the press we hope that these exorbitant bills will not be paid. There are honest charges made in the above exhibit, and there are some outrageously dishonest ones also. MR. WEBB-The editor who will falsify upon oath plain facts for the purpose of drawing big bills upon the Treasury is equal to Tweed, and is a disgrace to the profession which he claims to honor. In order to show that we are not one

-Geo. Hunter and Thomas Mack had a discussion which extended from Robinson's store to the Central House, the ground having been gone over several times. A clinch was eventually arrived at, and unfortunately for Geo. he fell under. The combatants were parted before much damage was done, and nothing but a few handeful of Treasury Department encircled with hair remained on the spot to tell of lathe work in green on the lower porthe struggle which had taken place. -Alex. McClure was snubbed by

W. A. Wallace in the Senate last week, the latter taking occasion to say that Alex's influence with the Democracy had played out. Poor McClure, he is now an Ishmaelite wandering around among the scenes of his former glory, "his hand against every man, and every man's against him.'
