

rock, seized the child as he was sinking, brought him to the shore, pacified him, and taking him by the hand led him forward to find his mother. At a distance was a group of ladies, among them Mrs. Smith. As Fanny approached the circle she encountered the frigid stare of Mrs. Smith, who said, with metallic voice, all eyes being riveted upon the two, "Benny, come to me; I don't wish you to associate with thieves and murderers."

Not far away, with his hat over his face, stood the stage-driver, as if waiting for the word of command; but near at hand was another knight, Harry Carlton, who, with his mother, had just arrived upon the grounds, and had been near enough to hear the words. Stepping forward, he said to Fanny, who stood pale and trembling,

"Do not remain here to be insulted by these people. My mother would like to speak with you."

And taking her upon his arm he escorted her to the tent which had been prepared for them.

One standing near would have heard words of explanation, interrupted by broken sobs on the part of Fanny, with kind and gentle soothing by Mrs. Carlton; would have seen Harry start up with a naughty, unorthodox word on the end of his tongue saying he would find out what all this meant, and after a short absence, would have seen him returning, his hand clenched, and his big burly frame bristling all over with indignation; would have heard animated conversation for a moment in the tent, followed by subdued laughter.

Shortly thereafter the family carriage was ordered, and Harry and Mrs. Carlton, accompanied by Fanny, left the grounds.

The month of vacation was nearly ended; Fanny had disappeared; the Carlton mansion was closed, and occupied only by the servants. Harry and his mother were, some said, in the city; some said at the seaside.

Upon the last day of the school vacation, after the arrival of the mail, an unwonted something seemed to ruffle the surface of affairs in the quiet town. Curiosity was upon tiptoe, and wonder was looking out of open eyes into open eyes.

Mine plethoric host of the inn, dressed as was his wont of a summer afternoon, in shirt, pantaloons, and slippers, from his seat on the table, wiped the perspiration from his rubicund face, and read to his thirty satellites, from the Yerba Buena Tribune, as follows:

"Married, at Grace Church, in this city, by the Rev. Dr. Peters, Harry Carlton and Miss Fanny Howard, daughter of Major Gibbons Howard, formerly of the United States army, now Warden at the State Prison at N."

The landlord laughed. Tom Brown threw his favorite hat on the floor and, jumping upon it, said: "Do you call that a mustang?"

"The gal's a Carlton, anyhow," said Uncle Billy, complacently; while Tony glanced wistfully at the row of decanters and wondered if the occasion would not suggest an invitation to imbibe.

A new school-mistress has been engaged at Carlton, and in some mysterious way Tom Brown has become sole proprietor of the stage line.

At the last stated inquest Mrs. Smith was heard to say, consolingly, to Mrs. Tracy:

"I'm glad it's all a mistake; I always liked Fanny." — Sacramento Union.

There is a good joke on a school professor in Paris. In the summer he went to Chicago to attend some sort of an educational meeting, and retiring for the night, he found that the room was rather close, and had his room-mate to get up and open the window; he found the window but could not raise it, so the professor told him to knock a pane out; he did so, and returned to bed. The professor concluded that the room was still too close to suit him, so he got up and kicked out another pane of glass, and said, "That feels more comfortable," and went to bed and enjoyed the ventilated room. On getting up in the morning they discovered they had smashed the glass in the door of a book-case.

A Sacramento lawyer remarked to the Court: "It is my candid opinion, Judge, that you are an old fool." The Judge allowed his mildly-beaming eye to fall upon the lawyer a brief moment then, in a voice husky with suppressed emotion, said: "It's my candid opinion that you are fined $100."

Charles Lamb once said of one of his critics: "The more I think of him the less I think of him." This is not unlike Thackeray's mot: "What do you think of Tupper, as a poet," he was asked when in this country, "I don't think of him as a poet," was the reply.

A farmer sent an order to a London tradesman for a clock. He said he should prefer one made by Tempus Fugit, as all the best clocks in the neighborhood had that name on them.

"The boy who owns a fast horse and a nice cutter is the kind of a hair-pin I want," remarked a charmer.

The last new thing about paper is that it is to be employed in shop building.

At the Wholesale and Retail Piano and Organ Emporium of

S. HAMILTON & CO., 77 5TH AVE., PITTSBURGH, PA.

OUR MOTTO IS AND HAS BEEN

QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS.

Our business is exclusively PIANOS and ORGANS, which enables us to give our whole time and attention to this exclusive trade. Thus where other dealers sell from five to ten instruments a week, our sales very often exceed these numbers in a single day, so that we can better afford to sell at 10 per cent. profit on cost, than they can at 20 and 25 per cent.

Every Instrument we sell is as good as an agent for us, as they invariably introduce us favorably to all who see them. We have sold and in use in and about Pittsburgh alone. They are not some new Organ, the growth of a few months, but are old reliable makes, that are constantly adding every meritorious improvement. The really Grand Simmons & Clough's Combination Organs have been manufactured for Twenty-five years, while the Celebrated Taylor & Farley Celestes Organs have been manufactured over Twenty years. And now for the purpose of introducing them more thoroughly throughout all the country towns of the State, we have made new and very heavy contracts for large numbers of them, which we propose to sell on their merits, and without the assistance of AGENTS OR MIDDLE MEN, giving the purchaser the benefit of commissions and wholesale discounts, we are thus enabled to offer these Organs at the following prices, at which we shall sell for a short time.

2,000 OF THESE ORGANS

CABINET CASES,
Double Reed, 4 Stop Organs, Regular Price,	$145.00	at	$ 85.00
5 " " " " " "	155.00	at	90.00

THE BRADBURY & DECKER PIANOS

WILL BE SOLD AT THE SAME RATES OF DISCOUNT.

The above are strictly cash prices, but if desired by the purchaser, either quarterly or semi-annual payments will be taken at an advance of 10 per cent. per annum on the above prices. Persons ordering by letter can depend on the most careful selection being made. If the cash price be sent with the order, the instrument will be shipped by freight, if not accompanied with the cash, the Organ will be shipped by Express, U. S. D. FORT PITT GLASSWORKS.

BITHRIDGE & CO., Manufacturers of every variety of FLINT GLASS LAMP HIMNEYS, AND SILVERED GLASS REFLECTORS, WASHINGTON & FRANKLIN STS., PITTSBURGH, PA.

There is "shoddy" in glass, as well as in woolen fabrics. Consumers of kerosene are sometimes almost discouraged, so frequently do chimneys break, without any apparent cause, rendering the cost of chimneys about equal to that of oil. Cheapness being the order of the day, a great many manufacturers make chimneys from silicate of lime, instead of from lead. The initiated may tell the different qualities of glass by ringing them; the vibrations of the lead glass have a clear, ringing, bell-like sound, possessing the requisite strength to withstand expansion and contraction, as well as the general pressure of use, and will outlast half a dozen of the lime glass chimneys. Fifteen cents invested in one of the lead chimneys is money well spent, even though it injures the "trade" in the cheaper kind, which is most assuredly bought, and doubtless will. Stick a pin thro, and remember it. The genuine lead glass chimneys may be had at wholesale or retail of GEO. W. BITHRIDGE & CO., 2-4t Tionesta, Pa.

Testimonials of Waters' Pianos and Organs.

"Waters' Concerto Parlor Organ possesses a beautiful and peculiarly soft tone. The Concerto Stop is, without doubt, the best ever placed in any organ. It is produced by an extra set of reeds, peculiarly voiced, from which the effect is most charming, and its imitation of the human voice is superb. For sweetness of tone and orchestral effects it has no equal."—N. Y. Times.

"The Concerto Parlor Organ is something entirely new; it is a beautiful parlor ornament, possesses a sweet and powerful tone in a most commendable invention and holds a high place in public favor."—N. Y. Evening Post.

AN ORCHESTRA IN THE PARLOR.—The orchestral organ is the name of a new reed organ recently announced by Horace Waters & Son. The instrument takes this name from its recently invented orchestral stop. The effect of this is peculiar, producing the effect of a full orchestra, with a soft and sweet tone, and a contralto voice. Its finest effect is produced when the stops are drawn, so that an orchestral effect is given. The case is unique and makes a handsome article of furniture."—N. Y. Sun.

The Waters Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with confidence, from personal knowledge.—N. Y. Evangelist. 2-1y
