

FAILURES IN BUSINESS.

The man who never failed in business cannot possibly know whether he has any "grit" in him, or is worth a button. It is the man who fails, then rises, who is really great in his way.

Peter Cooper failed in making hats, failed as a cabinet-maker, locomotive builder and grocer; but as often as he failed, he "tried and tried again," until he could stand upon his feet alone, then crowned his victory by giving a million dollars to help the poor boys in time to come.

Horace Greely tried three or four lines of business before he founded the Tribune, and made it worth $1,000,000.

Patrick Henry failed in everything he undertook, until he made himself the orator of his age and a nation.

The founder of the New York Herald kept on failing and sinking his money for ten years, and then made one of the most profitable newspapers in the world.

Stephen A. Douglass made dinner tables and bedsteads and bureaus many a long year before he made himself a "giant" on the floor of Congress.

Abraham Lincoln failed to make both ends meet by chopping wood; failed to earn his salt in the galley slave life of a Mississippi flat-boatman; he could not even run a grocery, and yet he made himself a grand character in the nineteenth century.

The lesson for every young man is this: As long as you have the health and the power to do, go ahead! If you fail on one thing, try another, and a third—a dozen even. Look at the spider; nineteen times it tried to throw out its web to the place of attachment, and on the twentieth succeeded. The young man who has the gift of continuance is the one whose foot will be able to breast the angry waters of human discouragement.

"No animal," says a writer in Fraser, contending against Darwinism, "has ever been so honored, so carefully tended, and so prized by man as the horse. He has been for many ages the companion and darling of man. Yet, is the horse of to-day more exalted than the horse of Job, and Homer, and Virgil? Do we notice him to be in a course of transition to a higher state of being accompanied with some change of form and with a manifest enlargement of capacity? We notice nothing of the kind, and moreover, expect nothing of the kind. We confidently expect him to remain a horse, he and his descendants, to the last chapter of this world's history. Neither the ant nor the bee is a whit more sagacious than they were in the days of Solomon or Virgil. They are not in course of transition to a higher platform—they are absolutely stationary—their organs no way either improved or multiplied."

A Methodist parson, called at an out-of-the-way town in California to preach, was informed, before entering the pulpit, that he must be careful, as many of the assembled congregation were "roughs," and would not hesitate to disturb him if his remarks did not suit. The holy man made no reply, but having reached the desk he took from his pockets two revolvers, and placing one on each side of the Bible, gave a sharp glance around the house and said, "Let us pray." A more orderly service was never conducted.

A set of Dresden china, manufactured to order for a banker of New York, arrived from Europe last week, and was christened at a dinner party on Monday evening. It is a dinner set, and numbers eleven hundred pieces in all. Fifty different shades and colors are introduced, and the plates and dishes for each course are of a different shade and pattern. In the center of each plate is an enameled landscape, and on each dish a copy of some celebrated piece of statuary. The set cost $4,920.

A bar-keeper asked a stranger to pay for his glass of brandy before he swallowed it. "W-What," cried the man, astonished at this unusual demand. "Yes," said the bar-keeper, "it's the boss's orders—all strangers must pay for it before they drink it." "G-goodness! is it so instantaneous in its fatal effects?"

It was "darling George" when a bridal couple left Omaha; it was "dear George" at Chicago; at Detroit it was "George," and when they reached Niagara Falls it was "Say, you!"

Verbatim report of a marriage ceremony in Iowa: "Join your right hands! Do you want one another?" "Yes." "Well, then, have one another. You are man and wife."

The latest news is that the entire Herrodsburg, Ky., bar has offered its services to James Slaughter, who slaughtered Daniel Matthew for blighting his home.

A family of Iowa frogs have been found one hundred and eighty feet under ground, and it is supposed that they have been nest-hiding there for at least a century.

Judging from the number of drowning accidents this year, says the New York Commercial, there are fewer people born to be hanged than we had supposed.

"It's forty years, my old friend John since we were boys together." "Is it? Well, don't speak so loud; there's that young widow in the next room."

THE SUN.

WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY, & DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation; but the reasons which have already given it fifty thousand subscribers and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more, are briefly as follows:

It is a first-rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment, and always presented in a clear, intelligent and interesting manner.

It is a first-rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste.

It is a first-rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and loggily printed in its pages.

It is a first-rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no collar. It fights for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country, and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions of the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cattle-markets, to which it pays particular attention. Finally, it is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty-six columns. Only $1.00 a year. No discounts from this rate.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2.00 a year. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of 10 or more.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large four-page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for 2 cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6.00 a year. To clubs of 10 or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address "THE SUN," New York City.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. There is "shoddy" in glass, as well as in woolen fabrics. Consumers of kerosene are sometimes almost discouraged, so frequently do chimneys break, without any apparent cause, rendering the cost of chimneys about equal to that of oil. Cheapness being the order of the day, a great many manufacturers make chimneys from silicate of lime, instead of from lead. The illiterate may tell the different qualities of glass by ringing them; the vibrations of the lead glass have a clear, ringing, bell-like sound, possessing the requisite strength to withstand expansion and contraction, as well as the general pressure of use, and will outlast half a dozen of the lime glass chimneys. Fifteen cents invested in one of the lead chimneys is money well spent, even though it injures the "trade" in the cheaper kind, which it most assuredly ought to, and doubtless will. Stick a pin in there, and remember it! The genuine lead glass chimneys may be had at wholesale or retail of
