LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. Lusher will preach in the M. E. Church on next Sunday morning. Union Sabbath School at 10:00 a. m.

—A general thanksgiving was indulged in by all surviving turkeys on the second day of January.

—The skating has disappeared, and in its place slush ice is running high water, and it looks as if there would be no more skating here this winter.

—M. Ittel jr., has been awarded the contract of carrying the mail between this place and Clarion, and will at all times have a good conveyance for travelers.

—Spain is again a Kingdom and another Republic is [illegible] to the [illegible]. Don Alfonso is the [illegible] of the new king, who is, a son [illegible] deposed queen, Isabella. [illegible] but nineteen years of age, and, [illegible] course, it [illegible] not to be expected that [illegible] will direct matters himself, but [illegible] are plenty of old heads who are willing to give him all the counsel he wants.

—On Tuesday evening of last week, J. B. Agnew, Esq., gave a supper to the officers of the court, the members of the bar who were in town and a few others, to celebrate the event of his admission to the bar. Mr. Wetmore the recipient of an ovation, and attended. An oyster supper was served to the guests, and a pleasant time was had by all, who joined in wishing the new member of the bar a paying practice.

—Mr. Tietsworth invited us to make a personal inspection of the roof of the M. E. Church last week. Accompanied by Mr. T., we ascended into the garret of the church and found two sets of rafters, one for the roof proper, pon, and the other for the ceiling. ich set being of 8x2 inch stuff the pper set being lapped at the [illegible] nd spiked; the lower set crossing ght feet below the [illegible] of the upper ers, in the form of an X, and nailed the upper rafters, and also where ey cross, with [illegible] addition to this, an 8x[illegible] orizontally, just above [illegible] ace of the lower [illegible] spiked at each end to [illegible] and to the lower set [illegible]. Further there are [illegible] between each set of [illegible] rafters, and spiked to [illegible] ly, we do not believe [illegible] spread, although the [illegible] few who are skeptical about [illegible] It [illegible] the walls [illegible] only 10 inches, according [illegible] but made by Mr. [illegible] but in our estimation, the end [illegible] will not allow the roof to crush [illegible] side and we are willing to risk our [illegible] body inside the brick church, [illegible] ever religious services are held [illegible] There has been an effort made [illegible] the agitation of this question a certain appearance, but we have no [illegible] of any one [illegible] essing any brains, [illegible] uttering any such [illegible] houghts. If any [illegible] r readers will [illegible] have their say [illegible] is question, our columns are open [illegible] art communications.

DIED.

HUNTER.—On the morning of January 4th, 1874, at his residence, in Tionesta, Pa., Dr. W. F. Hunter, aged — years.

Another of our landmarks has passed away—another link that connected us with the past has been broken. About 1 o'clock, on the morning of the 4th of January, Dr. Hunter expired. He bore with patience and and fortitude the greatest pain, and he died with composure of mind, considering his violent sufferings. Thus an excellent man has passed away; a good neighbor, and a kind friend. He had a very happily balanced disposition; his native gentleness of nature never weakened the steadiness of his resolutions, or firmness of his mind. He was endeared to his friends and relatives by amiable qualities of head and heart, a quietness and humility—withal a resolution, that serves to make up the ideal of a physician. His history is a part and parcel of this section of country, where he resided over half a century. He will not be forgotten. To his family he has left a bright example, the record of a spotless life. COM.

—The reunion of Company G, 83d P. V., was, in every sense, a success. While there were a number of the surviving members not present, yet the majority were, and enjoyed each other's society in a manner that is hardly possible to people who have not been intimately associated in times past, as they were. The best of feeling prevailed, and had there been a presence of troops we doubt not but that would have been a good place to [illegible] veterans. Mr. Lawrence had a [illegible] stretched across the street, on which was a large flag, and the small flag, which was presented to Co. G, by the ladies of Tionesta, when the company left town for the war. The hall was decorated in a manner which speaks volumes for those who had the charge of it. The three pillars in the hall were wreathed round with evergreen, and the beam which they support, as well as the sides of the room were hung with [illegible]. Around the room, at intervals, were wreaths of evergreen, and at the north end of the hall was a large star, covered with the same. At the south end was the inscription "Co. G, 83d P. V." in the same beautiful vesture. The Tidioute Brass Band, along with which we noticed Prof. Weber, formerly of this place, was present, and discoursed music to the veterans and the assembled multitude. The dance in the evening was said to have been the grandest success of anything in that line which has ever taken place in this town. McCray's band of Fagundus, furnished the music, which, we understand, was as good as has ever been heard at a ball here. Taken altogether the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone who attended.

—The holidays passed off very pleasantly, as a whole; on Christmas, particularly, we noticed no one who seemed to have overcrowded their capacity. On New Year, however, in the evening, there were a few constitutional rowdies who were around on the streets making general nuisances of themselves. The holidays were very enjoyable, and were enjoyed by nearly, if not quite everybody.

—A chandelier in the court room fell from its position to the floor during court, one evening last week. Every lamp and chimney was broken, and but for the efforts of a number of spectators, there might have been a big fire. Jno. Tietsworth smothered the fire with a carpet, we believe. The building is uninsured, and should it burn down, we would be in a bad fix, considering the state of the money market.

—J. B. Agnew and E. L. Davis, Esq's, were last week admitted to practice law in the several Courts of Forest county.

An Order of Court.

Now to-wit, January 1st, 1875. An order is hereby made by the Judges of the several Courts in and for the County of Forest, fixing the time for holding the regular term of said Courts on the third (3d) Monday of May, and the other terms of said courts remain as they now are.

Court Proceedings.

Courts met at 2 p. m., Dec. 28, 1874 (all the Judges being present,) and continued in session until Jan. 1, 1875, at 4 p. m., transacting a large amount of business. The following civil cases were tried and otherwise disposed of:

Proper and Walters vs. Wm. Tolows, verdict for defendant.

Hinton vs. Walters, verdict for plaintiff for $110.66.

Rafferty vs. Rafferty, plaintiff takes non-suit.

Same vs. Same, verdict for defendant.

Owston & Sowers vs. A. V. R. R. Co., defendants confess judgment for $1,800.00.

Bean vs. Howe et al, verdict for defendants.

Garfield vs. Hunter, verdict for plaintiff for 870.75.

Overlander vs. Small, verdict for plaintiff for costs.

The following criminal causes were tried:

Com. vs. Wesley Ingalls and Barnebb Allen, verdict not guilty.

Com. vs. Horace Cornelius, verdict guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $5 to Commonwealth, and costs of prosecution, and remain in custody of Sheriff until sentence complied with.

Hons. Jas. A. Stranahan, of Mercer, J. B. Agnew, of Tionesta, and E. L. Davis Esq., of Tionesta, were admitted to the practice of law in the several courts of Forest county.

Published by order of Court.

Condensed Report of Presentments of Roads by Grand Jury, and Returns at Dec. Sessions, 1874.

The following returns were made of roads of Forest county in a bad condition, &c:

1. That the Public Road in Barnett township, known as the [illegible] road, leading from the [illegible] the Cook road, is returned as almost impassable and a nuisance.

2. [illegible] in Barnett township, leading from the [illegible] Hunter in the direction of Tylersburg to a point about five rods from said bridge is in very bad condition, the same being undermined by Ritchie Fishbise & Co., who have erected a dam and dug away said road for materials causing the road bed to cave in.

3. That road in Tionesta and Harmony townships running from G. Jamieson's on the Allegheny River to A. A. Copeland's in Harmony township, that portion of said road from the old school house on Jamieson run above the forks to A. A. Copelands aforesaid. Road obstructed, bad bridges and needs brushing out.

4. The public road in Tionesta twp., known as the "Poland Hill" road leading from Tionesta to Pleasantville. That portion returned from Tionesta to the Harmony township line.

5. That road in Tionesta township, leading from Tubbs Run to the Hickory township line, in bad condition and neglected by road commissioners—travel obstructed.

6. That public road in Tionesta township, running from the Railroad depot up the Allegheny River to the Harmony township line, returned as above, and, in addition, dangerous.

7. That the public street or road in Tionesta borough commencing at the river bridge and thence along the river to Walnut street, is in bad condition; the turn is too short, and it is almost impossible to make a good road on the site of its present location, which can be remedied only by [illegible] ning a straight line from said [illegible] to a cross street at Fisher's property, and that if the right of way can be procured from O. C. Hunter, the county will make the necessary repairs and extend the said street or [illegible].

8. Return of Constable of Green township, of the road at Barnett's (Larytown) as in bad condition, earth having been hauled on and not leveled off, and the road practically obstructed with timber, etc.

The attention of township road commissioners is respectfully called to the above, and all others interested, as public policy requires good roads rather than prosecutions.

SAMUEL D. LEWIS, Dist'r Att'y.
Tionesta, Jan. 2, 1875.

CAUTION.

A note drawn in favor of R. Shotts, signed by Geo. T. Latimer, and endorsed by R. Shotts, for $112.60, dated sometime in October, 1874, has been lost. All persons are hereby warned not to buy or negotiate said note. The finder will please leave it with G. T. Latimer, Tionesta Pa.

—The following, which will be of interest to the Democrats of this section, is taken from the Lancaster Intelligencer, one of the leading Democratic papers of the State:

The members of the Democratic party have so universally taken it for granted that the result of the late elections in the different States indicated a revolution in public sentiment so thorough as to insure the success of the party against a turn of the tide for a long period to come, that we deem it wise to speak to them a word of caution and to remind them that the analysis of the vote shows that the great political change was produced not so much by the accession made to the ranks of the Democratic voters, as by the abstention of Republicans from exercising their suffrage. The result of their action proved as damaging to their party as though they had directly voted against it.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

Those who are arranging for their home papers for the next year, will do wisely to send for sample copies of the Pittsburgh Gazette, Daily or Weekly, as it will be seen to be the best paper published in Pittsburgh. It is the oldest, being nearly 89 years old, and has kept pace with all phases of modern newspaper progress. It is printed with new type, and on clean, white, handsome paper. Its news is specially full, and accurate. It receives cable news from Europe, and dispatches from all parts of the country. It has special correspondents in Washington, during the session of Congress, and at Harrisburg during the session of the Legislature, and will give full reports of all that is interesting in the proceedings. Its local news is complete and varied, yet classic and pure. Its editorials contain trenchant discussions of all current subjects, and deal independently with all the issues of the day. The paper is republican in politics, but holds that the party is superior to cliques and rings. Its market reports are specially full and complete, and have a reputation that is wide-spread, for accuracy and reliability. In frequent instances, parties in the country have saved or made considerable sums by following the accurate reports of prices, given in the Gazette, in selling their produce. It also contains agricultural, household, and family reading, carefully selected. Thus it is a family paper of great excellence and rare cheapness, as to price. Its circulation is the largest of the Pittsburgh press. This year the postage on papers is prepaid at the Pittsburgh office, thus necessitating the addition of this item to the rates. For this reason, we present amended rates, and claim that they afford the cheapest newspaper published, when the size and quality of the paper are considered.
